SECRET PRACTICE NOW ORDER OF COACH COLE

START WORK ON SPECIAL PLAYS AGAINST KANSAS.

SOME NOVEL FORMATIONS ARE USED

Cole Plans Special Features to Tax
Defense of Jayhawkers and Lays Foundation for Nebraska Defense.

Secret practice in preparation for the Kansas game was begun last evening. The gates were closed and all suspicious looking characters removed from the inclosure. From now on till the big contest all visitors will be closely scrutinized and every effort will be made to keep Kansas spies from getting a line on the Cornhuskers.

So far this season Coach Cole has not been compelled to show his hand. The new plays he has up his sleeve have been carefully guarded and withheld from curious eyes. The idea uppermost in mind all year has been to beat Kansas, and to this end the team has been developed. So great is this desire that Coach Cole was content with a tie in last Saturday's contest and even took a chance of losing the game when, had he discovered his hand, and used some of his open field tactics, a victory would almost have been certain.

Cole has a variety of trick plays and forward passes that will keep the Jayhawkers guessing at all times. Some of these have been developed in the practice more or less all season, but have not been used in any of the contests. These will be tried out and developed this week.

New Line Attack.

But along with this open field work, Cole promises something startling in line bucks. An entirely new and rather novel line of attack is being planned that bids fair to tear the Jayhawker line to pieces. Cole is not indifferent to the fact that he has one of the most powerful and dependable lines that ever wore the Scarlet and Cream. On defense work the line has shown that it cannot be excelled by anything in the west. But may not this great defensive machine be put to some use as an offensive one and beat the Jayhawkers at their own game?

Saturday's contest with Iowa revealed the latent powers of this great offensive machine, and then Cole's scheme was only partly perfected. The way the Nebraskans plowed through the Iowa line for from fifteen to twenty yards at a time looks well for the success of the machine when it is perfected, and when it is, look out, you Jayhawkers.

In yesterday's scrimmage the freshmen tried out some of the Kansas plays against the varsity. The play was rather ragged on both sides. At times the varsity showed great form and again they appeared to slump. On defensive work the varsity was strong. The freshmen were given the ball on the one-yard line and failed to put it over.

During the contest, however, the freshman backs and ends broke through and spoiled plays several times. On one of these Warner broke through, caused Haecall to fumble and then ran over fifty yards for a touch-down. Again when the varsity had the ball on the freshman five-yard line the backs broke through and secured the ball on a fumble and carried it half way down the field before they were finally stopped by the varsity.

Hospital Squad Growing.

Another addition to the hospital list was made last night. Chauner, right end for the varsity, received a severe kick in the jaw during one of the scrimmages. He lost one tooth

"We Must Beat Kansas"

If the following is a fair example of the "new Missouri spirit," Kansas is in for an awful bad time Thanksgiving day. This was regaled off at a mass meeting of the students of Columbia, Mo., last week. Dr. J. A. Gibson is the perpetrator and the University Missourian printed it:

"Beat Kansas."

The shades of night were falling fast,
When through a western city past
A dog, whose name was Cyanide,
A button to his collar tied—
"Beat Kansas."

He saw through windows all alight
The household fires gleam warm and bright,
But rushing onward through the dark
He only gave a savage bark,
"Beat Kansas."

"Oh, stay," the maiden said, "and rest,"
And clutched him wildly to her breast.
He struggled from her tender clasp
And fiercely answered, with a gasp,
"Beat Kansas."

The Jayhawk pig met Cyanide,
But Cy rushed on, with the pig inside.
He swallowed the pig at a single bite
And yelped again, in wild delight,
"Beat Kansas."

His tail curled up, his ears hung down,
His coat was trimmed in golden brown,
His eyes glowed like a living spark;
At every leap he gave a bark,
"Beat Kansas."

Hope not to win, the old man said,
"Our Tigers can't come out ahead;
Too many times in vain they've tried."
But still that savage bark replied,
"Beat Kansas."

