WABASH SQUAD HAS TWELVE FRATERNITY MEN ON IT.

FOUR SOCIETIES REPRESENTED

Phi Gamma Delta, Beta Theta Pi, Phi Delta Theta and Kappa Sigma Have Players Among Little Giants.

(Special to the Daily Nebraskan.) CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 24.—There are twelve Greek letter fraternity men on the Wabash college football squad of seventeen players, who will come to Lincoln Wednesday morning to play the University of Nebraska football on Thanksgiving day.

Most of the members of the team have also distinguished themselves in other branches of athletics or other phases of college activities. Gipe is the guard on the basket ball team and will manage the baseball team this spring. He was captain of the 1907 eleven. Payne, end, is editor-in-chief of The Wabash, the monthly publication of the senior class of the college.

Patton an Editor. Patton, sub-end, is editor of the Bachelor, the semi-weekly publication of the college press club. Patton is also the crack half and mile runner on the track team and he is a member of the basket-ball squad. Brown, center, was captain of the track and field team last spring and is the best weight man in college. He is also a member of the college debating team that will represent Wabash in the triangular debate with Earlham and Butler colleges this winter. Burns, end, is president of the athletic association of the college. Hargrave is a member of the track and field team, being a 220 and a 440-yard dash man. He is also manager of the basket-ball team this winter. Har-written law" concerning gentlemanly conduct on the gridiron and can offer no excuse for his exhibition. He was ruled off for slugging and in his anger turned and delivered a "knockout" blow to the referee. Chicago dropped Carlisle last year on account of its rough play. The Gopher policy has been never to drop a team until it has been given a decisive beating, and for this more than any other cause Carlisle this year was retained on a heavy schedule.

May Meet Michigan Again. Out of the dropping of Carlisle may grow a resumption of track and football relations between Minnesota and Michigan. The Wolverine alumni are clamoring for Michigan to drop Pennsylvania and get back into the conference. If this step is taken it means football once more between the Michigan and Minnesota teams. If Michigan re-enters the conference, Dean F. S. Jones' plan for a four-cornered agreement—among Wisconsin, Chicago, Minnesota and Michigan—probably will be adopted. This plan calls for two big games a year among the four, each pair playing in the first round, the winners meeting in the "final" and the losers battling on the same day. Once running, this than now exists between Chicago and Wisconsin.

Maroons Given Great Reception. "I don't believe a Chicago team was ever given a better reception away from home than we had at Madison this year," said Stagg yesterday. "It was the first time we were ever met at the depot by a band of students and hailed by them to the hotel. I wish we could do it here, but, of course it is impossible on account of the conditions.

"All through the game the Wisconsin players showed every possible kindness to our men. I have seldom seen so gentlemanly a lot of football players. Once, when Pat Page was hurled against the fence and forced to take out time, and when it was seen that he could not continue play when the time allowed was up, Capt. Rogers showed great sportsmanship. He waived the penalty and let Pat take as much time as he needed to get up and into the play again."

WILL WEAR CAPS AND GOWNS.

University Deans Will Follow Last Year's Custom.

At a meeting recently the deans of the university determined to follow the custom which holds at many of the larger universities of the country whereby the deans and in some cases the professors wear gowns appropriate of their degrees at commencement processions. Last year the deans of the Nebraska university for the first time wore their gowns as a tentative proposition. It has now been determined to make the ceremony an established thing and the deans will conform to it in the future.

In all the eastern universities and in some of the western ones, the custom extends to professors as well as deans. Each instructor wears the gown which custom prescribes for his degree.

ALUMNI WILL HELP MICHIGAN.

They Will Build $300,000 Dormitory at Ann Arbor.

At the annual Michigan Union banquet at the University of Michigan Clarence W. Barbour, representing the alumni in New York, announced that plans had been made and money subscribed for the erection of a $300,000 dormitory with immense commons.

The dormitory will be a six-story building, at Williams and Maynard streets, capable of housing 250 to 300 men. The commons will be a one-story building with a capacity for boarding from 900 to 1,000 students. The land has been acquired and the plan has been approved by the university senate.

Dorando, the Italian runner who came to America to race with Johnni Hayes, winner of the Marathon, has been barred from the Columbia university gymnasium, where he intended to practice for the race.

A new athletic league is under way. It is backed by DePauw and the following schools are mentioned for membership: DePauw, Marquette, Wabash, Notre Dame, St. Louis, Creighton, Ames and Michigan aggies.

