WILL NOT BE HELD

NOT LIKELY TO REGISTER THIS SPRING.

CHANGES MADE IN COLLEGES

INDUSTRIAL COLLEGE HAS NOW CEASED TO EXIST.

Divided into Various Colleges and Some of its Courses Assimilated by Old Colleges or Schools

—Plan is a Success.

In view of several changes which have been made and which are still under way it is not likely that any spring registration will be held for the first semester of next year. That none are held this spring is not due to any failure on the part of the last spring registration, but is due to the reorganization of the colleges and a new scheme of providing a committee on assignment to recitations and laboratory divisions.

The plan of spring registration as put into effect for the first time last spring was decidedly not a failure although it came at a time when difficulties in the arrangement of schedules were encountered due to the organization of the teachers' college and other changes in the details of the departments.

The work of registering the students before leaving school was carried out successfully, however, proof of parts of the catalogue being placed in the hands of the deans in time to prove of service in the work.

Would be Difficult.

This year, however, so many changes have been made in the arrangement of the colleges for next year that it would make the registration of students for next year very difficult without a catalogue in hand. The work on the catalogue has, however, been delayed by these changes and will not be out until the middle of the summer.

Besides this reorganization of the colleges a new scheme has been devised to care for the assignment of students to recitations and laboratory divisions. This committee will take the work of caring for the student's hours of recitation and laboratory periods off the hands of the deans and distribute the work as evenly as possible. They will devise the details of the plan during the summer, hence another obstacle lies in the path of the spring registration. Next year, however, it is intended to again adopt this scheme.

Out of Existence.

In the reorganization and rearrangement of the schools the industrial college has ceased to exist. The various departments which were included under the old head of the industrial college have been assimilated by several new colleges which have been created and some by other colleges already in existence.

The colleges as they stand for the coming year are as follows:

The graduate college in which the courses lead to the degree of master of arts and doctor of philosophy.

The college of arts and sciences, which is a four-year course leading to the degree of bachelor of arts.

The teachers' college, which is a four-year course leading to the degree of bachelor of arts and the university teacher's certificate.

The college of agriculture (including general and technical agriculture, forestry, and general home economic groups) is a four-year course leading to the degree of bachelor of science.

The college of engineering, which is a four-year course leading to the degree of bachelor of science in engineering. There will also be a six-year combined academic-engineering course leading to the degree of bachelor of arts in four years and to the degree of bachelor of science in engineering.

The college of law which is a three-year course leading to the degree of bachelor of laws; also a six-year course leading to the bachelor of arts degree in four years and to the degree of bachelor of laws.

The college of medicine which is a four-year course leading to the degree of doctor of medicine; also a six-year course leading to the bachelor's degree and to the degree of doctor of medicine.

The four schools of pharmacy, fine arts, music and agriculture.

EXAM SCHEDULES ARE CHANGED.

Further Alterations in the Appointed Time Announced.

Registrar Harrison yesterday afternoon announced the following additional changes in the examination schedule as published on the bulletin boards:

English literature 2, section 1, will meet in Library hall, 109, instead of in Memorial hall. Sections 2 and 3 of the same class will meet in Library hall, 305.

Chemistry B, sections 1 and 2, will meet in Library hall, 305, instead of in Memorial hall.

In the college of law, classes in sales, trusts, and contracts, scheduled to meet Thursday at 8:00 a. m., in Memorial hall, will meet instead in the armory, this change being made in order that regular convocation may be held in the former place.

Education 2, sections 1 and 2, will meet Friday, May 28, at 1:15 in U. 211 and U 313.

Cadets whose camp conflicts with examination periods should consult instructors at once in order to make special arrangements as to the final tests.

CORNHUSKERS TO HIGH SCHOOLS.

University Sends out Copies of the Annual as Gifts.

In pursuance to the action of the board of regents in voting to send 150 copies of the 1909 Cornhusker to the high schools of the state, High School Inspector A. A. Reed is superintending the despatch of the books. The annuals are sent out in the belief that they present in better form than any other publication the life of the university. They will come into the hands of high school students who may be undecided as to what school to attend and it is quite possible that the impression made by the book may turn them to Lincoln.

