SIGMA XI ANNOUNCES MEETINGS
FOR THE YEAR.
WILL BE POPULAR IN NATURE
 Professor Arthur Webster of Clark
 University Will Be Present and Will Give Three Addresses to the Society.

The complete program of the public meetings of Sigma Xi to be held during the year has been announced. Four meetings have been scheduled for the year at which both local and outside men prominent in the scientific world will make addresses. These meetings are aimed to be of such a nature that they will be of value to the average well educated man and not simply to technical scientists.

In this work Sigma Xi is making the effect of its work broadened than the mere lines of its society and is aiding the general progress of scientific information in the university. Sigma Xi membership is considered as one of the highest honors which can be obtained in the university, as admission can only be obtained as a result of a demonstration of scientific ability of a high order.

Program of Meetings.

The programs for the meetings are as follows:

Friday, December 11, 1908—Professor Lawrence Bruner, subject, "The Introduction of Some Insect Pests," with lantern slides; Professor C. R. Richards, subject, "A New Entropy—Temperature Diagram," with lantern slides.

Friday, January 15, 1909—Dr. H. B. Ward, subject, "The Life and Works of Darwin," celebrating the 100th anniversary of Darwin's birth and the 50th anniversary of the publication of his "Origin of Species;" Professor R. A. Emerson, subject, "The Inheritance of Color in Plants and Animals."

Three addresses on April 11, 12 and 13 by Dr. Arthur J. Webster, head professor of physics in Clark university.

Friday, April 2, 1909—Professor Samuel Avery, subject, "The Testimony and Properties of Asphalt and Its Adaptability as a Paving Material." Professor George Chatburn, subject, "The Testing and Properties of Paving Materials."

series will be those by Professor Webster. While two of these will be so technical as to be of little interest to the average student it is hoped that he will give one popular lecture which everyone can attend. Professor Webster graduated from Harvard in 1885 and studied for the next four years in Berlin, Paris and Stockholm. He was awarded the Thompson prize in 1895 for experimental research on the period of electrical oscillations. He is the author of a mathematical treatise on the "Theory of Electricity and Magnetism;" "Dynamics of Particles and of Rigid, Elastic Fluid Bodies;" "Lowell Institute Lectures on Electricity and Ether," and many papers on physics.

The program which has been arranged for April 2nd is of especial importance to Lincoln people as it is a practical discussion of paving problems. An attempt will be made to make it as practical and easily comprehensible as possible.

Chicago is in danger of losing the Field Museum, which was provided for in the will of the late Marshall Field. The gift aggregated $8,000,000, and was conditioned upon a site being secured within six years. If this condition is not met, the amount reverts back to the estate, and not only will Chicago suffer a great loss, but the whole country, as such a museum would be of great benefit to all.

train will leave the Burlington depot at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow.

The mathematical seminary will meet Friday, December 11, at 4:30 p. m., in M. 302. The program will be: "Conditions for Imaginary Root in a Type of Biquadratic Equations," Prof. A. L. Candy; "A Note on the Differentiation of Definite Integrals," H. T. Johnson.

The new piano which the Y. M. C. A. have been contemplating purchasing was bought and delivered yesterday. It is a Stuyvesant piano and piano-player combined. It is an instrument of fine quality and has been placed in the Y. M. C. A. rooms free to the use of all students. It can not be played, however, without first receiving instructions as to its use, for while classes are being held in the Temple high school, which is situated immediately beneath the Y. M. C. A. rooms.

Walter Eckersall, the former Chicago university star quarterback, may coach the Wabash squad next season.

Basket ball is occupying the attention of the Chicago athletes since the close of the foot ball season. Owing to a recent conference ruling, Chicago is enabled to use her old captain and center, "Long John" Schommer, for another season.