A Michigan medic senior has been expelled from school for kissing one of the nurses at the hospital where he was an assistant.

The sophomore girls at Michigan insist that the freshman girls must wear green sunbonnets. The freshmen girls are willing to wear a class cap or hat, but they insist on their right to design it.

Yale has just published a complete directory of her living graduates. Of 24,040 graduates, 14,093 are now living. About 150 die each year at an average age of sixty-one, and nearly 800 are added by graduation.

Rice Hall at Washburn, which was partially destroyed by first last spring, has been thoroughly remodeled and modernized, and will be devoted mainly to chemistry, although other departments are to be located there.

Several women students at California are in danger of expulsion because of leap year evening calls. They blacked their faces and disguised themselves in various ways and called in a body upon the different fraternity houses.

THANKSGIVING NUMBER.

The Thanksgiving issue of the Daily Nebraskan will be the annual football number. It will be a special edition of sixteen pages with a colored cover and a beautiful design on the front page. A supplement with fine half tone engravings of the Cornhuskers of 1908 will go with each copy of the paper.

In addition to the illustrated supplement the other pages of the paper will be decorated with fine halftones and cartoons. The cuts used in this issue of the Nebraskan are the finest halftones that could be secured, and will make the Thanksgiving number the best paper of the year.

The paper will contain several interesting articles dealing with football and other sports. Nebraska's position in the Missouri valley conference will be explained in a keen contribution by Dr. Clapp. In this article the Nebraska physical director will tell of the influences that kept Nebraska from joining this conference for several weeks.

Captain Workizer in this number will give a glance at the financial side of Cornhusker athletics. The captain writes in a vein that makes his stories absorbing, and the article which appears in the Nebraskan tomorrow will surely make interesting reading.

Dr. Condra will tell the history of the Nebraska Olympics and what is expected of this sophomore-freshman athletic event in years to come.

"Three Years of the New Rules" is the title of an article by Fred Cornell in which the success of the open plays is described.

"Nebraska's Coaching System" and "Fraternalism in Football" are two interesting articles by members of the Nebraskan staff, which will please the students.

A special of the issue will be a selection of an all-Missouri valley football eleven. There will also be other interesting and attractive features in the special number.

NOTICE CADETS!

The cadet battalion will assemble at 1 o'clock this afternoon in the armory. From there it will go to the state farm, where it will go through maneuvers before a moving picture machine.

Professor Merriam, of the science department of the University of Chicago, has just issued a book on "Primary Elections." He advocates a reduction in the number of elective officers and a further extension of the civil service. Prof. Merriam has written other books on political subjects. He is a graduate of Iowa and Columbia universities.

grave was president of his class in his junior year and president of the athletic association last year. Wilson, sub-guard, is the track team's manager next spring.

Hargrave, quarter back, is the most spectacular player on the team, and during his college course has won the plaudits of the bleachers time and time again by his sensational runs down the field. Hargrave is a crafty field general. He is a quarter and a half mile runner on the track team and this winter will be manager of the basket ball team.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 23.—Minnesota has severed relations with Carlisle, and Saturday's contest was the last of a three-game series in which the Gophers were twice defeated and once victorious.

While official announcement of the break has not been made and the athletic governors at Minnesota refuse to discuss it, the rupture is said to have resulted from the fact that Carlisle played "dirty" football and that the language used by the Indians on the field was of such obscene nature as to drive women and their escorts from the boxes into the grand stand.

The slugging of Referee Ensley by Waseuka is said to have been inexcusable. Waseuka, it is pointed out, is accustomed to the eastern "un-plan would do much to clarify the football atmosphere of the west.

The undercurrent of dissatisfaction with the work of Coach Williams, which has existed among some of the Gopher undergraduates since the Chicago game, was swept away by Saturday's victory, and Dr. Williams' popularity is fully restored. Nothing but praise for the Gopher coach was heard on the campus today.

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—Wisconsin and Chicago promise to become as "thick as thieves" in their future athletic relations as a result of the magnanimous treatment accorded the maroons in Madison on their arrival there, during the game, and after the conflict.

It is believed at the Midway that the Badgers will take Michigan's former place in the schedules of the maroons in all lines of sport, even should the Wolverines come back into the conference. Director Stagg and the maroon players forgot the winning of the football championship yesterday in appreciating how well they had been treated by the Badgers and the Wisconsin athletic officials. The coach declares that nowhere in the history of western athletics has a finer spirit or more friendly feeling existed between any two colleges
