VARSITY DOES LIGHT WORK AFTER BIG GAME

MEN PUT THROUGH SIGNAL WORK AND EASY SCRIMMAGE.

JUNIOR CLASS TEAM START WORK

Third Year Men First of Class Organizations to Put Squad in the Field, With Dick Russell as Manager.

Still stiff and sore from the effects of the Minnesota game, the Cornhuskers have begun limbering up for the game with Iowa which comes off next Saturday.

All of the men with the exception of Bentley have practically recovered from the effects of Saturday's contest, but they are still taking it easy. Bentley suffered a severe wrench in the back in Saturday's game. So far he has not been out to practice, but he will be in shape for the Iowa game.

So far this week the varsity has been given light work. The first team have been running signals mostly, while the brunt of the scrimmage has fallen on the second varsity. On Monday the varsity did not scrimmage at all. Yesterday they were put through a little light work, but most of the time was spent in perfecting new formations.

Second Team Fight Scrubs.

Yesterday afternoon the second varsity were pitted against the scrubs. The teams were fairly evenly matched, but the varsity had slightly the advantage, making three touchdowns to the scrubs' two. Elliott and Dobson for the varsity played spectacular ball. Elliott especially distinguished himself by tearing up the scrub defense.

The scrubs have been given a new set of signals this week on the order of the Iowa offense. They consist chiefly of tackle around formations. These plays will be used against the varsity line this week to give them some acquaintance with the Iowa style of offense.

Nebraska ought to have no trouble in winning next Saturday's contest. So far this season Iowa has not made a very good showing. Coach Griffith, however, may spring a surprise similar to the Cornhusker stunt of last Saturday.

New Back-Field Man.

Lofgren is back in the game this week and is playing quarter on the varsity. Coach Cole is making every shift possible to try to build up a strong back-field. With Franck playing half there is only one man who can be depended on to hold down the quarter back position. Bentley was injured in Saturday's game and Lofgren and Hascall may be called on for Saturday's game.

The junior class team were out for their regular practice yesterday. So far they are the only team out. The sophomores will have a strong team, but owing to the lateness of the election of a president they will probably be slow in getting out. Some dissatisfaction is being expressed at the present method of giving the manager power to choose the members of the team, and some other method may be devised.

acters in a charming manner. She has achieved a highly gratifying success as a dramatic artist of the most refined type. She has appeared before assemblies, critical to a fine degree, in culture of the art and in the portrayal of situations and characters that tend to intellectual elevation.

The entertainment is given under the auspices of the University Dramatic Club, and those in charge urge every student who can be present at one of the most pleasing entertainments of the season. The regular price of seats is $1, but a special rate of 50 cents has been made to students.

Oberlehrer Dr. Kiepert, from the Oberrealschule at Berlin, Germany, is at the University of Chicago, with the dual purpose of making a study of American educational institutions and of giving a short course of instruction. Dr. Kiepert has come to the United States for an eight-months' stay, at the behest of the Carnegie Foundation, which arranges for an American teacher to give instruction in one of the German schools of equal rank in exchange. While at the University of Chicago, Dr. Kiepert will teach in the school of education and in the university high school.

TRYOUTS FOR DEBATING SQUAD ARE HELD TODAY

TWENTY-EIGHT MEN SEEK PLACE IN RHETORIC 22.

WILL BE DIVIDED INTO TWO SECTIONS

Fourteen of the Contestants Will Speak in the Afternoon at 4 and the Same Number at 7:15 in the Evening.

The try-outs to be held this afternoon and evening for the places on the intercollegiate debating squad promise to be better than anything of the kind held at Nebraska for many years. Twenty-eight aspirants for places on the squad will hold forth their views on the question of an income tax and from the impromptu debating being held on the campus it is believed that some keen specimens of argumentation will be produced at the try-out.

The afternoon preliminary will be held at four o'clock in University Hall 106, at which time fourteen of the contestants will speak. The evening preliminaries will open at 7:15 o'clock in Memorial Hall and the remaining fourteen men will speak. The difficulty in securing the desired judges at any other time caused the division of the squad into afternoon and evening sections.