"Beware the pass, the onside kick,
"Beware of every Jayhawk trick."
This was the coach's last remark,
A growl replied, afar, in the dark,
"Beat Kansas."

and had several others jarred loose. While the jaw was not broken it was a very severe jolt and he was taken to the sanitarium for treatment last evening.

VARSITY TEAM TO ATTEND SHOW

Nebraska Football Team Guests of Honor at "The Sham" Tonight.

In response to a personal invitation made the Nebraska football team by a friend of Coach "King" Cole who is playing in the cast of "The Sham," the varsity squad will attend that production at the Oliver tonight.

The invitation comes to Coach Cole and the Nebraska boys from one of the company. He is a great friend of the former Michigan end who is now rounding the Cornhusker eleven into shape for the Kansas game, and for this reason he extends the treat to the bunch. The men will attend in a body and will be given seats in the lower part of the house.

It is presumed that university students will take advantage of the occasion offered to hold a rousing impromptu celebration between acts. In all probability the gallery gods will do some yelling stunts for the Nebraska team that will cause past Oliver efforts to pale into insignificance.

TRY-OUTS WILL BE HELD SOON.

Cornhusker Cross Country Squad to Go to Chicago November Twentieth.

Try-outs will soon be held for the members of the cross country squad which is to take part in the intercollegiate meet in Chicago on November 20th. The meet will be held in Jackson Park, and is to be held on the day of the Wisconsin-Chicago football game. This holding of the meet on the day of Chicago's last big game is an old custom and will be adhered to this year.

Dr. Clapp expects to put out a winning team for Nebraska this year. This will not be a new thing for the Cornhuskers, however, as the winning streak in cross country has shown in Nebraska's representatives to the meet for the past few years. This year two try-outs will be held for the cross country men, instead of one as in former years. The exact date of these try-outs has not as yet been announced, but as the meet itself comes on November 20th, they will of necessity have to come soon.

ANNUAL SENIOR FEED TO BE HELD SATURDAY

UPPER CLASSMEN HOLD FIRST ANNUAL SOCIAL FUNCTION.

AN EVENT TO BETTER CLASS SPIRIT

Seniors to Gather at Grove South of College View for General Good
Time and Better Acquaintance.

The annual feed of the senior class will be held next Saturday morning, being in the nature of a breakfast. The breakfasts which the members of the senior class hold annually are for various purposes. The main one of these purposes is to increase in the class a spirit of friendliness and afford a chance for the members of the class to become better acquainted with each other.

Last year the members of the senior class journeyed to the woods west of the asylum and there spent the morning in games and also partook of a big feed cooked in old-fashioned campfire style.

First Senior Affair.

The annual breakfast which will be held Saturday morning will be the first senior affair of the present school year, and it is urged upon every member of the class to be present. It is also urged by the members of the committee in charge of the stunt that all the members of the class take an interest in affairs of this kind which the class may hold in the future. The breakfast affords an excellent opportunity for the members of the class to become acquainted with each other, early in the school year and in this way all the other affairs that the class may hold will be more enjoyed by everyone.

The breakfast Saturday morning will be held at College View in the grove about one mile south of the town. Special cars will leave Eleventh and O streets at 7 o'clock for the accommodation of those who wish to attend this affair. The committee in charge promises those who come that there will be plenty to eat for everybody, and that various amusements have been arranged for the morning's entertainment. The tickets for this occasion may be purchased of any of the members of the committee. The price of the tickets is 35 cents, which does not include car fare. The members of the committee are L. E. Morgan, chairman; Marie Von Goetz, Bertha Neil, Harry Villars, Don Smith, Grace Kimmel, A. La Chappell and K. F. Warner.

More Class Spirit.

It has been urged in the past that the members of the senior class meet each other more often and get better acquainted, thus encouraging and strengthening the class spirit. The only possible way for this to be accomplished is for the members of the class to meet each other at social functions of this sort. All the students of the university look to the increasing of the class spirit in the senior class as an example, and if for no other reason than this the members of the class of 1910 are urged to be present at the senior breakfast Saturday morning.

