For the first time in the history of the Cornhusker the whole of the edition has been sold and the demand has exceeded the supply. This certainly looks well for the increasing school spirit at Nebraska and it is to be hoped that it is due to something deeper than merely temporary causes.

The convocation this morning will be the last of the year and will be as well, one of the finest musical programs that has been offered. An unusually large number of musicians will take part in it and the nature of the selections is such that they are peculiarly impressive. If the program were to be given in the evening and a large admission fee charged, the capacity of the chapel would be taxed to accommodate the crowd. Nebraska students will do well to show their appreciation of the effort that has been made in preparation of this program by making this last convocation the best attended of the year.

The university has received a unique invitation from Mr. Morton to visit Arbor Lodge and be his guests for the day of June 5th. This is the first time that the university body has received such an invitation from a Nebraska citizen and it should be accepted by the university body in the spirit in which it is given. The cost of making the trip will be but slight and a magnificent outing will be given to every student that takes advantage of it. A party of eighty must be secured and all those who desire to go should notify Dean Burnett, A.
A. Reed, or E. H. Clark as soon as possible.

A WORTHY MOVEMENT.

The question of making arrangements in the new athletic field for the accommodation of girls' sports is now being actively agitated and is being pushed by a number of different organizations. It has received the support of those in charge of physical education for women and both Manager Enger and Doctor Clapp have expressed themselves as favorable to the movement. With such support as this the movement ought to be successful in accomplishing its object and should result in a real benefit to the different branches of athletics in which the girls of the university are interested.

There is no doubt but that the movement is one that deserves the fullest measure of success. No adequate provision has ever been made in the past for the accommodating of girls' sports and there can be no reason why they are not just as deserving of support as any other branch of athletics.

At the present time there is no athletic field for either the men or the women and now is the natural time for some new arrangement to be started. With all plans for the new field as yet only partly formulated it should be possible for some arrangement to be made that would be satisfying to all people concerned.

At many other state universities the provision for exercise on the part of both the men and the women is much more extensive than at the University of Nebraska. At the University of California they are now trying to get a new field for the exclusive use of those who are not members of any of the regular university teams. Such an idea is not possible at Nebraska, because of a lack of the necessary funds, but the best possible accomodation of all interests can be kept in mind in the arrangement of the new field.

A NEW FELONY.

Nebraska has felt the gentle longing to break forth with song with the advent of the warm spring days, but it has remained for Wisconsin to develop the fever to the point that requires legislative action. The tortures of the drowsy ones who find their slumbers interrupted by the bursts of song that float on the still night air have grown so acute at Wisconsin that the Daily Cardinal has protested in a lengthy editorial. The editorial is in part quoted below:

"It is becoming the custom for parties strolling home at half past midnight to lift up their voices in the exuberance of that spring feeling and attempt to sing.

"The attempt has only moderate success. The objection is not so much to the way they sing as to the things they sing. There is a certain lack of variety in the selections. Every bunch every night sings the same old chestnuts with the inevitableness of fate.
If they sang things that were positively antique it wouldn't be so bad. We might stand for the Merry Widow waltz song and After the Ball and the Last Link is Broken; such have a certain historic interest. What they do sing are songs that have been overused just enough to produce the maximum psychic irritation possible to human mentality.

"It is susceptible of statistical demonstration that 'I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now,' has been sung 7,862 times along State street in the last two weeks. We have heard 'Jungle Town' exactly 6,789 times and 'Cuddle Up a Little Closer,' is a close third.

"Something drastic must be enacted to avoid violence being done one of these nights by a pajama-clad mob.
The legislature is taking an embarrassing interest in student affairs just now. We suggest as an immediate necessity that they make 'Jungle Town' a misdemeanor; 'I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now,' a felony and 'Honest Little Girl I Am Strong For You,' a capital offense.

The Syracuse Intercollegiate was held last Thursday. Eleven schools took part. Medals valued at $25, $15, and $10 were awarded the winning schools.

The Northwestern girls have busted themselves and will get out the annual woman's edition of the Northwestern. Miss Ruth Cady is editor-in-chief.

The Daily Princetonian beat the Cornell Sun in baseball last Friday, and the Tiger beat the Widow. The score were 17 to 5 and 5 to 3 respectively.

Happenings of the Past

Seven Years Ago.

One of the largest mass meetings ever held in Memorial hall was called together for the purpose of protesting against Chancellor Andrews' proposed departure to Wisconsin. Resolutions were adopted urging the chancellor to remain at Nebraska.

Six Years Ago.

The last issue of the Daily Nebraskan was devoted to a summary of all that had been accomplished in each department of the university during the semester.

Five Years Ago.

The year book of the college of law came out with a deficit of $104.04.
According to arrangements the editor was forced to bear the total deficit.

Four Years Ago.

The University of Nebraska defeated Iowa in the deciding matches in the tennis doubles. Iowa had previously been defeated only by Chicago.

Three Years Ago.

The honorary debating fraternity Delta Sigma Dho was installed at the University of Nebraska.

One Year Ago.

Minnesota was defeated by Nebraska in a dual track meet at Lincoln by the score of 84 to 28. The meet was an overwhelming victory for Nebraska.

SENIORS GET THEMES.

Students who are not to be in the university after this year may get themes they have submitted in rhetoric 1, 2, and other courses by filling out the blank for the purpose on the writing table in the rhetoric hallway.
Themes by members of the class of 1909 not asked for by June 3 may be destroyed.
