the window of the dining room and after singing were invited in, where they were treated to refreshments. After congratulating the bride and groom the party left, wishing them happiness throughout life.

The Union Literary society adjourned last evening to attend the concert given by the university cadet band. After the concert they returned to the Union hall, where a short program was given. Miss Agnes Colby, of Onawa, Ia., favored the society with several cornet selections, after which a social hour was enjoyed by all. The next meeting of the society will be held the first Friday after the Easter vacation.

The members of the Pershing Rifles held their monthly gold medal spell-down last night in the armory, and S. A. Mahood won the medal. A business meeting was held after the drill at which the matter of awarding a gold medal to J. A. Sootney was discussed. It was decided that a committee be appointed to confer with the commissioned officers to settle this matter. It was decided also that the Pershing Rifles would take their annual hike to the place of the Cadet encampment.

TO GIVE BANQUET TONIGHT
 Interesting Program With I. C. Knode
 Toastmaster.

Tonight the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. give their joint banquet at St. Paul's church. While given by both organizations it is open to all, whether members or not.

The supper will open at 6 o'clock and an interesting program has been arranged, with J. C. Knode, 1908, as toastmaster. The toast list with the responses will be as follows: "The University of Nebraska Without the 'Eds.," Faye Hartley, 1910; "The University of Nebraska Without the 'Co-Eds.," E. W. Hill, 1909; "Co-operation," Alice Compton, 1910; "Operation," S. A. Mahood, 1910; "Auld Lang Syne," Phoebe May Hopper, 1896, and "The Christian Associations from Behind the Desks," Professor E. L. Hinman.

This is the first union banquet to be given by the associations, and it is expected that it will meet with hearty approval. It is proposed to make it one of the annual affairs of these organizations.

MASQUES FAILED TO APPEAR

Thirteen Trembling Candidates Wait for Hours in Vain.

The new Black Masque initiates are still waiting to be initiated. They began waiting at 6:30 last evening, the time at which their entrance into the sacred precincts of the Thirteen was supposed to take place.

They waited, but the active Black Masques failed to appear to call for the trembling thirteen candidates. Whether they would have continued to remain in the same place, waiting, until death overtook them, is a question, but this possibility was averted by one of their number recollecting that it was April first. Thirteen juniors thus were brought face to face with the fact that they were the victims of a time-honored joke: Thirteen juniors, who waited from 6:30 until nearly midnight to discover that they were fooled.

The Palladian literary society will meet in their hall this evening. The program will consist of ten minute orations on topics of national interests together with musical numbers. At the meeting held last Saturday evening the following officers were elected: President, Beulah Hildreth; vice-president, Clara Miller; recording secretary, Clara Ericson; corresponding secretary, Ina Williams; historian, Mabel Nelson; treasurer, F. E. McCall; critic, Ray Rice. F. C. Harding and E. H. Jorgeson were elected members of the executive board.

The regular mid-week Y. M. C. A. meeting Wednesday evening was led by J. L. DerKinderen. Instead of discussing the topic, "Choosing a Life Work," as was announced, the meeting was devoted to arousing an interest in view of the Summer Conference, which will be held early in June at Cascade, Colo. A few of the delegates who were present last year gave reports as to the conference and the benefits and pleasures incident to such an outing. A large delegation is looked for to represent the University of Nebraska at the coming conference.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Van Anel, 1722 R, was the scene of a beautiful wedding Wednesday, when their daughter Maysel was united in marriage to Arthur Barth of Billings, Montana. The bride and groom were remembered with many beautiful gifts, among which was a handsome tea set from Phi Delta Theta, the groom's fraternity, and a set of spoons from the Black Masque girls. Both the bride and groom are well known in university circles. The groom graduated from the university in 1908. The bride is a member of the Black Masque and Palladian societies. Mr. and Mrs. Barth departed for Chicago to spend their honeymoon. They will be home to friends after May 15, at Billings, Montana.
