SATURDAY, MAY 15, 1909.

It is announced that several departments of the university are having trouble in getting enough graduate students to take the fellowships that are being offered. Perhaps this indicates that Nebraska graduates are so well equipped for their work that they cannot be spared from the different communities where they are at work.

The first Senior Day was observed yesterday by the class of 1909 and was taken with the full consent of the university authorities. Without the blight of faculty disapproval which has in times past marred much of the pleasure of the day it ought to develop into one of the university's best customs. Even as it is the seniors declare that they had the time of their lives.

A NOTABLE DAY.

Although seriously inconvenienced by rain during the latter part of yesterday afternoon the arrangements that were made this year for the entertainment of high school students far surpassed in completeness anything that has before been attempted by the university. So far as it lay within the power of the university authorities the day was a great success. Every opportunity was provided high school students of seeing the university at work and getting the best possible impression of the work that the university is doing.

It is a noticeable fact that with every year the interest which the annual Fete Day is causing throughout the state is greatly increasing. Never before in the history of the university have so many high school students been attracted to Lincoln. Never before have so many high school athletes been gathered in one track meet.

If the progress which has recently been made in the organization and development of Fete Day is continued, good effects cannot help but be noticed in the university itself. The university must always depend largely upon Nebraska students for its support and the fact that such interest in the university is being developed in the high schools must mean that more and more students will come each year to Nebraska. Instead of going into business as many have done in the past, they will receive encouragement and ambition to take a course at the university.

The benefit to university athletics and debating that results from the holding of the track meet and the interscholastic debates at the university is also very real. The university is enabled to know just where the best high school material of the state is, and the high school men are aided by the opportunity of getting in touch with the work that the university is doing.

If the development of high school day can be continued as it has been started it will be one of the best things for Nebraska that has ever taken place. It is the commencement of bigger things for Nebraska.

TO PREVENT STEALING.

Every few days one hears of articles that have been stolen at one place or another on the campus, but the most of this sort of work seems to be done in the locker rooms of the gymnasium. A plan is now being tried at the University of Minnesota that promises, according to the Minnesota Daily to do away with much of the thieving at that institution. The plan as described by the Minnesota Daily is as follows:

"Dr. L. J. Cooke has formulated a plan whereby thieving in the locker rooms will be effectually checked. It is planned to have a locker room assistant who will have charge of the keys, open lockers when the key has been left inside, and keep strict watch to prevent thieving. It is almost impossible to conceive the amount of gymnastic apparel stolen every month and a locker room attendant, it is thought will effectually check this practice. It is also planned to have a checking system operated by this attendant. This will enable persons to have their overcoats and derbies checked, besides leaving their valuables in a safe."

FIRE STARTED IN BRACE HALL.

Small Blaze Was a Result of a Flash of Lightning.

Some smoke, a little blaze and a pall of water were the elements involved in a little fire in Brace Hall yesterday evening. The fire started in the basement where the electric wiring enters the building, but a few buckets full of water soon put it out.

The trouble was caused by a severe flash of lightning which occurred about 7:45, which struck in the vicinity of the campus and traveling along the wires burned off the insulation where they entered the building. On discovering the smoke the janitor rushed up stairs for a fire extinguisher. Before he could return someone had quenched what little fire there was with a bucket or two of water.

The storm caused serious inconveniences throughout the campus. Water was blown through every possible leakage and the basements of many of the buildings were seriously dampened by the rain blowing in around the windows. All of the telephones on the campus were put out of commission by the storm and some of the electric lighting facilities were seriously affected for a time.

RAIN INTERRUPTS CONTEST.

Nebraska Had Won From Doane and Lost a Game to Western.

Rain interrupted the tennis contest in doubles which was being played at Wesleyan yesterday afternoon, when it was little more than half over. Nebraska had already won two games from Doane with a score of 6 to 1, 6 to 1, and part of the contest with Western had been played. At the time the meet broke up, Western had taken one game from Nebraska with a score of 6 to 4.

The Nebraska team will now, probably not be able to finish the contest until after her return from Kansas, as all the intervening time will be put in preparing for this contest. The tennis team will leave Thursday evening for Lawrence where they will play the Jayhawkers on Friday and Saturday.

GO TO OMAHA NEXT THURSDAY

Medical College Students Will Visit Metropolis.

The students of the college of medicine will go to Omaha next Thursday to inspect the equipment of the university medical college in that city. This is an annual affair with the students who are registered for the first two years of the course in Lincoln. They annually go to Omaha that they may familiarize themselves with the other half of the institution in which they are studying.

Practically the entire enrollment of the college will take the train for Omaha Thursday. The faculty will superintend the excursion and will endeavor to see to it that the students see all the essential features of the Omaha school.
