SECRET PRACTICE FOR COACH COLE'S PUPILS

FIRST WORK OF SEASON BEHIND CLOSED GATES YESTERDAY.

THE LINE-UP FOR TOMORROW'S GAME

Franck Expected to Play a Good Game With Bentley and Beltzer as Other Probable Stars.

BULLETINS OF GAME.
The Nebraska Telephone Company will receive detailed reports of the Minnesota-Nebraska game over their long distance lines. A field diagram will be located in front of the office of the company on Thirtieth street just south of O, and bulletins will be announced here.

RODEMACHER

Minnesota Right End, Who is Counted Upon to Make Some Good Gains Around the Cornhusker Line.

Secret practice, the first of the year, was held at the State Farm yesterday afternoon. For more than two hours the varsity men were sent through a stiff signal practice, perfecting the plays that are to be used against Minnesota next Saturday.

Everything is in readiness for the big game, and when the whistle blows for the kick-off tomorrow afternoon, Coach Cole will have a team on the field in almost perfect condition. The team as it is today looks far stronger than it has at any time this season. There is no comparison between the team that played South Dakota two weeks ago and the one Coach Cole will send against the Gophers tomorrow afternoon.

There was no hard scrimmage for the varsity yesterday. With his team in almost perfect condition, Cole is taking no chances of crippling up any of his men before the game. He is anxious to win and is going to send the team into the game in as near perfect condition as possible.

Hopes in Franck.

In yesterday's practice much attention was given to place kicking by Franck. Last Saturday Franck kicked two goals from placement out of a possible three, and the ball was slip-

Prof. Stevens' New Nebraska Song

Come a runnin', boys,
Don't you hear the noise?
Like the thunder in the sky,
How it rolls along
In a good old song,
From the sons of Nebraski.

Then come on, boys, up and at them,
For we know you are the team,
And 'twill always stir the Cornhusker
Our old scarlet and the cream.

Now it's coming near
With a rising cheer
That will sweep all foes away.
So with all our vim
We have got to win,
And we've got to win today.

For Nebraska and the Scarlet,
For Nebraska and the Cream,
Though they go through many a battle,
Our old colors may be seen.

pery and hard to handle at that. With a perfect day tomorrow Franck ought to be able to repeat the trick more than once, should Nebraska be able to get within striking distance of Minnesota's goal.

The line has taken a brace the past week and looks strong enough to give the Minnesota backs much trouble if they attempt to gain by line plunges.

The back field is causing the most worry. Both Beltzer and Franck are excellent half backs, but it is doubtful whether either of them will be able to stand the full game. Bentley at quarter will probably have to be relieved by Hascall before the end of the game. So far Rathbone is the only candidate for full back. Sturtz-negger is the only eligible sub back field man who is showing any class. He will undoubtedly break into tomorrow's game.

Ewing Out.

The line was further strengthened yesterday by the return of "Tub" Ewing. Ewing played guard last year and was one of the best defensive men on the squad. He was expected to do great work this fall, but up to the present he has been unable, like many other good men, to get his credits straightened out. The matter has been finally arranged to everyone's satisfaction, and Ewing is now out for good, much to the joy of everyone connected with Nebraska football. Ewing was used at guard and tackle in yesterday's practice. He will hardly get into the game tomorrow, owing to his not being in condition.

The game tomorrow is to be called at three o'clock. Special trains will be run on the Rock Island that will afford accommodations to everyone desiring to see the game. These trains will leave at 8:30 and 8:45 a. m.; returning, leave Omaha at 8:35 and 11:15 p. m. The regular fare will be charged, it being impossible to secure reduced rates.

Nebraska will line up in tomorrow's game as follows:

Johnson	L. E.
Harte	L. T.
Wenstrand	L. G.
Shonka	C.
Elliott	R. G.
Temple	R. T.
Magor	R. E.
Bentley	Q. B.
Beltzer (capt.)	L. H.
Franck	R. H.
Rathbone	F. B.

NEBRASKANS IN FOURTH PLACE.

Stock Judging Team Returns From Kansas City With Honors Won.

The students' judging team, which was sent to the Royal American live stock show in Kansas City, returned home Wednesday. The expert judges placed the team fourth among the contesting teams. Nebraska's total points were just five points below the Kansas team. The members of the Nebraska team were V. S. Culver, R. H. Camp, O. H. Liebers, J. McKillip and J. B. Kuska.

The men judged classes of horses, mules, cattle, hogs and sheep. In about half the classes the reasons had to be given for the placings. V. S. Culver ranked sixth among all the students entered and won a prize of $10.

GOPHER FRAT MEN LIKE NEBRASKA FOOTBALL

INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE OF MINNESOTA IS HERE.

WILL LOOK INTO FRATS; FOOTBALL TOO

Professor Nicholson and Assistants Come From Minneapolis to Inspect Frat Men on Coach Cole's Squad.

