HALL TO BE PRESENT

DISTINGUISHED FORESTER WILL VISIT UNIVERSITY.

WILL LECTURE TO STUDENTS

Is First of a Series of Lectures To Be Given to Forestry Students During the Course of Winter.

During the coming week Mr. William L. Hall, one of the most distinguished members of the United States forest service, will speak at the university on the subjects connected with his work. Mr. Hall comes to the university as the guest of both the forestry department and the Forest club of the university, and while here will give several addresses to those students who are particularly interested in forestry work.

Mr. Hall is acknowledged to stand close to the head of his profession and was one of the first men to enter forest service with Mr. Pinchot, the chief forester. He has charge of all the work which is being carried on in wood utilization, preservation of wood, chemistry of wood and railroad and mine timbers.

Work is Well Known.

Mr. Hall is a native of Kansas and has been engaged in the forest service for many years. His work has now become so well known that he is regarded as Mr. Pinchot's right hand man, and has been prominent during the last few years in the practical attempts which have been made to preserve our forests. The recent agitation in favor of a larger measure of preservation of our natural resources was largely due to the efforts of Mr. Pinchot and Mr. Hall and a few others prominent in forestry work.

As Mr. Hall has had charge of the estimate of standing timber and the amount cut in the United States he is especially qualified to speak on the need of the preservation of our national resources.

When the task of making the Appalachian forest was under consideration Mr. Hall was regarded as the only man who could bring the matter to successful conclusion. Because of an unforeseen difficulty the work was never carried out, but it went far enough to show that the judgment of Mr. Hall's ability was entirely justified. He is the author of two of the most important forest service publications, besides having contributed many articles to magazines on the general preservation of forests.

To Give Several Lectures.

Mr. Hall will speak before the classes in forestry on technical subjects during the three days that he will be in Lincoln, November 11, 12 and 13. On the evening of November 12 he will deliver a popular lecture on the conservation of "National Resources" in the Music hall of the Temple. The lecture will be illustrated with stereopticon views, and it is hoped that Governor Sheldon will be willing to make a short talk on the conservation of natural resources.

Mr. Hall is a friend of Dean Bessey and Professor Phillips.

The lecture to be given by Mr. Hall is the first of a series of ten lectures courses to be delivered by prominent foresters during the course of the winter. By this means the department hopes to give the students an idea of what the practical requirements of the profession are.

JUNIOR COMMITTEES APPOINTED.

One Named to Select Standard Pin for Classes.

At the junior class meeting on Tuesday the class decided in favor of a standard pin for all classes to use. The following committee was appointed to look after the matter: Jannette Lawrence, chairman; Alfreda Powell, Grace Schallenberger, Ralph Moseley, Glen Fordyce.

President Byerts also announced the following committee, which will have charge of the junior prom: John Alexander, chairman; Arbor Barth, master of ceremonies; Miss Florence Riddell, Miss Irma Franklin, Miss Marie Barr, Harry Ingles, Val White, J. Stewart Elliott, Webb Jones, Jess Clark and Frank Wheelock.

The junior prom will be given at the Lincoln hotel on February 20, 1909.

The committee which has charge of the junior hop said that that dance will occur on January 8 at Fraternity hall. Eddie Wait's full orchestra will furnish music. The committee is preparing for the best informal dance of the year.

The class decided to have a finance committee. The following were appointed: O. Olson, chairman; Paul Pierce, W. N. Bozarth.

The class decided to have a committee appointed to look into the matter of hats and caps. It will be announced later.

TO HAVE INTERNATIONAL MEET.

American and Canadian Teams to Debate on Platform.

Debating in the Northwest will have as its most novel feature this year an international debate between the Law Students' Society of Victoria and the University of Washington law school. The debate is scheduled to take place some time in the latter part of November, or the early part of December, and will be argued upon some question of international importance.

A challenge has been sent to the Canadians in reply to the letter received from them last spring, intimating their desire to debate with Washington this year. E. W. Allen, J. B. Stimson, S. Patton, P. S. McElwain and G. R. Bucks are the committee appointed by President Clark to confer with the Victorians.

If the debate with the Canadians is a success it is intended to make it an annual affair.

Professor Fossler, of the German department, has received an invitation to give an address to the Nebraska alumni of the state of Washington. He will leave some time in December.

H. A. Clark, who took his masters degree here in 1904, is now working for his doctors' degree at Columbia. He has received a leave of absence for this purpose from Syracuse university, where he has held the position of professor in physics.

HOLD A SONG FEST

STUDENTS RALLY IN MEMORIAL HALL FOR AMES.

ONE MORE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Rooters Will Gather at Rock and Led by Band Will March to Antelope Park Where Practice Will Be Watched.

Several hundred students came together in Memorial hall yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock to practice songs and stir up a little enthusiasm for the great battle with Ames at Omaha Saturday. The meeting was presided over by Professor Conant of the law college. The band was present and played several pieces.

At 5:10 Professor Conant called the meeting to order, and in a few remarks told the purpose of the gathering. He said that it was planned to learn some songs which were to be sung at Omaha Saturday and to arouse the Nebraska spirit to the support of the Cornhusker eleven. He announced that a short talk would be given by Dr. Condra, and then called upon that professor, who addressed the audience for a few minutes.

Hard Struggle Expected.