In each copy sent out there is inserted a presentation slip showing that the book is presented to the high school in question by the university on account of the relations existing between the two institutions.

NEBRASKA AT THE N. E. A.

Preparations for Headquarters for the Teachers of This State.

The programs for the annual meeting of the National Educational association in Denver, July 3-9 are now being distributed to Nebraska teachers. Responses which have been received by university men interested in the convention indicate that the attendance of Nebraska teachers will be large.

Headquarters for the state have been secured in the Brown Palace hotel. A reception will be held on Wednesday evening at which a number of prominent educators of the state will be present.

Your car fare would pay for a nice lunch at The Boston Lanch. Why go home?

TO CLOSE THIS WEEK

NEBRASKA BASEBALL NINE WILL FINISH ITS 1909 SEASON.

TWO GAMES WITH JAYHAWKERS

Lawrence Men Will Be the Guests of Captain Beltzer and His Crew at Antelope Park Friday and Saturday.

This week is to witness the close of the local Cornhusker athletic season with two games of baseball between Kansas and Nebraska at Antelope park on Friday and Saturday afternoons. The track team woundup its dual meets Saturday in the games with the Jayhawkers, and will take part in only one more contest this year, that being the annual Missouri valley conference meet at Des Moines June 5.

On the southern trip the Cornhuskers lost two games to Kansas at Lawrence, one of them being a championship contest. Of the two games played here this week, one, probably the first, will also be a championship contest and will count in the standing of the two teams in the Missouri valley conference baseball race.

Kansas Near the Top.

Kansas stands near the top in the southern division of the league. Until it took a trip into Missouri last week it led the league, but on that journey it encountered Missouri university at Columbia, losing two games, and went against the Washington university bunch at St. Louis, suffering another loss of two games. The failure to win either of the championship games from Missouri or Washington let the Jayhawkers down a notch and they are now resting below the Mound City university players. Missouri has beaten Washington, however, in two games and probably will repeat the feat again this week when the schools meet. As Missouri was whalloped by the Cornhuskers in three out of four games this spring, it can not claim to be ahead of the Nebraska nine even though it gets into first place.

If the Cornhuskers take the championship game from Kansas here this week, they will stand next to Ames in the rankings of the teams. The Iowa aggies have suffered two or three defeats this season, but probably ranks ahead of any team in the northern division excepting the Cornhuskers. Should the Nebraska men defeat Kansas they will have a strong claim on the premier honors of the Missouri valley.

Good Record Up to This Time.

The record for the present spring is probably the best any Nebraska team has had during the last four or five years. No game at home has been lost. Several strong teams have been played in Lincoln, too, including Missouri, Manhattan, and Drake.

A total of twenty-one games have been played this season, not including the practice contests with the Lincoln league nine. Of these twelve were won, nine lost and one tied. Games were won from, Missouri, 3; Drake, 2; Manhattan, Cornell, Grinnell, Wesleyan, William Jewell, Haskell, Tabor. Games were lost to Kansas, 2; Ames, Missouri, Wesleyan, Manhattan, Decorah, Minnesota, St. Marys. The tied game was played with the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis. Plan to Play Cotner.

Rain yesterday and Monday prevented a meeting of the Cornhuskers with the Cotner university bunch at Bethany. This game was scheduled by Manager Eager to allow the Nebraska players a stiff practice for the contests with Kansas later in the week. The failure to play the game with Cotner is working a hardship on the Cornhuskers, for they are denied the practice they badly need. A continuance of this inclement weather will put them in extremely bad shape for the Kansas meeting. The Jayhawkers now are in much better shape for playing fast ball than the Cornhuskers are. They were away on a trip last week and are in good condition. The Cornhuskers on the other hand have had little practice since they returned from their eastern trip over two weeks ago. They need two or three days' stiff work to get them into trim again.

CLASSES WILL BE EXCUSED.

Competitive Drill is Held the Day Before Examinations Start.

