CHANGE IN SYSTEM

ALL MONEY MUST GO THROUGH TREASURER'S OFFICE.

INSTRUCTORS CAN'T COLLECT

Extra Janitor Service To Be Paid for by University and Not by Individuals or Societies Receiving Such Service.

By a regulation just announced university instructors are forbidden to have any financial relation whatsoever with their students save as may in exceptional cases be allowed by the head of the department. In all cases where store-keepers or other departmental officials receive money from the students, the cash must be turned in to the treasurer's office and then again checked out for expenditures.

Mimeographing is to be paid for out of the departmental cash funds wherever possible and in other cases the work is to be done through the university purchasing agent and the book store. Extra janitor service now paid for by individual students or societies is to be paid by the university in the future, save in cases where the work performed is entirely separate from the university labors of the employee.

These are the rules put in force by the regents at their last meeting. They are issued not because the board believes that there has been any misuse of the privileges now curtailed, but in order that unjust criticism may be entirely obviated and for the further reason that it is impossible to maintain an exact account of expenditures unless all receipts and expenditures, no matter what the purpose, go through the treasurer's hands.

Books and Mimeographing.

In several classes it has been the custom in the past for the instructor in charge to deal directly with his students in the matter of providing them with minor text-books or mimeographed outlines and instruction sheets. Under the new arrangement the text-book business must be transferred to one of the book stores.

