NEBRASKA OR KANSAS IS VALLEY CHAMPION

were helpless. Against Iowa, even with the regular quarter out, had there been a respectable offense, Nebraska would have won.

It is this failure of the Cornhuskers to show any strength on the offense that gives Kansas an edge on the betting for next Saturday's game, and the battle is likely to be started on Nebraska field with the Jayhawkers as the favorites.

But "King" Cole is working with the Cornhuskers just now trying to build up a scoring machine—trying to give his team a powerful offense—and if he succeeds the "dope" very probably will be upset.

The Cornhuskers have the defense to check the Kansas offense; let them get an offensive attack very nearly as strong as the Jayhawkers' and they should win Saturday's game and the Missouri Valley championship. Champions they would be then? Yes, for who would say Missouri can defeat the Jayhawkers on Thanksgiving Day?

GET A WHITE BUTTON OR YOU'LL BE CHASED

ONLY ONE WAY TO AVOID SOLICITORS OF Y. M. C. A.

GET EIGHTY MEN IN TWO DAYS TASK

Twelve Committees of Seven Men Each to Work in Effort to Raise $900 Needed by University Association.

Nine hundred dollars is the mark which the University Y. M. C. A. has set to be raised before tomorrow night for the annual budget of the association. Over eighty men will be actively engaged today and Wednesday in the canvass for this fund.

The university association will follow the general plan adopted by the city association in raising the $100,000 building fund a few weeks ago. Twelve committees of seven men each have been appointed and these men will solicit on the campus for two days, at the close of which period all solicitations will stop.

The teams met at supper in the Temple last evening and laid the plans for the campaign. They will meet again tonight and plan the final assault. At the meeting last evening the committeemen themselves pledged nearly $400 to be used as a starter for the needed fund.

As soon as a student pledges the amount which he will contribute to the fund, he will be given a white button, which will render him immune from further attack by the committeemen. Until the student has such a button, however, the committeemen plan to make his life a burden about the campus.

By the system to be adopted the pledges may be paid in weekly installments for a period of eight months. This obviates the necessity of an immediate settlement, and it is believed will meet with favor among the student body.

A clock will be placed in one of the windows of the association rooms in the Temple, and this will record the progress of the fund. Its hands will be regulated at noon and at 6 p. m.

According to advices from Kansas, a school with a considerably smaller membership than that of Nebraska, $1,000 was raised there by similar methods.

GET INTO THE RUNNING—GO Scene from "Going Some"

At the Oliver, on Wednesday Matinee & Night

Paul Armstrong and Rex Beach evidently believe that, for the love of a woman, a man will do anything, even at the risk of his life. At least they have made this the case in "Going Some," their latest comedy, which the Shuberts will bring here at the Oliver Theatre on Wednesday, matinee and night.

J. Wallingford Speed, a "head yeller," as he is known to the 'varsity, visits the Flying Heart Ranch, in New Mexico, accompanied by his "trainer." In order to strengthen his cause with a particular young lady who happens to be on the ranch, he drops the word that he is the champion, fed-on-raw-meat, one hundred yard runner. Now it happens that the cowboys of the ranch are looking for just such a man. A year previous they have staked their wages and, worse than all, the only phonograph for miles around, on a foot race between their own outfit and the Centipede bunch. The Flying Heart runner loses.

All of the scenes take place on the ranch. The atmosphere is perfect. The authors have arranged the funniest training quarters imaginable and the various things that Speed is compelled to do—under pressure of instant death—would supply a half dozen average farces with rounds of laughter.

It goes without saying that Speed wins the girl—which means he and his "trainer" are spared their lives. Also that Speed wins the race. The various characters are marvels of stage types, all true to nature and yet lending themselves to the farcical requirements. The cast is a large and capable one.

TALKS TO DEBATE SQUAD.

Lincoln Historical Man Tells His Views on Income Tax.

The third of a series of lectures before the debating squad was given Saturday morning by Mr. Albert Watkins of Lincoln. He spoke on the subject of the income tax.

Mr. Watkins is an old University of Wisconsin debater and has been chosen six times in recent years as a judge in interscholastic debates. Speaking as he did from the standpoint of both a debater and a judge of debates, his lecture was of a practical and suggestive nature to the squad.

ANNOUNCE SENIOR COMMITTEES.

Last of Appointees Named by President Hof Mann Yesterday.

The president of the senior class announced the last of his committee appointments yesterday. The cap and gown committee is composed as follows: Miss Beulah Jennings, chairman; Miss Mary Dion, Miss Selma Anderson, Miss Fay Hartley, Miss Katherine Hole and E. M. Canell.

For members on the interclass athletic board: Mr. Upton, J. T. Dierks and Mr. Hutchison were appointed. In place of Eary Lantz, who will be unable to be in school, P. E. Halligan was placed on the senior prom committee.

PRIZES FOR ECONOMIC ESSAYS.

Hart, Schaffner & Marx Conditions Are Announced by Professor Laughlin.

The opportunity to compete for the economic prizes offered by Hart, Schaffner & Marx has been brought to the attention of the students of this university by Professor J. Laurence Laughlin of the University of Chicago, who is chairman of the committee in charge of the contest.

