CLASS MEETS TODAY

SOPHOMORES WILL CHOOSE PRESIDENT FOR SEMESTER.

COULTER AND HYDE CANDIDATES

FRESHMAN ELECTION TO BE HELD THURSDAY MORNING.

Thomas, Landers and Beck Soliciting Votes in First Year Class With No Elements of Interest Yet in Campaign.

With the sophomore election this morning and the freshman meeting Thursday there is still a remarkable lack of interest in the respective results of the second semester elections. Although the sophomore organization has had a contest on between two aspirants for presidential honors ever since the opening of the semester, the fight is proving devoid of interest to a great majority of the class. The freshmen candidates have not been in the field for so long a time, but their failure to stir up enthusiasm has been equally striking.

H. W. Coulter was the first second-year man to announce his candidacy for the sophomore presidency. He entered the running with the opening of the semester. Within a few days Leslie Hyde of Lincoln announced that he would be a willing recipient of the class headship. Carl J. Lord of Randolph announced his desire for the office at about the same time and it seemed that a contest might develop of interesting proportions. The three men concerned began soliciting votes actively and the talk of a fourth dark horse added interest to the affair.

Interest Died Out.

After being in the race several days, Lord decided to withdraw and this left the contest to Hyde and Coulter. Since that time the affair has been lacking in interest and the prospect is that the attendance at today's meeting will be small. On account of the general apathy existing it is absolutely impossible to predict the result. Either candidate may win in a walk or the result may be close. Signs to point the way are entirely lacking.

Coulter is a graduate of Canon City, Colo., high school. He is registered in the college of literature, science and arts. Coulter is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. Hyde is a Lincoln high school man, and he is also enrolled in the academic college.

With Coulter and Hyde as the contestants there are practically no issues save personal popularity. Although Hyde is not a fraternity man, he has friends among the Greek letter organizations and does not pose as an opponent of the frats. Since both men are academics there is no feeling between colleges. With these two factors, which are usually the ones most prolific of election platforms, out of consideration, there is not much left upon which a contest of principles can be waged.

First-year Men.

Thomas had the best of it in the freshman class so far as securing the start was concerned. He announced his candidacy several days ahead of Sanders, who was second out. Neither came out until President Kerspacher had published notice of his intention not to call a class meeting until someone had signified his desire for the office. This offer of Kerspacher to hold down the job indefinitely brought forth a reply in the shape of the two entries.

Roland Thomas is an Omaha high school graduate registered in the literary college. He declares that if elected he will make a vigorous attempt to pay off the class debt and that he will favor another class hop. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Landers of Norfolk is a very popular non-frat man. He is a member of the freshman basket ball five and represented his class in the middle-weight boxing contests in the Olympics last fall.

Third Entrant.

A. L. Beck of Billings, Mont., announced his candidacy for the freshman leadership Friday. Beck is working hard and he may be able to inject some life into the first-year campaign before Thursday. Beck is a non-frat.

THE GRADUATE CLUB TO MEET

Governor Shallenberger To Be Present at Annual Session.

As was announced last week the Graduate Club will meet in the Temple next Friday evening at 6 o'clock. Governor and Mrs. Shallenberger will be present and the governor will deliver a short address. Dean L. A. Sherman will also speak on the subject, "The Lesson Unit in Graduate Studies." Besides these addresses the following graduate students will report on their own research problems:

J. G. W. Lewis—American History.
Geo. R. LaRue—Zoology.

Mrs. T. F. A. Williams—Political Science.

O. L. Barnebey—Chemistry.

.....German.

J. W. Roberts—Botany.

Those in charge urge that everyone be prompt so that the supper may be served without delay at 6 o'clock, and so that those who must attend other meetings on the same evening will not need to leave before the exercises are over. It is also necessary that all register before Wednesday noon so that the committee may better know how to provide for the supper. Reservations may be made at the Temple book store or with either Dr. Condra or Mr. Pool. The notice of last week gave Friday as the limit for reservations, but this must be done by Wednesday noon in order to facilitate the work of the committee.

