SONGS FOR JAYHAWKERS IS REQUEST OF EAGER

NEBRASKA MANAGER WANTS TO HAVE GOOD ROOTING.

LIVELY TUNES AND CATCHY WORDS

Monster Rally to Be Held Thursday or Friday, With Big Reception for Kansas Team Friday a Possibility.

Songs for Kansas. That is what Manager Eager and the rooting leaders want immediately. They want good verses set to popular tunes for use at the game Saturday. The tunes must be lively, and the words must be snappy presentations of the things which the Cornhuskers are going to do to the invading Jayhawkers on Nebraska field.

The songs need not be masterpieces of the poet's art. Manager Eager says that he will accept the student productions even if the metre is off once in a while. What he wants is not literary greatness, but "spirit." That must be had in large quantities if Nebraska is to come off the field Saturday with her colors flying. Good songs will play a big part and there is no time to be lost if they are to be of value.

Contributions should be left at the Nebraskan office not later than Thursday at 5 p. m.

Rallies to Be Held.

A monster rally, the biggest of the year, will be held either Thursday or Friday of this week. Arrangements are still indefinite, depending on the action of the deans relative to suspending 11 o'clock classes Friday for the football men. If the deans will consent to such action, the rally will be held at that hour. Otherwise it will be held at some time Thursday or Friday yet to be determined.

Manager Eager has sent out large quantities of advertising matter over the state and from all indications the out-of-the-state attendance at the game will be immense. People from all over eastern Nebraska plan to attend. The reserved seat sale at Harley's has been very heavy and students should lose no time if they wish to get good reservations.

Arrangements are being made for the decoration of Lincoln stores with Nebraska and Kansas colors. This will probably be done on a larger scale than ever before.

To Greet Kansas.

If contemplated arrangements are completed Kansas will be given an enthusiastic reception upon the arrival of the team Friday evening. The Jayhawkers are due at about 5 o'clock and it is planned to have a mass meeting of students at the station to meet them. A parade uptown with the cadet band at the head is one of the features which is included in the proposed reception. This feature is not certain, however, depending in part upon the willingness of the Kansas coach to allow his men to participate.

TEMPERANCE ADDRESS BY MRS. EDITH DAVIS

NOTED LECTURER SPEAKS AT CONVOCATION TUESDAY.

GREAT NEED OF MORAL CHARACTER

Speaker Portrays Effects of Alcoholic Stimulants and Points Out Remedy for Existing Evils.

Mrs. Edith Smith Davis, a W. C. T. U. lecturer of international reputation, addressed the Tuesday convocation. She is a speaker of much ability and presents her subject in a most interesting and capable manner. The number present was disappointingly small. Mrs. Davis said: "It is the few who do the real work of the world. These few must make every effort to get a hold of the truth. It makes little difference to what degree division of opinion goes for we need all forms of truth and of fact and information. What we need to guard against is the failure to go far enough in our efforts. One who jumps eight feet of a ten-foot chasm, fails. Some things have to be done in its entirety to accomplish anything.

"One of these things is the making of character, and it is the greatest thing we can accomplish. Some people develop into either physical or intellectual monstrosities, and lose sight of the higher things in other ways. They have not the vision of a developed character, but it is surrounded by a wall. Our great need is moral character in everything. Love and morality and religion is necessary to develop the best moral character. The lack of vision is often the curse of men of genius, such as Poe, who knew the right purpose of life and yet died in a drunken stupor. We must get a broader vision if we are to have the best moral character.

Clark's Experiment.

"Prof. Clark of Clark university is a man of this broad vision. He loves humanity and with such a motive began to experiment with the effect of alcohol on animals. He took four dogs, which he treated exactly alike, except that to two of them he gave daily a few drops of alcohol. He soon found that these two were more nervous and easily excitable, more prone to disease and succumb to it much easier. Then he sought to discover whether it adds to their strength. Delicate machines were made which registered every bodily movement, and he found that the two fed alcohol did not exert nearly as much strength.

"The facts were published. Business men took hold of it and users of alcohol are not as competent or as strong as others. And now it is difficult and even impossible for men to enter some professions who use tobacco or drink alcohol. The descendants of alcohol users are intellectually inferior to other children. In a school in St. Louis, attended by children of wealthy parents, who were addicted to the use of alcohol were miserably incompetent to master the simplest forms of knowledge.

Tell the Truth.

"The call comes to us to teach the truth about alcohol. It is no longer a moral question, but a scientific question. No scientist will speak of alcohol now in any way, but that it is a narcotic. In Belgium, I watched several hundred people who were waiting to embark to come to America. They crowded the saloons all-day. Mothers forced alcohol down the throats of their children. The question I asked was: When they come to America, what will we do with them? Every child must go to school, which is the machine which grinds out our citizens. There they must be instructed against this danger. Any one meeting these conditions will be the world's greatest missionary. As we go on we must seek the broader vision of life, which will make for character."

Y. W. C. A. GIRLS OUT AFTER NEEDED MONEY

UNIVERSITY ASSOCIATION HAS UNUSUAL EXPENSE.

THE EXTRAS AMOUNT TO OVER $500

Girls Start Campaign for Payment of Dues and Subscriptions to Be Applied to Annual Budget.

