INDIANS START WEST

CARLISLE PREPARE TO DO BATTLE WITH THE GOPHERS.

GREAT MAUSER BACK IN FORM

Fast Full Back Will Aid in Kicking Department—Warner Thinks His Team Has Passed Mid-Season Slump.

CARLISLE, Pa., Nov. 18.—The Carlisle Indians' football squad closed its season of practice here this afternoon and left tonight for their games against Minnesota at Minneapolis and St. Louis at St. Louis. The evening's practice was light, as was the custom during the early week, the Indian officials being specially interested in conditioning the redskins for their coming trials.

Neither among players nor officials is there over-confidence as to the outcome of the western events. They know that especially Minnesota and St. Louis are prepared to give the battles of their lives for a victory over Carlisle. Coach Warner hopes that his men have passed their mid-season slump, and Captain Waseuka of the Indian eleven believes his men will be keyed to the proper pitch by the end of the week. Kelly and Balenti may alternate in the western games, depending on the latter's confidence.

Thorpe will do most of the kicking for Carlisle with the possible aid of Full Back Houser, who has gotten into good shape after his lay-off of practically three-quarters of the season. The squad leaving here tonight numbered twenty-four men.

Iowa.

IOWA CITY, Ia., Nov. 18.—The 1912 eleven scored five touchdowns against the varsity, and despite the hard work of the Iowa team only three touchdowns formed the total of the afternoon's efforts. The hawkeye eleven played poor football. Shifts were made, but the change failed to strengthen the team to any material extent. Toward the last of the scrimmage matters went from bad to worse.

Captain Kirk was tried at end on the defense, and when the varsity had the ball he was at full back, with Fee at right half and Thomas and Collins at left half. Brugman played quarter in the scrimmage practice, though Stewart was able to run the team in signal practice. Seidel was kept out of the mix-up with the freshmen and Thompson and Bateson played on either side of Hastings. Stutsman was put back in the game and played the tackles with Cross. Hyland and Farber were on the ends. The combination failed to bring results, however, and shifts are expected the rest of the week.

Missouri.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 19.—With the state championship stowed safely away, Coach Montlay and his band of Tiger warriors have now set to work in preparation for the Kansas game on Thanksgiving day, the winning of which will mean the championship of the Missouri valley. Missourians were well enough pleased with the result of the Washington game, though a harder struggle would have benefitted the Tigers more, but the defeat of the Cornhuskers by Kansas took all semblance of over-confidence out of even the most enthusiastic rooters, and no one will predict anything until after the Jayhawkers match strength with Iowa next Saturday.

Wisconsin.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 18.—"We now have something like a machine. The team is working hard and shows much better spirit than ever before. There was marked improvement in the tackling today."

These were Coach Barry's comments at the close of the last scrimmage of the season held this afternoon. The team shows the effects of the signal practice held in the gymnasium for the last two evenings. It scored three touchdowns in a fifteen-minute scrimmage with the strong scrub aggregation. Cunningham had to be carried off the field with a sprained ankle and probably will be unable to play against Chicago. His place was filled by Mucklestone, whose work is steadily improving. Forward pass plays were executed with unusual accuracy. Messmer's long throws were the feature of today's practice. Moll called signals in place of Cunningham throughout the scrimmage. He worked the team with as great speed as the little half back does. Barry is still giving Wilce the "rest cure" and did not allow him to leave the side lines today.

Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Extremely light work in preparation for the biggest game of the year was the order of the day yesterday at Marshall field. The scrimmage promised was passed up and the maroons were allowed to do mostly as they pleased for more than half of the two hours and a half of practice. Stagg said he was "nursing" his team.

Great care is being taken of the maroons. The players are sent out on the field heavily bandaged and padded, clad in several sweaters, and are ordered to wear their overcoats on the campus and keep "buttoned up" to prevent even so simple an affliction as a cold. Four of the men were treated yesterday for colds.

It is probable that no Chicago team ever frolicked so much on the eve of a big game as the maroon team of this year. Stagg has not made a move since the Cornell game towards giving his pupils a stiff workout. There has not been the slightest brush. It seems as if the coach simply is striving to hold the ground the team maintained up to last Saturday.

Michigan.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 18.—The varsity today held its only scrimmage of the week in preparation for the Syracuse game on Saturday. Owing to a late laboratory course Capt. Schulz was not present at practice, his place at center being taken by Brennan. Although it is now confidently expected that Schulz will be in the game on Saturday, doubt is expressed over his condition, it being feared that another injury will send him to the side lines. Linthicum showed up exceptionally well at right half, and is considered an acceptable substitute for the injured Allerdice, although he, of course, lacks punting ability. The team leaves at 9:30 tomorrow evening. It is now considered to have a better chance than was conceded at any time this week.

Harvard.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 18.—The Harvard football squad left today for Farmington, Conn., where it has quarters, until the game with Yale on Saturday. Nearly fifty men were in the squad, including trainers and doctors. The undergraduates gathered in Harvard Square before the men left to give them a send off. The feeling has pervaded all Cambridge this year that the team has all of an even chance of victory over the Elis. Many wagers are being made at even money and large sums are being sent to New Haven to cover Yale money there. It is estimated that 3,000 of the undergraduates will go to New Haven Saturday to see the game.

Yale.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 19.—The tentative make-up of the Yale eleven, which framed at the coaches' council Sunday night has proved so effective after two days' trial that Head Coach Biglow announced tonight that it was probable that no more changes would be made before the Harvard game. Biglow called attention to the fact that late changes are always possible and that last week, after the coaches felt confident as early as Tuesday that no more shifts would be made two were ordered.

The only position which is debated with any variance of opinion just now is right half back. One of the opinions held is that Wheaton should be held till the second half, when Yale may vitally need a field goal to win. Wheaton is her sole reliance for such a crisis.

Most of the coaches feel, however, that Wheaton has earned the right to start the game because of his plunging as well as his kicking qualities, and little doubt is felt that he will be kept in the position.