Papers for the prizes are to be submitted before June 1, 1910. There are five prizes, totaling $2,000. The contestants are divided into three classes, fuller details of which may be had from the head of the department of political economy. The prizes are divided as follows:

- Class "A"—First prize, $600; second prize $400.
  - Class "B"—First prize, $300; second prize, $200.
  - Class "C"—One prize, $500.
- Classes "A" and "B" refer particularly to college graduates and undergraduates, and the following subjects have been suggested by Professor Laughlin's committee:
1. The effect of labor unions on international trade.
  2. The best means of raising the wages of the unskilled.
  3. A comparison between the theory and the actual practice of protectionism in the United States.
  4. A scheme for an ideal monetary system for the United States.
  5. The true relation of the central government to trusts.
  6. How much of J. S. Mills' economic system survives?
  7. A central bank as a factor in a financial crisis.
- The members of the committee, aside from Professor Laughlin, are: Professor J. B. Clark, Columbia University; Professor Henry C. Adams, University of Michigan; Horace White, Esq., New York City, and Edwin F. Gay, Harvard University.

AVERY MAKES BIG HIT ON TRIP OVER STATE

UNIVERSITY CHANCELLOR RETURNS FROM TOUR.

WAS A GUEST AT A DOZEN TOWNS

Delivered Addresses at Hastings, Beaver City, Molbrook, Red Cloud, Arapahoe, and Other South Nebraska Points.

Chancellor Samuel Avery returned Saturday from his tour of southern Nebraska. The chancellor has been absent from Lincoln since Tuesday morning and during that time he has visited half a score of southern Nebraska towns. In each of these he has delivered an address on some subject of educational interest.

Chancellor Avery left Lincoln early Tuesday morning, having attended the dinner of the Faculty Men's Club on the previous evening, at which he was the principal speaker. He went at once to Hastings, where he addressed the high school pupils, teachers, and others on the subject, "A Comparison of German and American Schools." In the evening he lectured at Keneasaw on "Higher Education and Higher Ideals." Wednesday morning Dr. Avery spoke at Cambridge. In the afternoon he addressed the school children of Winsonville. That same evening he spoke at Beaver City. Thursday he spoke at Arapahoe and Holbrook. Yesterday he was at Red Cloud and Guide Rock, and today he finishes the trip at Wymore.

Is Making a Hit.

According to information from different parts of the state where Chancellor Avery has been since his elevation to the headship of the university, the new chancellor is making good with the people of Nebraska. He has been very well received wherever he has had occasion to stop and his addresses are received with interest. During the summer he made several speeches over the state and on the present trip the cordial welcome then received has been duplicated.

Dr. Avery was comparatively little known to the people of the state when he was given the chancellorship last January. Since his acceptance of the office he has rapidly acquainted himself with the people and they have come to know him better as his work has progressed.

A Young Man.

"Nebraska needed a young man," said one out-in-the-state man in speaking of Dr. Avery last week. "The university is now in a stage where a man of force and energy is necessary to properly conduct its affairs. A great upbuilding process will go on in the state institution in the next few years, and I for one believe that Dr. Avery is the man to carry out the work. He is virile and full of resource, just what we need at this time. He has tact and does not needlessly antagonize. On the other hand he is not wont to be run over and can be firm when the occasion requires."

CROSS COUNTRY TRYOUTS.

First of Two Events to Be Held Tomorrow at Four O'clock.

The first of the two cross country tryouts will be held tomorrow evening at four o'clock. The second will be held on the following Wednesday. These tryouts are for the purpose of picking a team to represent Nebraska at Chicago in the Chicago conference run, which will be held the 20th of this month.

In previous years only one tryout has been held, but the change to two was made because it is believed that it will be more fair to the candidates. If, on account of ill health, or bad condition of the weather which may affect one man's running more than another, a man should fall in the first tryout, he will still have another chance.

Nebraska expects to have a strong team this year. C. H. Gable, the captain of the team, has not as yet returned to school, but he is expected in today. He was kept out of school on account of work, and about a month ago injured his back. In consequence he has been unable to do much training and may be unable to make the team. If not, a temporary captain will be appointed in his place for the Chicago run.

Much of the material at hand is excellent, in the opinion of Dr. Clapp. Four of the old men will be eligible for this year's team. Besides these a number of first-class men who were barred last year because they were freshmen are expected to make a good showing. Among these the men who finished among the first eleven in the tryout last year are: McGowan, Anderson, Flack, Ankeny and Millek. All of the men who have been taking the work are expected to get out for the tryouts, however, and men excused from either drill or physical education for track are compelled to try out for their credit.

SADILEK EDITOR OF NEW PAPER.

Former Nebraskan Starts College Weekly at Highland Park.

The Daily Nebraskan has received a copy of "The Weekly Highlander," the new college paper published at Highland Park College, Des Moines. W. B. Sadilek, a former Nebraska student in the class of 1911, is editor of the paper and plans to issue an up-to-date college weekly.

The paper is a four-page sheet and appears to cover the university news in a thorough manner. Mr. Sadilek during his freshman and sophomore years at Nebraska was on the staff of the Nebraskan.

NEW PROFESSOR IS APPOINTED.

Coons Named to Succeed Stone in Agricultural Botany at Farm.

Chancellor Avery yesterday announced the appointment of Professor G. H. Coons to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Professor Stone as adjunct professor of agricultural botany. Professor Coons is a graduate of the University of Illinois, class of 1908. Since that time he has taught in several colleges,