CHORUS MEN ARE DISAPPOINTED

Captain Workizer Decides Twenty-four Too Many To Be Excused From Drill.

At least one-half of the men who hoped to escape drill by joining the university chorus are bound to be disappointed.

Before the semester began Captain Workizer had consented to excuse from drill all men who became members of the chorus. But he has decided that the ranks of the cadet battalion are too thin, and has modified his promise by allowing but twelve men to be excused. As twenty-four men had taken advantage of the opportunity to escape drill, twelve of them must now go back to drill. Mrs. Raymond has been testing their voices in order to determine whom she will allow to remain. Her decision has not yet been announced, and the men are anxiously awaiting their fate.

Some of the men who joined the chorus in this way have sold their uniforms and will be in a predicament if they happen to be among the unfortunate ones.

During our three-day fountain pen sale a limited number of the celebrated original imported Dwarf Ink Pencils will be sold for 90c each. Regular price $1.50. Guaranteed non-leakable no matter in what position carried. University Book Store.

BASEBALL DATES OUT

HEAVY SCHEDULE FOR CORNHUSKER DIAMOND MEN.

TEN GAMES FOR LINCOLN FANS

Universities of Missouri and Kansas Will Each Be Met Here in Two Contests in April and May.

Nebraska baseball schedule for this spring is the most attractive one for the local diamond enthusiasts that has been made out in recent seasons. It calls for the playing of twenty-six games, ten of which will be held in Lincoln during April and May. Two trips are booked for the local nine, one being a journey south during the Easter vacation and the other a tour of northern Iowa and Minnesota the first week in May.

The south trip includes ten games. Kansas and Missouri will each be played on this trip in two games apiece. The Cornhuskers will appear at Columbia, playing the "show-me" men on Friday and Saturday, April 9 and 10. The following Friday and Saturday, April 16 and 17, the concluding days of the trip, the Cornhuskers will be in Lawrence, where they will clash with their old and best rivals, the jayhawkers.

Haskells on List.

The Haskell Indians will also be played on this trip, the fray being pulled off in Lawrence on Wednesday, April 14. William Jewel and the Missouri state normal will also be played.

On Thursday, April 15, the cornhuskers are booked to play two games, one being with St. Marys at St. Marys in the morning and the other with the Kansas agricultural college at Manhattan in the afternoon.

The northern trip will be started Saturday, May 1, the cornhuskers playing Ames at Ames on that day. The Iowa state university nine will not be played on this trip owing to the inability of the managers of the two schools to agree on a date that would fit in with the other games on the Nebraska schedule.

Grinnell, Drake and Cornell will be the other teams in Iowa that will be played. The tour will be closed with two contests against Minnesota at Minneapolis on Friday and Saturday, May 8 and 9.

The home schedule will include at least ten games. Contests with Missouri, Kansas, Manhattan and Drake have already been contracted. Cotner, Wesleyan and the Nebraska Indians will be booked to fill out the other dates in the local schedule.

Both Kansas and Missouri will visit Lincoln, each playing two games with the cornhuskers. The Missouri nine is booked to appear here on Monday and Tuesday, April 26 and 27. Kansas will come on Friday and Saturday, May 28 and 29. The Kansas Aggies of Manhattan are to be played here on Wednesday, April 21.

At Antelope Park.

All of the home games will probably be played at Antelope park, since the university has no athletic field of its own. Arrangements will be made with Manager Green of the Lincoln western league team for the use of the ball park, and the games booked will not conflict with the league dates.

The class basketball fight seems to be narrowing down to a race between the freshman and junior fives. The first year men, however, appear to have a little the better of the dope, having played one game which they won. While the juniors have one and lost two games.

The seniors, apparently, are out of the race, having a record of two games played and two lost. The sophomores have lost one game and won one.