The university Y. W. C. A. opened a finance campaign last evening at six o'clock with an informal supper in the association rooms.

The Y. W. C. A. has extra expenses amounting to $525 this year. The expense has been caused by redecorating the rooms, the fund for the Nashville convention and the fund for the Bible secretary. It was only an example of the progressiveness of this organization when thirty-six girls pledged themselves to raise enough money to pay off these extra debts.

The girls were divided into squads, and each squad will have charge of a separate class of pledges. The girls who have charge of the honorary and sustaining dues are: Alice Mockett, Julia Nagle, Betty Bill, and Elise Brugger.

Collection of Dues.

The collection of the active and associate dues will be in charge of eight girls, the systematic giving in charge of ten girls, the alumni subscriptions in charge of four girls, and the faculty subscriptions in charge of ten girls.

In addition to the squads mentioned above, two teams have been organized, one having scarlet for its color and the other having cream. The followers of the scarlet are led by Merle Thomas and the followers of the cream by Alice Mockett.

Two of the girls on the honorary sustaining squad will aim to collect eleven dollars per day for fifteen days, and the other two girls eight dollars per day for the fifteen days. The other squads are pledged to collect smaller sums.

The idea of this campaign is to raise enough money to pay all of the budget and leave a surplus on hand to carry out some of the work that is being planned for next year. All of the active members and their friends are urged to respond liberally to the call for regular dues and special pledges.

Meet Each Evening.

The girls will meet in the Y. W. C. A. rooms at 5:50 every evening and report on their work. An automobile ride for the girls will be carried out next Saturday morning and on the following Saturday another supper will be given.

An epoch-making conference between teachers of economics from many of the leading educational institutions of the country was held at the University of Chicago on October 22. This is the first meeting in the history of the science in which teachers have come together to discuss educational methods, and is declared to have resulted in a distinct benefit in various ways: (1) in a comparison of experiences and methods; (2) in a stimulation of discussion and criticism; (3) in the appointment of a committee to investigate present methods of teaching the science in the United States, and to determine what support the study receives in the universities. This committee consists of Leon C. Marshall, assistant professor of political economy and dean of the college of commerce and administration, in the University of Chicago, chairman; Professor Fairchild, of Yale University, and Professor Chapin of Beloit College. The educational institutions represented at the conference were: The University of Chicago, Yale University, University of Illinois, University of Minnesota, Oberlin University, Ohio Wesleyan University, Rochester University, Wheaton College, Albion College, Beloit College, University of Missouri, Western Reserve University, University of Indiana, University of Wisconsin, University of Michigan, and Northwestern University.

NEW COACH OPENS WORK WITH BASKETBALL TEAM

HEWITT MEETS ATHLETES FIRST TIME YESTERDAY.

1910 PROSPECTS SEEM TO BE EXCELLENT

Thirty Candidates Out for Tryout and Plenty of Old Men on Hand to Serve as Nucleus of New Five.

With the doom of football on Thanksgiving day, the time for a new line of university athletics will arrive. The basketball season has already commenced.

At the call of Captain Peary and Coach Hewitt, thirty candidates for positions on the team reported for practice yesterday. With many of the old veterans still to report the amount of material to make a good team is of large quantity. Several of the members of last year's squad have signified their intention to again join the squad, and with these men on the practice floor there is basis for the students of the university to hope that the university will produce a winning team this year.

This is the first year that Coach Hewitt has had charge of the university squad, and he hopes to make a success of his work with the material that he has on hand. Dr. Clapp of the department of physical culture has held the position of coach of the basketball team ever since this line of athletics has been in vogue in the university, but on account of the increasing duties in the department of which he has charge he was forced to resign, and I. P. Hewitt was appointed by the members of the athletic board as the basketball coach.

Hewitt Now Coach.

Mr. Hewitt is a graduate of the university and has coached the Lincoln Y. M. C. A. basketball team for the past few years with a marked success. He was a member of the university team when he was in school and has been referee at many of the games which have been played on the local floor.

Some of the members of the class teams of last year are out for practice and among these are several freshmen who showed varsity form during their first year. Landers, a star performer, was out for practice, as was also Hiltner, a member of last year's freshman team, who was kept from playing because he was judged to be varsity material. Jones a sub on last year's team, was also out for practice.

Several of the men from the team last year were out. Among these men was Watters, who graduated last spring. He has not as yet been a member of the team and will be eligible to play in all the games except in game with teams of the "Big Eight" circuit. Wilbur Wood of last year's team has announced that he will be out for practice. He has played two year, but has taken his degree, but will be eligible in all games with teams not in the "big eight."

Bell Not Back

The team will be somewhat handicapped this year by the loss of Bell, the formidable little guard from last year, and the loss of Petrashek will also be felt. Petrashek played center last year, but this year he will be unable to join the squad on account of having an extra amount of work. Schmidt, who won his letter last year in the Missouri game, will be eligible, and with a number of the old letter men back into the game there will be a nucleus for a strong team.

Last year there was more interest in the game than there has ever been exhibited before at the university, and the prospects are this year that with the use of the notable beachers that were in vogue last year the interest in the indoor game will be more intense. Nebraska last year lost the Missouri Valley championship by only one game and this year the hopes and plans of the captain and coach are to put forth a five that will win the Missouri Valley championship and also defeat Minnesota.
