RALLY TODAY.

This evening at five o'clock a rally will be held in Memorial hall in order to arouse enthusiasm for the Kansas-Nebraska meet to be held tomorrow afternoon and to stir up a little of the Nebraska spirit that will be necessary if Kansas is to be humbled. Not only will prominent students speak, but Chancellor Avery and several of the faculty will be on hand to see that things are kept moving.

Whether it is possible for every student to be at the meet or not, there is no reason why every student should not be at the rally and at least show that he is with the team both heart and soul. The hour's time that will be required will be more than repaid by the increased love and respect for Nebraska that the student will carry away with him.

Kansas has triumphed over Nebraska in every athletic contest in which the two schools have met this year and as far as advance information goes she has a good chance of doing the same thing tomorrow. If Nebraska wins it will only be after the hardest kind of a fight and a fight that will require all the latent Nebraska spirit. It is by providing an inexhaustible store of this spirit and by making it felt at the rally today and the meet tomorrow that the student body can help their team score a victory.

Kansas has one of the strongest track teams in the west and last Saturday defeated the University of Missouri for the first time in the history of athletic relations between the two schools. Flushed with this victory, Kansas comes to Nebraska confident of defeating the Cornhuskers and it is only by putting the team upon its mettle that Nebraska can hope to win. Every student can have a part in this and in proportion as the student body shirks this part of its duty the chances of beating Kansas are lessened.

It is therefore the duty of every student to be present at the rally this afternoon and do his best at the meet to make the Nebraska men feel that they have got to win and that this meet must result in a victory for the scarlet and the cream.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR R. J. POOL.

Fellow Instructors Give Botany Man a Tin Shower.

A tin shower was sprung on R. J. Pool, instructor in botany, last Wednesday evening. It was done without the knowledge or consent of Mr. Pool, who was kept carefully in ignorance of the intentions of the guests until the shower began.

Mr. Pool is understood to be contemplating matrimony. It is even said that the nuptials will be celebrated within the next few weeks. Fellow members of the botanical department staff learned of his intentions and decided that he should not leave the bachelor state without an appropriate celebration. Wednesday evening Mr. Pool was invited to the home of Dean Bessey and there his associates surprised him with a shower of tin and other household utensils.

Following the shower a pleasant evening was spent in various forms of amusement. The matrimonial idea predominated and rhymes, couplets, and other methods of bringing out the spirit of the occasion were evident.