All classes will be excused tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 6 o'clock for competitive drill, which will be held at the state farm.

The five companies which participate have been working hard for the past few days getting into shape for the contest. Overtime drill has become the rule. Seven o'clock is rather early for the average student, yet at this time many mornings of late a company or more frequently a part of a company has drilled in the endeavor to gain a little extra proficiency in the art of drill. One of the companies, it is reported, marched to the state farm and back on Monday evening.

If the weather clears, a good crowd is expected at the annual competitive drill as this is one of the popular events of the year. As the examinations commence on Friday, however, many who have any "cramming" to do will probably be unable to attend.

NINTH DENTAL COMMENCEMENT.

THE CHORUS AT CONVOCATION.

To Give Selections From "The Creation" on Thursday.

Thursday morning at convocation, the university chorus will give a musical program. The chorus has been working upon selections from "The Creation" for this program and is expected to give those who attend some exceptionally fine music.

The organization will be assisted by the string quartet. The program will be as follows:

Selections from "The Creation" by the university chorus, the string quartet, and soloists; Miss Abbott, Mr. Enyeart, and Mr. Miller.

CORNHUSKERS ALL DISPOSED OF.

Only Twenty-five Copies Not Given Out Last Evening.

Only twenty-five copies of the 1909 Cornhusker remained in the hands of the management last night for distribution this morning. These will be given out at 8:45 this morning and it is expected that the rush will be heavy since a large number of students desire copies of the book.

INVITATION FOR UNI

FACULTY AND STUDENTS ARE INVITED TO MORTON HOME.

JOY MORTON TO BE THE MOST

EXTENDS GREAT COURTESY TO UNIVERSITY PEOPLE.

If Party of Eighty Will Go Saturday, June 5, a Special Train Will be Engaged for the Entire Day's Outing.

Joy Morton, son of J. Sterling Morton, and present owner of Arbor Lodge at Nebraska City, has extended to the faculty and students of the university an invitation to visit his home Saturday, June 5. Arrangements are being made for an excursion from Lincoln on that date and it is hoped to make the occasion a gala day.

The invitation of Mr. Morton comes to the university through Dean Burnett of the college of agriculture. The dean, A. A. Reed and E. H. Clark are acting as a committee to perfect arrangements for the excursion and they desire that all students who can take the trip to notify them as soon as possible. If a hundred students and faculty members go, a special train will be engaged to leave Lincoln at 8:30 in the morning and return at 6:30 p. m. Some students will be at cadet camp at Ashland at the time set for the excursion, but it is believed that there will be a considerable number who will be in Lincoln with sufficient time to go to Nebraska City for the day.

Luncheon Offered.

It is understood that Mr. Morton intends to entertain the university people royally while they are his guests. He recently visited the university as a guest of the agricultural college and at that time he was much pleased with the reception accorded him. He now plans to give the university an entertainment which will convince the students that he feels grateful for the courtesy shown him. A luncheon at the Morton home is understood to be on the program and the guests will be conducted through the grounds of the estate.

Arbor Lodge is probably the most beautiful home in Nebraska and the university students who go to Nebraska City Saturday will go convinced that they can have a good time. The Morton home is an artistic piece of architecture and the grounds about it show acres of woodland, excellently fitted for an enjoyable outing.

A Unique Occasion.

The invitation of Mr. Morton is a unique event in the history of the university. So far as is known, no such invitation has ever been tendered to the students or faculty of the university in the past. The peculiar position occupied by the Morton family in Nebraska makes the invitation all the more acceptable. J. Sterling Morton was probably the most widely known citizen of Nebraska during his lifetime, with the possible exception of Mr. Bryan during the last few years. His sons have all been prominent in financial and political affairs and their prominence has reflected on the state.

Students who will join the party on June 5 are requested to notify Dean Burnett, A. A. Reed, or E. H. Clark, as soon as possible. The fare for the round trip will be $2.32.

Notice—Ivy Day Medals.

Winners of Ivy Day medals are requested to call at Dr. Clapp's office today to receive their trophies.
