To Be Sure of Getting What You Pay For is Important

when buying clothes. Therefore it is safest to go where—to be known for "square dealing" is more to the merchant than making a sale regardless of how it is made.

It is hard to judge of clothes values, men who know say it cannot be done. The reason is the making—the inside—is the basis of value and only time will test its worth.

Kensington Clothes have more on the inside than most clothes—more hand work—more and better inside linings. For this reason they never disappoint the wearer—they look well—they wear well—they fit well.

The immense showings now upon our tables is worth coming to see. $15.00 to $40.00.
