NEBRASKA MAN COACH FOR WISCONSIN TEAM

JOHNSON, COLORED STAR, GIVES SERVICES TO BADGERS.

GRINNELL TEAM SLOW TO LEARN GAME

Chicago Stirred Up Over Story That Conspiracy Exists to Injure Her Interests for the Big Eight.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Johnson, a colored football player, for three years star end on the University of Nebraska football team, has offered his services gratis to the University of Wisconsin athletic department to help develop the ends of the Badger eleven. Johnson is now a student in the university law school, but there is a hitch in the procedure coming from the law school faculty that may keep the colored star off Camp Randall field.

Grinnell Snow.

By WALTER K. ECKERSALL.
Grinnell, Ia., Oct. 7.—Working under adverse conditions, Coach Dan Dougherty is endeavoring to develop a football team at Grinnell which may and running frequently to water pails. Strenuous efforts are being made to do away with this disagreeable feature. A new field is in course of construction. It will be ready for the outdoor season next year. A concrete grand stand will be erected on one side and this will be equipped with dressing rooms for home and visiting teams. The new field already is surrounded by a third of a mile track which is considered to be extremely fast. A 220-yard straightaway also has been built, and at present track is the leading school sport.

A noticeable feature at this college is the lack of spirit shown toward football. At today's scrimmage there were several likely looking students on the side lines who might develop into good football players, but for some unknown reasons they would not turn out for the team. They belong to the class which stands on the side lines and criticises the playing of those who are trying to uphold the athletic honor of their institution. There were a number of such fanatics present at today's practice.

Grinnell was one of the first colleges in Iowa, if not in this section of the country, to play football. In years gone by this little college was represented by football teams which won from everything in this locality. Twenty-nine games have been played successfully compete with elevens representing other institutions in this state.

Scarcely enough candidates for two teams appeared on Ward field this afternoon for practice. Most of them were awkward appearing and did not look like the material which is striving for positions on the Ames and Drake elevens. The players do not show that spirit in their work which is so essential in the development of a good football team.

They practice in a mechanical sort of way, which leads one to believe they really dislike to take part in the popular college sport and that their presence on the field is compulsory instead of voluntary.

Although strides are being taken to develop athletics on a greater plan here, the conditions now are extremely bad. There are no accommodations for spectators around the gridiron, who have to stand around the wire fence and obtain as good a view as possible. The gridiron is soft and covered with little turf.

This afternoon the weather was quite warm for football and after a scrimmage, it was hard to see the players in the clouds of dust. This continual inhaling of dirt does the players anything but good. They showed its effects by tiring quickly with Drake, and honors are about even between these ancient football rivals.

Chicago Worried.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Rumors that Michigan is at the bottom of a deep, dark plot to alienate the athletic affections of eight universities from their former cordial relations with the University of Chicago are not feared by Director A. A. Stagg.

Coach Stagg yesterday said he had no faith in the report. He said he could not believe the Wolverines were capable of effecting any such transformation and that he did not think any such idea has entered the minds of authorities at Ann Arbor.

"It is a report typical of the kind we have heard so frequently from Michigan," said Stagg yesterday, "but like most of them, it is not authentic. It appears weird and hazy to me. From the serious point of view, it is not worth consideration."

After dismissing this subject thus summarily, Stagg proceeded to talk on a matter "nearer to earth," as he expressed it. In fact, it is doubtful if anything that happens can draw his attention away from the fact that Jimmy Sheldon's Hoosiers are to be met Saturday.

Brands Story as Untrue.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 7.—Wisconsin athletic officials know absolutely nothing of the reported athletic coalition of Michigan and other western universities against Chicago. Athletic Director Hutchins branded the story as an idle rumor.

George Huff of the University of Illinois read the Ann Arbor dispatch describing the coalition against Chicago with a broad smile adorning his face. It was all news to the local athletic heads, who did not take the story seriously. With Chicago and Illinois natural rivals in all forms of sport, it is a joke to include the Illini in any such tale. While Illinois has not competed with Michigan since the Wolverines left the conference, there is a friendly feeling toward Michigan and all rooters are pulling for a resumption of the traditional baseball rivalry next spring.

Williams Denies Rumors.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 7.—The rumor of the coalition of certain colleges against Chicago is flatly denied by Coach Williams, as far as Minnesota is concerned. The Gopher coach says strong rivalry exists between Minnesota and Chicago, but with the most friendly relations, and Minnesota would not be a party to a league against Chicago. With Chicago holding the championship, naturally the game with the Maroons is regarded as the biggest contest of the season for the Gophers.

Michigan Not Party to It.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 7.—Director Partelme in a statement issued tonight denies emphatically that Michigan is a party to any athletic coalition. He stated he had not heard any one in authority at college mention the matter nor heard from any one in authority from any institution suggesting a coalition of any nature whatsoever.

Michigan.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 7.—Yost's first setback came today when the faculty announced that "Dutch" Wenner, after honors on the varsity, would not be taken from probation, which means he cannot participate in athletics. The students and athletic authorities are aroused and say it is unjust. Wenner played on probation as end of last year's team. He removed his "cons," went to the summer school, and now is up in his studies. The case may be taken up to the university regents. Wenner has been alternated with Berard at half and looked good to land the position. Tonight Wenner left for Syracuse, where he looks for a fair deal. Although the varsity scored only two touchdowns against the scrubs in half an hour, the team looked better than in other years.

Iowa Profits by Drubbing.

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 7.—Iowa is profiting greatly by the drubbing received at Minneapolis last week. Tonight's practice, according to Coach Griffith, was the best of the year, and the men showed plainly that they remembered some of the things taught by the Gophers. Griffith tried a new lineup with success tonight. Dyer went in at half; Ehret, a half, was sent to tackle, displacing Hull; Collins, out on a "charley horse" furlough, came back; Hazard was put in at full back, where he played two years ago and did great work. Iowa plays Cornell of Mount Vernon on Saturday.