The freshmen have been generally conceded the title for the past few weeks, but the showing of the juniors against the seniors raised the stock of the fourth year men several percent. They now must be reckoned with in the race for the pennant.

Baseball Schedule.

The complete baseball schedule is as follows:

May 7—Minnesota at Minneapolis.

May 8—Minnesota at Minneapolis.

TO HOLD ANNUAL TOURNAMENT

Culminating Event in Girls' Basketball Thursday.

On next Thursday afternoon the seventh annual girls' tournament will be held in the armory. This event will be the culminating feature of the girls' basket-ball season. The teams representing each of the different classes are very equally matched, and although the time for practice has been short, each team is going into the event with the determination to win.

All girls wishing to attend the tournament will be given a leave of absence at the registrar's office, which will permit them to skip their classes. The tournament is scheduled to commence promptly at 2 o'clock, and those in charge promise that it will be over so that there will be no excuse for missing 4 o'clock classes.

The personnel of the class teams is as follows:

Freshmen—Helen Dinmore, Louise Barr, Luck Kelfer, Janet Stevenson, Mabel Salmon, Ella Vollstedt and Celie Davis, subs.

Sophomores—Beulah Kaden (captain), Jessie Beghtol, Hattie Rollings, Janet Cameron, Vera Rogers, Cora Brown, Amanda Clements and Clara Erickson, subs.

Juniors—Bertha Luckey (captain), Grace Kimmel, Esther Bailey, Mary Herbert, Myra Comer, Leah McCiure, Leotta Powell.

Seniors—Isabel Wolfe (captain), Marion Horton, Mae Williams, Mattie Woodworth, Loraine Hemple, Clara Hermenson, Bessie Fry.

WILL BE OUT EARLY

CORNHUSKER READY TO GO TO PRESS APRIL FIRST.

CONTAINS MANY NEW FEATURES

THE JOKE DEPARTMENT TO BE GIVEN MORE EMPHASIS.

Owing to Admission of New Colleges the Entire Issue Will Probably Be Sold Before the Book Goes to Press.

The Cornhusker is to go to press by April 1st. This was announced last evening by the editor, Mr. Robertson, after the meeting of the staff, which was held at 5 o'clock in N 106.

In going to press on April 1st the book will break the record of any of its predecessors. This is over a month earlier than last year's annual, and it will mean the publication of the volume long before the time for the final examinations and so prevent the advent of such an important university publication being lost in the rush of other events which always attend the closing of the school year.

Not Dedicated Yet.

At the staff meeting last evening it was intended to decide upon the person to whom this year's annual will be dedicated, but as all the members were not present the complete vote was not cast, but the decision will be made in the near future. This dedication is one of the coveted honors of the university and is given as an appreciation of the work of some members of the faculty and the part his department has played in the university.

The arrangements for this year's Cornhusker have been completed and nearly all of the drawings, designs and writeups are in. The book itself is to be much larger than last year's, containing at least one hundred more pages. It will have twenty-four departments and the greater part of these are divided up into sections. The joke department will be by far the largest department and will cover over twice as many pages as that of last year. Several new sections have also been added to this department, which will cover ground never before attempted.

A New Design.

A new and original design by one of the staff artists has been worked out for the arrangement of the pictures and is one of the cleverest designs, in the estimation of the editor, ever published in a book of this kind. In the joke department cartoons will be strongly in evidence and these are all to be examples of good artistic work. They are mainly take-offs on university life in general. This, it is believed, will make them of broader interest to all of the students.

The calendar, that almanac of wit and satire, will be made one of the special features of the publication. It is to be written up in the Almanac style, weather and all, omitting perhaps the patent medicine ads.

The contracts for the sale of copies have already commenced, and all the present indications are that the entire issue will be sold before the books go to press. There are several new features attending the sale of books this year which will make it almost imperative that those desiring the book will have to order it early in order to secure a copy. The fact that the agricultural school, the school of music and the dental school have all been included in the annual makes an additional sale to members
