TO GIVE A RECEPTION

LEGISLATURE IS GUEST OF THE HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

IS THE FIRST EVENT OF KIND

State Lawmakers Will Have Opportunity to View Collections of the Society and Spend a Pleasant Evening.

Preparations have now been practically completed for the reception which the State Historical society will tender to the members of the legislature and the state officers this evening. The reception will be held from 8 to 10 p. m. in the rooms of the society and will be a purely social event.

This is an innovation on the part of the State Historical society and has every prospect of being a successful one. Many of the legislators live at a distance from the capital city and when here seldom visit the state institution or see many of its fine collections. The reception is planned to afford them an opportunity for looking over the collection of relics and historical data contained in the society's rooms and also to give them the opportunity of familiarizing themselves with the work being done by the society. Every effort will be made to illustrate the work of the society and the association hopes, besides affording a pleasant social evening, to spread the knowledge of its work among a larger class of the citizens of the state.

TELL OF WORLD PEACE.

up this right until all the people of the world stand upon an equality. It is, therefore, not now the time to badger and talk of universal peace and a constitution for all the world. "The United States of America is the greatest peace potency in the world, but if we are to preserve peace we must have back of us the power to enforce our demands. I would have every lover of peace demand that the United States have

GRADUATE CLUB WILL MEET

University Organization to Assemble in Temple March 5.

The next meeting of the Graduate Club of the university will be held in the Temple on March 5, 1909. Supper will be served, as at the first meeting, at 6 o'clock p. m., after which several graduate students from various departments will report in brief, untechnical language upon research problems in which they are engaged. The object of these researches and their bearing upon the practical and scientific world will be treated informally and in such manner that the students from various departments will become familiar with the kind of work done in other departments, and thus will the "good-fellowship, scientific interest, and breadth of view be promoted among the graduate students of the University."

All graduate students and members of the graduate faculty are members of the Graduate Club. Those persons who are eligible, but who have not Professor H. R. Smith to Write Government Bulletin.

According to an announcement by the superintendent of education of the United States Department of Agriculture, Professor H. R. Smith, professor of animal husbandry at the University of Nebraska, has been selected to prepare a government bulletin outlining a secondary course of study in animal production. The course is intended to be used in high schools and other secondary schools throughout the country.

Professor Smith will begin the work within a short time and the work will be distributed in July.

MRS. HERZOG TO GIVE RECITAL

Program Announced for Chapel Thursday Morning.

The weekly musical program has been announced by Mrs. Raymond and will this week be a piano recital by Mrs. L. J. Herzog. Mrs. Herzog is president of the Matinee Musical, and it is expected that the recital will be a very enjoyable affair.

The program is as follows:
Polonals, by Chopin.
Arabesque, op 61, Chaminade.
Passellid, by Delibes.
Idyllen, by MacBowell.
Hungarian Rhapsody, Number 7, Liszt.

yet enrolled in the club, may become members by sending their names and departments to Professor Condra. Every member should endeavor to be present at this meeting to enjoy the season of informal association and to listen to the scientific reports.

An assessment of thirty-five cents must be made to cover the cost of the supper. This may be paid on or before March 5 at the Temple Book Store. The book store will be open from 10 to 3 daily, and a person in charge will check the names as the money is paid in. This method is adopted in order that there be no confusion in collecting the sum from each person on the night of the meeting. The meeting will close in time that those who may desire to do so may go to other functions on the same night.

GEORGE S. CONDRA,
President;
RAYMOND J. POOL,
Treasurer.

The students of the law school have been given notice to stop interfering with the work of the French department.

Examinations for promotion in the botany seminar are being held. Several members are candidates for advancement.

A number of cadets have been excused from military drill in order that they may practice basketball for the class teams.
