SPEAK TO DEBATERS
NEBRASKA MEN TELL OF DEBATES IN THE LEAGUE.
PROFIT BY OTHERS EXPERIENCE
 Professor Wilson Tells of the Fine Campus and Buildings at the University of Iowa at Iowa City.
 A new feature was introduced into the work of the university debating squad yesterday afternoon when the members of the squad, together with such others as were especially interested in debating, met to hear comments upon the other debates of the league made by men who were present at these debates. There were about twenty-five debating enthusiasts present and the meeting lasted over an hour.
 Nebraska was particularly fortunate this year in having a large number of faculty members present at the other debates as judges, so that the debaters have been able to profit not only by the experience of their own school in the recent debate, but also by the experience of others schools. Professor Wilson spoke of the Iowa-Wisconsin debate at Iowa City; Dr. Maxey spoke of the Nebraska-Wisconsin debate at Madison; Dean Ward, who was a judge with Professor Wilson at the Iowa-Wisconsin debate, told of his impressions while there, and Professor Taylor told of the Minnesota-Wisconsin debate at Minneapolis.
Have Fine Campus.
 Professor Wilson declared that one of the things which impressed him most forcibly while at Iowa City was the fact that Iowa was developing a wonderful university plant. A definite plan was early adopted in the arrangement of buildings on the campus and in the nature of the buildings to be constructed. This plan has been closely adhered to, so that now the University of Iowa has a beautiful campus with no such haphazard arrangement of buildings as dignifies the University of Nebraska.
 Professor Wilson declared that the debate at Iowa City emphasized clearly the superiority of extemporaneous work over prepared and memorized work. The opening of each speech was more formal and prepared than the closing, which was extemporaneous, and as a result the closing was

City Ticket Agent Bonnell of the Burlington railroad announced yesterday that beginning this morning tickets will be sold to students who wish to use them for passage home the latter part of the week. Tickets can be bought today or tomorrow that will be good for transportation on either Friday or Saturday. The object in selling the transportation today and tomorrow is to enable the students to avoid the annual rush that takes place when the hundreds of young people in hurrying home are forced to crowd around the ticket offices and wait in the long lines of buyers. By purchasing the tickets early the students will be able to avoid all of the inconveniences of the annual rush.