It has been rumored that the members of the junior class will attempt to hold a similar stunt in the near future, the nature of which is yet undecided by the members of the social committee. This plan if it is successful will go one step further in increasing the class spirit in the university. The members of the freshmen and sophomore classes have their annual Olympics, but only in social functions of the nature of the senior breakfast can this spirit be continued among the members of the two upper classes.

FRESHMAN CLASS MEETS TODAY.

Minor Officers to Be Elected and Other Business Transacted.

The freshman class will meet at 11:30 this morning in Memorial Hall to complete the class organization by the election of officers other than the president. President Wherry, who was elected at the meeting held last week, will preside. It is understood that some committee announcements are likely.

The officers to be elected this morning are vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and sergeant-at-arms. Owing to the fact of the late announcement of the election, it is especially urged that each freshman make an effort to attend the meeting.

NEBRASKAN WRITES PAMPHLET.

Former Student of the State University Writes on Subject of Interest to the Government.

A pamphlet has been recently issued by the United States department of agriculture, written by L. L. Harter, who graduated from the university in 1903, and has since been employed by the government in the department of agriculture. Mr. Harter at present occupies the position of assistant pathologist of the department and is meeting with excellent success. The subject which he discusses in this pamphlet, though a very peculiar one, is of a great deal of interest to the cold storage concerns. The subject which Mr. Harter discusses is "The Decay of Cabbage in Storage, and Its Cause and Prevention."

NEBRASKA TEACHERS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

EDUCATORS FROM OVER STATE
COME TO LINCOLN.

UNIVERSITY WILL RUN EXCURSIONS

Booker T. Washington and Many Other
Prominent Speakers Will Address
Meeting—To Be Strongest
Session Ever Held.

The Nebraska State Teachers' Association will hold its annual meeting in Lincoln, November 3, 4 and 5. The meeting will be the forty-fourth annual session of the association.

The program for this year's session is of better quality and more in line with the ideas of progressive education than any ever before held. Several new lines of work are being included in this year's program, one of these being the introduction of a department of physical culture or gymnasium work.

The university, as the state's largest institution of education, naturally plays an important part in the annual sessions of the teachers' association. A large part of the high school teaching force of the state is composed of graduates from Nebraska, and every effort will be made by the university to entertain the visitors while in the city.

Among the special devices which will be employed for this purpose the university will run excursions to any part of the university campus or the university farm at times convenient to the visitors. Besides this many of the meetings of the association will be held in the buildings of the campus.

Special Attractions.

The two special attractions of the session will be the art exhibit of the Nebraska Art Association in the art rooms of the library building and an industrial exhibit at the city Auditorium. The industrial exhibit will be open at all times during the meeting of the association and will consist of work done in the schools of the state. A liberal premium list has been provided for this exhibit.

Four banquets covering the entire membership of the association will be held at 6:30 o'clock on the evening of November 3. The one which will particularly interest university people is the college banquet. This banquet is for state university and college graduates, and Chancellor Avery will preside as toastmaster. Chancellor W. J. Davidson and Professor P. H. Grummann will act as masters of ceremonies.

There will also be two normal banquets and one normal training banquet. One of the normal banquets will be for Peru and Wayne graduates and the other for Kearney and Fremont graduates. The normal training banquet is for graduates and senior classes from normal training high schools and junior normal schools. These banquets will open the session, the regular meetings of the association commencing on the following day.

The general sessions of the association will be held in St. Paul's and the Christian churches. The special sessions will meet in St. Paul's church, the Christian church, the Presbyterian church, the Congregational church, the Temple building and various university buildings.

The sectional sessions include at the present time everything included in the work of the schools of the state. A remarkably excellent roll of speakers has been secured for this session, men with experience in various lines of work and with national reputations.
