 Martin Dimery, '00, of Beaver Crossing, will return to his home town to practice law. Dimery was private secretary to Governor Sheldon.
 The junior informal will be held tonight at the Fraternity hall. Walt's orchestra will furnish the music. W. W. Munson is master of ceremonies and chairman of the dance.

This morning Governor George L. Sheldon leaves for Mississippi to look after a plantation which he owns in the southern part of that state. He will be gone for several weeks.

W. N. Whelan, law '08, goes to Washington, D. C., with Congressman-elect Maguire as his private secretary. Mr. Whelan graduated from the law school with high scholarship honors.

The sale of the students hand books is reported to be progressing nicely. The directory is not a money making scheme, the price for the book being simply sufficient to cover the expenses of publication.

Owing to the confusion of dates by the Lincoln hotel clerk, the date of the Sigma Chi annual party was announced as Friday evening, January 8, instead of April 16. The party is to be held at the Lincoln.

Lincoln Dancing Academy. University students especially invited. See

Mr. N. F. Peterson, curator of the university herbarium, has been offered an instructorship in the University of Louisiana. The University of Louisiana now has about 600 students and is growing rapidly, so that he will have many opportunities in this new field.

A paper entitled "Histological Studies in the Artemisia Formation," written by Mr. Raymond J. Pool, instructor in botany, appears in the October, 1908, number of University Studies. This is a report of some investigations which Mr. Pool made for the degree of Master of Arts.

Large numbers of university students attended the inauguration ball of Governor Shallenberger last night at the senate chamber. The retiring governor, George L. Sheldon, is a distinguished alumni of the university, while the daughter of the incoming governor, Miss Grace Shallenberger, is a member of the Pi Phi sorority.

The Lindell cafe is making an innovation in their Sunday evening suppers in the way of a special menu prepared by one of Chicago's famous chefs. Music is furnished by a four-piece orchestra. The management is catering especially to university students.

F. E. Edgerton, secretary of Senator Norris Brown, is covering the "White House run" for the Washington Times. The Times is one of the large eastern dailies, and the "White House run" is, perhaps, the most important assignment on the reportorial staff. Edgerton was formerly connected with the Star.

Fred Humphrey, who was elected to the state legislature from Lancaster county, is a university graduate. At the inauguration exercises of Governor Shallenberger yesterday, Mr. Humphrey tendered his seat in the house to William Jennings Bryan, which was accepted by the democratic leader.

Candidates for class basketball teams soon will begin practice. The material for class teams is all green this year and very few experienced players will be found in the line ups. W. A. Norburg is manager of the sophomore team. The sophomores have had several candidates out, and with the juniors appear to be the leading candidates for championship honors.

The appointment of Doctor Avery as acting chancellor of the university has necessitated several shifts in classes in the department. The teachers' course formerly given by Dr. Avery has been taken by Miss Foster. Dr. Dales has taken the classes in general chemistry formerly taught by Dr. Avery. Mr. Barnaby has taken the advanced qualitative and quantitative classes.

The Union literary society will give an officers' program in Union hall tonight. The program is to consist of a two-act farce and a series of stunts supposed to be tryouts for a theatrical manager. The farce takes up the comical situation resulting from a maiden aunt answering a matrimonial advertisement. The individual tryouts will vary from musical selections to comic sketches and burlesque debates.

The state convention of the Young Men's Christian Association is to be held February 18, 21 inclusive at Hastings. A program is to be given which, it is thought, will surpass that of any previous convention, although it has not as yet been made public. Judge H. S. Dungan, president of the Hastings association, president; A. E. Turner of Hastings college, G. A. McMichael; general secretary of the Hastings association and J. N. Clarke, a business man of that city, will compose the reception committee. This convention is to be called the "Doers' convention," the program being carried out entirely by men who have really done things in association work. The university association expects to have as large if not a larger delegation present at the convention than that which went to Norfolk last year.

In a letter recently received from a national secretary was the following: "Grace Coppock is a marvel. She has passed her examination with an average of over 95 per cent and has won the hearts of missionaries and Chinese." Miss Coppock is one of the class of '05.

eral Electric Co., at Schenectady, N. Y. Mr. Sheldon has charge of the steam-testing laboratory and Mr. Turner is in charge of the steam turbine testing.

Mr. George E. Wilson, '06, is assistant professor of mechanical engineering at the University of Washington at Seattle. In addition to his regular work in the university, Professor Wilson has had charge of some technical courses given by the Seattle Y. M. C. A., and has been engaged in considerable outside testing work.

Mr. C. L. Cole, '0*, who is with the Allis-Chalmers Co., has been engaged in special testing work for the company at Chicago, in connection with several large centrifugal pumping engines installed for the city. Mr. Cole was recently elected a junior member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Arthur Sampson, '07, called at the university recently, stopping on his way from Oregon to Washington. He is engaged in the work of the department of forestry. The work with which he is occupied has to do with the development of forests for grazing purposes.