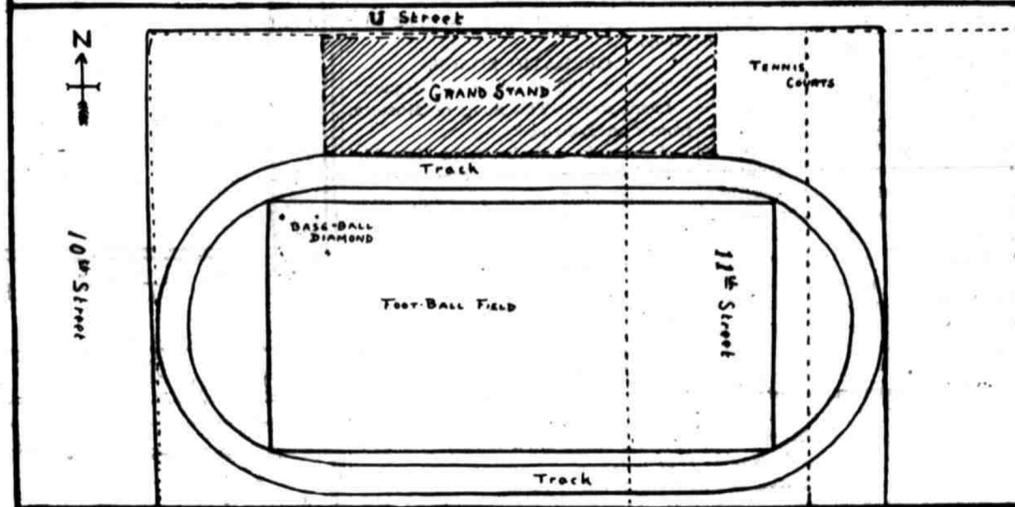

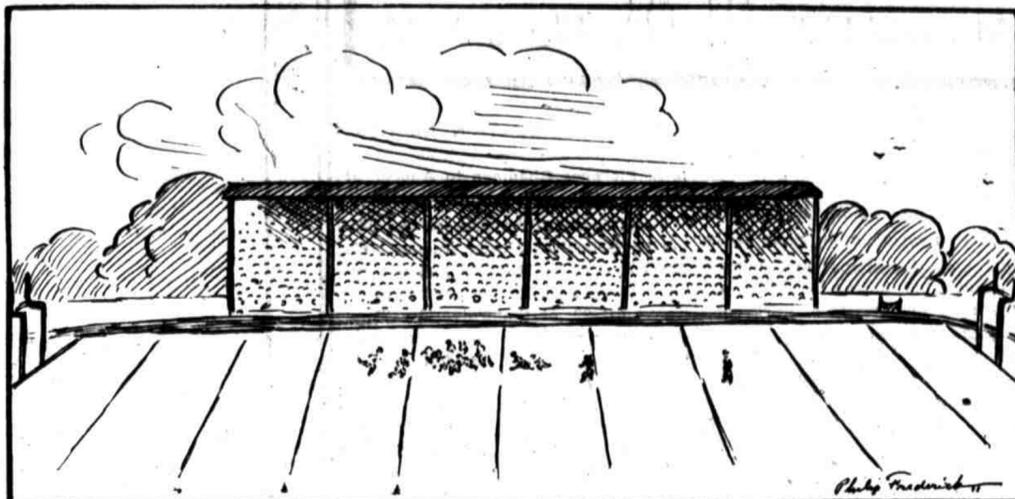

The mimeographing has in the past been furnished the students in a variety of ways. Each department is allowed a certain amount for such purposes and where this sufficed the student has been at no expense. Where the mimeograph work was substituted to a large extent for a text, or where a great amount of it was required for some other reason, the departmental funds have not been sufficient to provide for the drain. In these cases the instructor has again frequently dealt directly with the students, himself paying for and receiving pay for the sheets.

Now all this which cannot be paid for out of the department funds must go through the hands of the university purchasing agent. The sheets will be prepared and sold at the regents' book store as in the case of text-books. This practice is already followed by several departments and the change will not cause any serious inconvenience.

The Janitor Question.

It is frequently the case that student organizations wishing to use some of the buildings on the campus after regular hours have paid the janitors an extra amount to open the building and close it afterward. Other things of like nature have been necessitated by the fact that the regents made no provision for such contingencies. Now these expenses, where allowable, will be paid for by the university and janitors and employes will not be allowed to receive any pay from other sources for such work.

The attitude of the regents in abol-

According to present plans the new athletic field will be located directly north of the campus. It will include the whole of the block included between Tenth and Eleventh and "T" and "U" streets. Two lots will also be required in the next block to the east to give the required length to the new field. Eleventh street will be closed and used as a part of the field, but no attempt will be made to close "T" street. A cinder track will surround the field. Temporary bleachers will be erected over the track on the south side of the gridiron. According to the plans, tennis courts will be laid out directly east of the grand stand.

ishing the old plans is that the fee system is to be limited as much as possible rather than enlarged. The mimeographing charges and the janitor's extras constituted in fact special fees and the regents believe that the university as a whole should stand the burden of these expenses.

FORESTERS ARE TO BANQUET.

Club Will Hold Annual Feed at Lincoln Hotel, May 7.

At a meeting of the Forestry Club held last evening plans for the coming banquet of the club were discussed. The banquet will be held at the Lincoln hotel on May 7, and it is expected that the affair will be a big occasion by the students of the forestry department. A sumptuous menu and a toast list of excellence will be provided for the entertainment of the club members.

THE GRADUATE CLUB TO MEET.

Banquet and Speeches to Be Features of Last Session.

The last meeting of the graduate club for the year 1908-09 will be held May 7 in the banquet hall of the Temple. The club members will meet at 6:00 p. m., and enjoy the feast provided by the committee on arrangements. Following the dinner several members of the club will speak on topics of interest. One feature of the evening will be a report by each department as to the work of its graduate students. These reports will show the number of such students whether they are majoring or minoring in the department, and what work they have done.

SLAUGHTER OF AGGIES

BUCK BELTZER AND HIS CREW PILE UP BIG SCORE.

VISITORS CAUSE GAY LAUGHTER

Absolutely All to Bad From the Start, Performing So Comically That Show Was Worth Seeing at the Price.

Nebraska 14; Manhattan 3.

Captain Buck Beltzer and his Cornhuskers opened their home season by pummeling the vaunted Manhattan Aggies in a seven-inning game at Antelope park yesterday afternoon by a score of 14 to 3. The slaughter fest was allowed to go but seven innings, much to the elation of the shivering fans, in order to permit the visitors to make their get-away from the day light city before the fatal hour.

The Aggies went up in the initial round and hovered overhead during the rest of the contest. Several attempts at descending were made, but the Jayhawker tribe only continued with each of these to make higher elevations. They were mighty pleased when the amiable Davy Davidson showed the ticker into his pocket and hit off the field.

