The engagement of Mr. Clyde Bullock and Miss Nellie Bridge, both of Norfolk, Neb., has been announced. Mr. Bullock and Miss Bridge were former students, the former being a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity and the latter a member of Delta Gamma. Upon leaving school Bullock engaged in business with his father, taking charge of the Norfolk Electric company.

In Memorial hall this morning the seniors will hold a class meeting to select a pin. The choice of a class pin has been put off until now, on account of the movement towards securing a standard university pin. It seems impossible to secure the cooperation of all of the classes in securing a pin, and in all probability the movement for a pin will be dropped.

New students in political economy are received in the second semester the same as in the first. The innovation is being tried of repeating Course I the second semester. The reason for this repetition is that in past years many complaints have been received that new students could not enter the department the second semester. This has been partially remedied in the past few years by admitting them to certain courses in commerce; but now a course in general elementary political economy is also offered for their benefit.

BOTH FEEL SITUATION

MICHIGAN AND CHICAGO "GRADS" WANT FOOTBALL GAME.

DEPLORE ANTI-WOLVERINE MOVE

Coaches Stagg, Williams and Hutchins, Forming "Big Three," Unite to Keep Ann Arbor School From Schedules.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—University of Michigan alumni joined with the "grads" and student rooters of the University of Chicago yesterday in deploring the latest anti-Michigan move of the Chicago, Wisconsin and Minnesota athletic authorities. Following the announcement of Coach Stagg that the "big three" leaders had finally decided not to consider the maize and blue as gridiron opponents for the coming football season, the enthusiasts of the old-time rival schools were forced to admit the failure of their hopes for another championship struggle between Chicago and Michigan.

In addition to the admissfon made by Coaches Stagg, Williams and Hutchins after their powwow of Saturday that they had not considered Michigan as a possible opponent for 1909, Coach Stagg said yesterday that a definite decision had been reached not to schedule games with the wolverines. The move of the coaches means that Michigan is dropped for good as a figure in western football until it applies for membership in the conference and is accepted according to the maroon authorities.

To Settle Minor Points.

In addition to their powwows of Saturday the "big three" leaders have agreed to settle a number of minor points concerning their rulership by correspondence this week. The coming six days will, in all probability, be of great importance from the football viewpoint, as Coach Stagg hopes to fix upon the dates for his games and determine which schools shall have places on his schedule.

Keep All Skirts Clean.

Coach Stagg informed the maroons that the "big three" officials had kept clear of the Michigan subject, excepting to repeat their opinions that a game with the wolverines would be contrary to the conference rules unless Michigan should sue for admission to the "big eight" and be taken back into the fold. This, according to Stagg, is extremely unlikely.

"One thing can be said, and that is that none of the conference colleges will play Michigan this year," said Coach Stagg. "Despite the constant rumors that one or the other of us is going to take on Michigan, there is nothing to support such an argument now. On the contrary, this seems to be about the most improbable thing that could happen.

Notice.

Dr. August Anderson, the noted physician-traveler, will give his illustrated lecture on the "Picturesque Northland" today in University hall, Room 7, at 4 o'clock. All students interested are cordially invited to attend.

Ninety-one failed in the recent examination at Stanford, and will not be allowed to return to school. Fifty-one were placed on strict probation.

A girls' all-university basket-ball team is to be picked at Wisconsin, but it will not be allowed to play outside games.

The new mining building at Kansas is to be finished by July 1.

Mayor McClellan of New York will lecture on public affairs at Princeton this spring. He is a member of the Princeton class of 1889.