Dr. Condra declared that Nebraska was going to have the hardest kind of a tussle with the Iowa Aggie. He told of the Ames strength, and said that the Cornhuskers would have to fight the very best battle they are capable of in order to win. He was not sure, even then, that they would win, but he declared it was the duty of the Nebraska students to get behind their team in spirit, and give it the greatest kind of support at Omaha. He could not stay to take part in the singing, but he hoped the crowd would learn the songs well and be ready to sing them in good shape Saturday. He left the meeting at the close of his speech to discharge his duty in preparing for the entertainment of the teachers in attendance at the meeting of the state association.

Montgomery Leads Singing.

When Dr. Condra had finished Guy Montgomery went to rostrum and told the audience to prepare to sing the songs which had been selected for the occasion. Copies of these had been distributed around the room.

The audience responded readily to Mr. Montgomery's request for the singing and with Miss Josephine Sanford playing at the piano the several selections were sung. "Ames Aggies," to the tune of "My Mary Ooch," and another song with an air to "A Hot Time" seemed to be the favorites with the rooters.

Before the meeting was brought to a close Manager Earl O. Eager announced that a special train would be run to Omaha Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock. He told the students to buy their tickets but one way. He said that there would be a special train returning from Omaha in the evening but that if tickets were bought for one way only, that the students would not need to return on this special train and could come back any time. There would be no reduced rates and nothing could be gained by getting a round trip ticket. The Nebraska manager also announced that another rally would be held Friday afternoon and that it would take place at Antelope park. He said it would take place at 4:30 o'clock and he urged all the students to be there.

Special Train Saturday.

Since the meeting yesterday arrangements have been completed to have the students rally at the rock in front of Library hall and the lead led by the band march to Antelope park, where songs will be sung, and where the team may be watched in its final practice before the game Saturday.

WALLS ARE LOOMING UP FAST.

Twenty-five Men Are at Work on Engineering Building.

With all material on the job and with perfect weather for outdoor work the walls of the engineering building are rapidly looming up. For several days carpenters have been engaged in setting window frames and when these are in place it will be a very short time until the walls reach the second floor level.

Yesterday about twenty-five men were busy on the building. The contractors are pushing the work as fast as they are able in their endeavor to get the work as nearly enclosed as possible by the time the weather gets too cold for outdoor work.

Professor Richards declares that practically all contracts for the building have been let so that there is nothing to prevent each contractor from being ready to do his work at the earliest possible moment. Enough brick are now upon the job to entirely complete the work.

Seniors and juniors are requested to leave orders for their pictures for the 1909 Cornhusker at Townsend's studio at once. All photographs taken before Thanksgiving will be finished by Christmas. O. Bentley, business manager.

The committee in charge has announced that the freshman law class hop will be held Friday evening, December 11, at Fraternity hall. Abbott's orchestra with their full equipment will furnish the music. Only 100 tickets at $1.00 each will be sold.

County Superintendent J. M. Matzen of Dodge county was on the campus yesterday. Mr. Matzen is president of the county superintendent's section of the state teachers' association.

Claude Alden, '08, who is an instructor in the Kearney high school, is attending the teachers' convention. He will witness the Ames-Nebraska game at Omaha Saturday.

Laura Rhodes '08, who is teaching German and history in the Fremont high school, is attending state teachers' convention.

Byron Yoder, '08, has returned to Lincoln from Fairbury, where he has been for the last two months. He probably will enter the university.

Roy Cockran, principal of the Kearney high school and an old Nebraska graduate, is in the city. Mr. Cockran was a fellow in American history last year.

The characters for the German play have all been selected and active work will be commenced immediately.

TEACHERS ARE HERE

NEBRASKA STATE ASSOCIATION IN ITS ANNUAL SESSION.

ENROLLMENT THE BIGGEST EVER

Over Three Thousand Educators of the State Gather to Get Helpful Instruction and to Meet One Another.

Opening last evening with the union college banquet at which over a thousand teachers of the state were seated at the long tables in the Lincoln auditorium, the Nebraska State Teachers' association will hold its first general session this morning and will continue its meetings of instruction and entertainment for the ensuing two days.

Over three thousand teachers are expected to be enrolled in the association before the close of work Friday evening, according to the conservative estimates of those in charge of the big meetings. These men and women come from all parts of the state, from city schools and district schools, to meet with one another and exchange ideas for the betterment of Nebraska's public school system. They will meet in general and sectional session morning, afternoon and evening of Thursday and Friday, and will return to their schools filled with a new enthusiasm for their work and with new methods with which to accomplish results.

Biggest Number Ever.

In point of numbers this, the forty-third annual meeting of the state teachers, promises to be the largest ever held in Nebraska. Last year, it is conservatively estimated that the total enrollment will be about 3,000. In former years the association met during the Christmas holidays and this caused a large number to absent themselves who will be present this fall.

Yet the 1908 session of the association will not be noted for its numbers only, according to the opinion of the leaders of the work. Everything presages a lively interest on the part of the teachers and a spirit of enthusiasm which will do much toward making the meeting a success. The annual meeting of the Nebraska teachers is not merely a business matter nor is it a thing for the entertainment of the teachers. It is primarily for their instruction in methods of their profession and for the cultivation of an educational spirit without which the work of the public school system is very seriously handicapped.

Students Are Excused.

In order that they may attend the meetings of the association without inconvenience, all students of the university who present their membership cards in the association to the registrar will be excused from attendance at either recitations or laboratory periods. In the college of education, classes will be virtually dismissed and the college will attend the session almost en masse.

The work of the university will be the object of inspection by the teachers during the two days of the meeting. Many teachers who had arrived in the city yesterday visited the campus during the afternoon and sought out those classes in the work of which they were particularly interested. Many who are graduates of the uni-