Income Tax Question.

The question to be discussed at the preliminaries is the one chosen by the debating league of which Nebraska is a member. Stated fully, the question reads: "Resolved, that a graduated income tax with an exemption of incomes below $5,000 per annum, would be a desirable modification of the system of federal taxation."

The men chosen tonight will become members of the university debating squad from which the debaters to meet Minnesota and Iowa will be chosen. As soon as they are chosen the members of the squad, or Rhetoric 22, will begin the work of the year under Professor M. M. Fogg.

The debates held this afternoon and this evening are open to the public. The judges who have been chosen for the try-outs are as follows: Dean William C. Hastings of the college of law; Professor George Elliott Howard, head professor of political science and sociology, and Professor W. G. L. Taylor, head professor of political economy and commerce.

Debates Dec. 10.

The intercollegiate debates will be held this year December 10. Nebraska will debate with Minnesota at Lincoln and with Iowa at Iowa City. This is the fourth year of the debating league and will compete the cycle of debates between the four schools, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Nebraska, comprising the league. Last year Nebraska defeated Illinois at Lincoln by a unanimous vote of the judges. At Wisconsin she was defeated.

The members of the team who will be picked tonight after the close of the debate will be announced tomorrow morning in the Daily Nebraskan. The speakers participating in the contest follow:

WAR OF THE ROSES IS NOW ON IN UNIVERSITY

Y. W. C. A. GIRLS START BOOM FOR 300 NEW MEMBERS.

TO MAKE NEBRASKA BIGGEST BUNCH

If Campaign is Successful, University of Nebraska Will Have Largest Association in the Country.

The War of the Roses is on. Led by Commander-in-Chief Beulah Jennings, the Y. W. C. A. has begun a campaign for 300 new members. They must have them by November 2, when the contest closes. Two teams have been selected to fight for the honor of gaining the most members in the given time. One side has chosen the red rose as its insignia and the other side the white rose. Each will battle desperately to win victory.

The campaign was started last night when a council of war was held at the room in the Temple. The cabinet girls entertained the teams and their officers and a pleasant evening was spent laying plans and discussing methods of attack. The time allowed to get the 300 members is only two weeks. At the end the losing team has promised to entertain the winners at a feed in the Temple.

The Two Armies.

The two armies and their officers are as follows: Commander-in-Chief, Beulah Jennings. General for the red side, Beulah Rader; first lieutenant, Amanda Clement; second lieutenant, Vera Barger; third lieutenant, Stella Hardy; privates, Katy Kinsman, Cecilia Stenger, Thankful Spaulding, Mabel McVey, Hattie Rollings and Eleanor Mitchell. General for the white side, Janet Cameron; first lieutenant, Katherine Hole; second lieutenant, Florence Davis; third lieutenant, Bertha Luckey; privates, Fay Osterhaut, Arma Williams, Neil Drake, Breta Bills, Annie Fry and Alma Miller.

The numbers secured will be posted for both sides each morning at the Y. W. C. A. rooms and at the library. Nebraska now ranks with Minnesota and Berkeley Universities at the head of college associations. If the young ladies are successful in their campaign they will have without doubt the largest college association in the United States.

It is hoped that every young lady in the university will take an interest in this contest and boost for the association whether a member or not. Anyone securing a member can give the card to one of the teams and it will count. A great deal of hard work will be necessary on account of the short time of the contest.

Hugh Wilson, '97, formerly a resident of Lincoln, has left Salida, Colo., where he was for two or three years assistant superintendent of the second division of the Denver & Rio Grande, to take a railroad position at Sausalito, Cal. Recently the employes of Mr. Wilson's department in Colorado, especially conductors and trainmen, who held Mr. Wilson in such high esteem, made up a purse and bought a handsome watch for him and sent with the gift several letters expressing the hope that he would reach the highest position in his profession. Mr. Wilson left school in Lincoln to begin work at the bottom. He started as a section hand on the Burlington road in the Black Hills, and after obtaining promotion became a division superintendent of the Missouri Pacific White River line and later entered the employ of the Denver & Rio Grande. His home was at Normal, a suburb of Lincoln.
