FIRST OF UNIVERSITY DANCES HELD TONIGHT

SOPHOMORE HOP INAUGURATES THE WINTER SERIES.

USUAL NUMBER OF SOCIAL AFFAIRS

Indications That Past Difficulties in Bunching Dances and in Unnecessary Crowding Will Be Avoided.

The dancing season for the university will be opened tonight at Fraternity hall with the sophomore hop. The hop is in charge of President Thomas and in all probability will be well attended. Walt's orchestra will furnish the music.

With the opening of the dancing season comes the recollection of that of last year, and the difficulty encountered by the management of the various dances in respect to dates. Last year the dances were all postponed until later in the year, when, as if everyone had awakened to the fact that the dances had been few and far between, the spring season opened with a regular avalanche of dances. As high as three university dances, as well as several sorority house parties were scheduled for one evening. Although one or two of the functions were postponed at the last minute, the inevitable result of this overcrowding was that a few of the dances lost money for their classes.

Many Dances.

The number and variety of university-class and society dances necessitates a scheduling of the parties so that the dates will not conflict in the least or some are sure to lose. The halls have to be scheduled each year far in advance. Last year much difficulty was encountered in this particular.

The halls at the disposal of the university for dancing purposes are the Lincoln hotel, Fraternity hall, Walsh hall, the Temple and the Armory. The Lincoln hotel dancing hall has been remodeled and redecorated and now presents the finest appearance of any hall for this purpose in this part of the country. It is in this hall that the higher class of university dances are always held.

The senior prom, the junior prom, the sophomore hop, the Pan Hellenic, and many other formal or semi-formal dances were held in the Lincoln last year. Whenever it is possible the other class dances are always held in Fraternity hall, which is fairly large, and which will accommodate most of the university dances. Some fault has been found with the management of some of the university dances on this score in the past. Announcements have been made by some managements that the sale of tickets would be limited to a number small enough for comfortable dancing and the purchaser of tickets on the supposition that he would attend an uncrowded dance would go only to find the hall packed to overflowing.

More Than Ever.

The number of dances seems to be increasing every year. Last year there were many more than the year before, and this year the indications are that there will be still more. The reason for this lies perhaps partly with the dancing public, which seems to be increasing with each year. And in addition to this the number of dances given by each class is increasing as well as the number of university societies giving dances.

Besides the regular university dances there are always a number of fraternity house dances and formal. The season for the fraternity hops will open this year about December 1st. The next university dance scheduled so far is the junior hop, which will be held November 12, at the Lincoln. J. E. Lawrence is chairman of the hop and no effort will be spared to make it one of the nicest affairs of the junior season. The junior prom committee will be announced at the class meeting this evening. The senior dances and their committees have not as yet been announced.

FRATS CUT OUT SUPPER TONIGHT

Greeks Will Eat Pot-Pie at Y. M. C. A. Feed.

Three of the fraternities of the university have decided to do away with dinner Saturday evening and attend the chicken pot-pie supper, given by the university Y. M. C. A. at St. Paul's church. The three fraternities are the Alpha Tau Omega, the Phi Kappa Psi and the Alpha Theta Chi.

Other fraternities who have not as yet taken any definite action will probably do the same.

Among the features of the supper will be music furnished by a quartette composed of Messrs. Wallace, Plum, Schiller and Nesbit. The banquet will be over promptly at eight o'clock.

Ed Rutledge will preside at the supper as toastmaster. S. A. Mahood and H. W. Potter of the student body, P. F. Clark, 1896-98, of the alumnus, and Professor Stuff of the faculty will be on the toast list. Chancellor Avery will also be present.

BIG RALLY YESTERDAY MORNING

Both Men and Girls Turn Out Well to Cheer Team on to Iowa Game.

The football rally yesterday morning drew a large crowd which was overflowing with enthusiasm and good nature. Memorial Hall was crowded and the girls were nearly as well represented as the men. Yells were given with vehemence, and everybody helped on the songs. The new song is fast being learned and is very popular. The stands will rise and sing this song with bared heads when the team comes onto the field next Saturday. The band was present and gave several selections, besides playing for the songs.

S. A. Mahood presented the speakers. Professor Caldwell, chairman of the athletic board, made the chief address. He thought the croakers had been silenced by the game with Minnesota. The cheering should not cease even in defeat, when the defeat was fair and by a better team. In closing, he asked for 200 men to meet him, with Professors Richards, Tuckerman and other members of the faculty to help clear the new athletic field of harmful articles too small to be raked off.

The other speakers were Assistant Coach Harvey and ex-Captain Glenn Mason. They pointed out the fact that Iowa considers this her big game and would rather win this contest than any other of the season. Yale Holland led the songs.
