THE CARLISLE INDIANS.

The football season of 1908 is ended for practically every university and college in the country, but Nebraska still has one game on its schedule, and this post-season contest promises to be the best of the entire fall. It will give the Nebraska students a rare opportunity of seeing their eleven in action against one of the best teams in the world—a team that ranks better than anything in the west and the equal of Yale and Pennsylvania in the east. When the Cornhuskers and the Carlisle Indians meet it will be a battle between the best in the east and one of the best in the west. It will be the football of the east versus the football of the west. It will show to Nebraskans for the first time what the eastern game is like.

The Indians for several years have been rated among the best teams of the east, and until this year had stood far superior to anything in the west. Three weeks ago, however, the red men wended their path to Gopherland, where, in a condition of much over-confidence, they were forced to bow in humble defeat before the palefaces of Coach Williams. That was an off-day for the great Carlisles and since then they have gotten back into form, and will meet Nebraska, being in the finest shape for a great struggle that they have been in for several weeks. Coach Warner of the Indians says his men toile and should be able to break up the Nebraska offensive plays.

It is rather foolish to say that the Cornhuskers have an even chance with the Indians. All they have is a fighting chance. They may win from the men of Coach Warner but they will have to play greater ball than they have at any time this season. They are capable of doing that, however, and it is possible that they may get a victory Wednesday.

EARN THEIR WAY THROUGH.

Missouri Co-eds Do Various Kinds of Work at Columbia.

Resourceful girl students in the University of Missouri find various means of earning their way through school. Some are stenographers, some do housework, one is a milliner, one a manicure and others hold positions as assistants in the university library or departments where they are students.

For some the necessity of earning enough money to pay expenses entails hardships. One girl gets up at 4 o'clock every morning to study. It is a matter of record that girls who are making their way through school make class records as good as other students and in the majority of cases take as much work.

Miss Pearl Farrell, a freshman in the college of arts and sciences, earns more than enough to pay her expenses, she says, with the aid of a typewriter. Her home is in Kansas City and she made her way through Central high school there before coming here.

Miss Farrell is accounted one of the most attractive "co-eds" in the university.

Cornell.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 31.—Complaint over the poor support given the Cornell football team by the undergraduate coaches to appear at critical times in the last season, are found in an article written for the college paper by Coach Edward Larkin.

"It appears to me from my limited observation of football spirit in other colleges that Cornell stands poorly when one makes the comparison. This can be demonstrated plainly in figures. The fact that for the varsity squad only forty candidates could be obtained speaks for itself when one considers that this is only 2 per cent of the student body.

"There was pronounced difficulty in making up a competent second team to give the varsity the practice, so essential if the team is to show any finish in form in big matches. On several occasions the alumni coaches have been compelled to take part in practice games in order to make a physically are in tip top form and will be able to play the greatest kind of ball. This means that Nebraska students will see the famous Carlisle eleven at its best and will be able to get a comparison of their own team with the fast eastern elevens.

It is impossible to estimate accurately anything on the comparative strength of the Cornhuskers and the Indians. The Carlisle, from their past record, viewing the Minnesota-Carlisle game as a mishap for the Indians, should be able to whallop Nebraska quite badly. They have the forward pass and all of the new football plays down to perfection and have used the new inventions with great success in many games. Against Nebraska, a team that has played only Missouri valley elevens, where the forward pass is not very highly developed, the red men ought to be able to work the plays of the new game with great effect.

Carlisle, on the defense, should be prepared for anything that Nebraska may spring, and unless luck favors the Cornhuskers the Indians should keep the score of their opponents exceedingly low. They know what tricks Nebraska has used in the other games this fall, and undoubtedly will be prepared, as Kansas was, for everything the Cornhuskers have in their reper-good second team, and this was true several times in signal practice." Princeton.

NEW YORK, Nov. 31.—Bill Roper has reached the end of his rope as football coach at Princeton. Roper's inability to turn out a winning eleven for Old Nassau has stirred up the pride of several prominent members of the alumni, who assert that Princeton must have a team to conquer its old enemy, Yale, at any cost. Roper has done valiant service for Princeton, and he will step out from the position he served so faithfully with the good will of students and graduates.

With Roper's resignation in sight, the question of the hour is: "Who will be his successor?" There are two names mentioned for the job—Stagg, the famous old Yale pitcher, now coach of the Chicago university, and "Hurry-Up Bill" Yost of Michigan. Stagg is the favorite for the job and is expected to land the plum. Yost has many admirers here, but his failure to turn out a winner at Ann Arbor is against him in some quarters. It is admitted, however, Yost would have had better luck in his efforts to mold an eleven which could beat Pennsylvania had he the material to use. There has always been a scarcity of gridiron talent at Ann Arbor, and for this reason Yost has always been up