It was tough luck that pursued the earth workers for their string of fifteen victories, made before they left old Manhattan (not in New York) indicates that they are the goods. Yesterday, however, was their off day and they made the error column look like a mass of standard oil figures. Errors were accumulated rapidly by several of the men especially the little lad who tried to play second both with his clinch instruments and his food inlet.

Play Fine Old Ball.

Captain Beltzer's men, on the other hand, were working in grand old style and made light work of the Aggies. Hit the ball? They did and many times, with extra bases often secured, too. An error in left garden was the only offense of the discouraging kind. Ward was on the slab for the Cornhuskers and kept the hits placed. For the Aggies two men were allowed to work on the rubber. Stack, who ran for two rounds, was so easy that he willingly retired in favor of Stowle, whom the Cornhuskers found nearly as great a jay.

Ward was the featured wonder in more ways than one yesterday, too. In the second session he came to the bat, stepping gently to the side of the plate and whiffed the sphere deftly over the right field fence for the only home run of the game. When he smashed the four bagger there was a gay cry from the rooters and the big side wheeler was handed the smiling language when he majestically touched the home pan and pattered along to the resting place of the other members of his conquering band.

Against Leaguers Today.

Today the Cornhuskers will try their luck with the Lincoln leaguers for the third time this season. The game is to begin at 3:30 o'clock with Fleming probably on the mound for the collegians.

Next Monday and Tuesday the team from our neighbors the "show-me" state will be the guests at Antelope of Captain Beltzer and "Dog" Eager. Remember Missouri next week. Results of yesterday's bat-fest: Nebraska, 2 3 1 3 3 2-14; Manhattan, 0 0 0 3 0 0-3.

Home runs, Ward. Two base hits, Beltzer, Greenslit. Three base hit, Carroll. Struck out. By Ward, 2; by Stack, 1; by Stowle, 2. Batteries, Ward and Carroll; Stack, Stowle, and Speer. Umpire, Davidson.

CHAMPIONSHIP DEBATE

STATE HIGH SCHOOL CONTEST IN MEMORIAL HALL.

WILL BE HELD ON FETE DAY

To Be the Biggest Affair of its Kind Ever Held in Nebraska and Will Be Viewed With Interest By the University.

The state championship debate of the Nebraska High School Debating League will be held in Memorial hall on the evening of May 14, or High School Fete Day. In this contest the participants will be the representatives of the various district debating leagues, of which there are eleven, into which the state is divided.

These districts are: the northern, north central, eastern, east central southeastern, southern, central west central, southwestern and northwestern and western. There are almost fifty schools altogether in the state league and this is divided into these smaller leagues according to convenience.

Contests Already Held.

The championship contests have been held in several of the districts and the candidates which are to represent them here, chosen. Atchinson is the champion of the northern division with C. A. Mohrman, 1904, as superintendent; in the east central district, University Place ranks first with Chas. E. Teach, 1903, as superintendent; in the southern division, Hebron won, with Joseph R. Fulk, 1903, as superintendent; and in the southwestern district, Beaver City holds the honors, with W. F. Davis, 1899, as superintendent.

Two of the district championships will be decided tomorrow night.

Wahoo and Blair meet at Wahoo to decide the championship of the eastern district, and Geneva and Osceola debate at Osceola for the central district championship. The final debate for the southeastern district league, which is the largest league in the state, will be between Auburn and Wymore on April 30.

The subject discussed in all of these debates was on the compulsory arbitration of railroad strikes. There were over thirty debates all together. In the contests the schools pair off in each district and by the process of elimination decide upon the winner to represent them here on High School Fete Day.

To Be Large Affair.

This contest will be the largest affair of its kind ever held in the state of Nebraska. The university has shown considerable interest in this state debating league. Professor M. M. Fogg of the department of rhetoric is at the head of the league and many of the university professors have been acting as judges at the various debates over the state. The debaters who contest on Fete Day are of particular interest to the university public because they represent the best product of a thorough sifting process in high school debating work and because they represent, to a great degree, the material which will some day take part in university debating.

Alpha Theta Chi Wins.

Alpha Theta Chi defeated Delta Upsilon in a warmly contested game at the Vine street lot yesterday afternoon by a score of 9 to 3.