E. E. Nicholson, associate professor of chemistry of the University of Minnesota, and two graduate students of that institution are in Lincoln this week inspecting fraternity conditions at the University of Nebraska. They are sent by the regents of the Gopher school to gain data to be used in a probable reorganization of the fraternity system at Minnesota.

Professor Nicholson is an old Nebraska man, a graduate of the class of 1893. Since leaving Nebraska he has been a prominent member of the Gopher faculty. Incidentally he has had much to do with Minnesota athletics. He is a close friend of "Doc" Williams, the crafty coach of the Gopher team, and he is one of the "insiders" in Gopher football matters. He has had a considerable part in developing the Minnesota spirit which has been back of the teams sent against Nebraska from year to year, and he is intensely interested in the success of his school at the game in Omaha next Saturday.

Were at Iowa and Ames.

According to paragraphs in the student publications of Iowa and Ames a delegation from Minnesota visited those schools a week or two ago. These men came also from the regents to investigate fraternity conditions so that they might report to their institution. They visited the Iowa schools just a few days before the big football games between those institutions and the Gopher pupils of Coach Williams. Their inquiry there did not go deeply into fraternity conditions. In fact, the embassy appeared to be satisfied with extremely superficial information.

The same peculiarity which the Iowa men noticed was commented upon by some of the Nebraskans interviewed by the emissaries yesterday. The Minnesota men called upon several professors, and in at least two cases these men noticed that they did not seem to be very well informed upon the subject in hand.

"They seemed perfectly willing for me to do most of the talking," said one of the interviewed. "In fact, they did not seem to care to discuss the more technical features of the question at all. They rather sidestepped that feature."

Some Advantages.

Investigations ordered by the board of regents of a university are of course paid for by the university authorities. The Minnesota regents, for instance, pay the expenses of men sent upon fraternity investigations. Football spies are not paid by the regents. Such men must of necessity be paid out of a "slush" fund. It is said to be an extremely convenient measure when it is possible to have one committee do double duty. It saves money. Incidentally such an arrangement, if carried out by a university, enables its representatives to go about their business with more dignity than attains to the ordinary spy. Minnesota's fraternity investigation committee will remain in Lincoln until Saturday. It will then go to Omaha to investigate the fraternity representation at the football game.

OLD MEN IN UNIFORM MONDAY.

Members of the Battalion of Last Year to Be in Uniform for First Time This Year.

Orders have been given from the department of military science that all the members of the cadet battalion who drilled last year are to be in uniform Monday evening at the regular drill hour. The uniforms this year are to be the same as last year except for little extra red braid. The companies are to all have different colored neck scarfs. This later plan was also in vogue last year. The new men of the cadet battalion will not be in uniform before the first of November. At this time the entire battalion will be in complete uniform, tan shoes, leggings and olive drab uniforms.

MISS LABADIE AT THE TEMPLE.

Prominent Reader and Impersonator Will Appear Under the Auspices of the Dramatic Club.

Miss Harriet R. Labadie of Germantown, Pa., will appear at the Temple Theater next Thursday evening, October 21, under the auspices of the University Dramatic Club. When appearing here she will give "The Servant in the House," which has created such a sensation on the modern stage.

Miss Labadie is a reader and impersonator of considerable national reputation. She has appeared as a reader a number of times among the most refined circles of the national capital. At one of these times she appeared at entertainments given by a number of the prominent women of Washington, among whom were Mrs. Roosevelt.

BIG PARADE FEATURE IN OMAHA TOMORROW

TWO THOUSAND LINCOLNITES EXPECTED TO MARCH.

ENTHUSIASM AT RALLY YESTERDAY

Dr. Avery, Dr. Condra, Coach Cole, and Others Added Their Words to Music by Band and Yells by Students.

Two thousand students are to be in the parade tomorrow. This big parade of Nebraska students is to be held in Omaha immediately upon the arrival of the special train in that city. The students are to be formed in column two abreast and are to march up the main thoroughfare of the city. The band is to lead the demonstration. Following this will come the members of the Cornhusker team and then will come the good old varsity colors with a color guard. Following will be the loyal supporters of the Scarlet and Cream.

Leaving the union depot the parade will go north on Tenth street to Farnam. Turning west on Farnam the parade will march to the Henshaw hotel, where the team will have their headquarters. Here the varsity yells and songs will be given and in this part of the program the co-eds of the university are requested to take an active part.

The entire parade will be in charge of the Nebraska yell leaders, H. O. Perry, J. S. Elliott and S. A. Mahood. These men will act as marshals and will have entire charge of the formation of the parade and its route through the city. All the Nebraska rooters are requested to wear long scarlet and cream streamers, which are to be fastened on the shoulder. Any streamer shorter than a yard will be barred.

Everyone is requested to give to the yell leaders their heartiest co-operation to make the parade a grand and glorious success. Join in when the yells are asked for and sing at the top of your voice when songs are on the program. Learn the football songs by heart and be able to sing them.

Program at the Game.

At the game the band will march onto the field, followed by the university colors with the color guard. The
