ANOTHER ROOTING LEADER.

With the near approach of the Kansas game and the necessity for the best rooting that it is possible to have on that occasion, the Nebraskan suggests that arrangements be made for organized rooting by the grand stand.

In the past several years the efforts of the chief leaders have been directed solely towards the bleachers and the rooting section. The grand stand has been left to care for itself and the result has been that there has been very little concerted cheering from that side of the field.

There is no good reason why this should be so. The grand stand devotees may not possess quite so much lung power as their companions across the field, but they can make enough noise to make an appreciable showing at any rate. If they were only given a chance they could assist materially in the cheering for the Scarlet and Cream. Additional rooting leaders for

WELCOME TO THE TEACHERS.

Several hundred teachers of Nebraska are now in Lincoln for the purpose of attending the sessions of the Nebraska State Teachers' Association. These teachers, representing as they do the best educational interests of the state, are of especial interest to the university and the university deserves special consideration from them.

The state university is merely the keystone of the educational system of the state. It is the climax of a series of graded schools which range from the kindergartens to the post-graduate courses of its own departments. It is just as much a part of the organism as is any one of the country or city schools. The mere fact that its affairs are administered by a governing body different from the authority which rules the rest of the system does not sever the existing connection.

During the past twenty years it has been the object of the university administration, expressed with somewhat varying force at different times, to get more closely in touch with the people of the state. Constant attempts are being made to develop a closer union between the university and the schools preparatory to it, and through these with the people themselves. That this effort has not been for naught is shown by the continual increase in the number of high school pupils who annually come to the university.

From the fact of this connection between the lower schools and the university, the teachers of the state should feel a special interest in the university and during their stay in Lincoln they should make an effort to become more thoroughly acquainted with its methods and its people. Many

AT THE THEATERS.

The Orpheum.

"The Dutch in Egypt" is the laugh-raiser at the Orpheum. The exaggerated presentation of the parts by the Dutchmen on the bill is comical and the jokes are largely new. But, even including the very few old ones, the cracks are funny ones and well calculated to get a smile from the soberest listener.

With "The Dutch" as the leading comedians, Miss Dolores and her assistants head the dramatic part of the program. "Cupid at Home" is the title of a unique little comedy in which Miss Dolores stars. The play is not provocative of such boisterous enjoyment as the Dutchmen's trip, but it is full of good amusement.

Alburtus and Altus fill out the juggling part of the program. The Fox and Foxie circus, and Miss Adler's dancing pickininnies are other features. The Moore comedy, "The Dancing Tenderheel," has merit, but it does not compare with "Cupid at Home." Joe Jackson does a bicycle stunt which has a few new novelties.

Good Work at Lyric.

The Lyric Stock Company changes the bill this week from "The Crisis" to "A Bachelor's Romance." The play is elaborately staged and some good dramatic work is done by the company. Mr. Noble takes the leading part as usual and as David Holmes plays well. The play is well staged and its popular setting in the eastern part of this country shows the usual surroundings of rich New York. Miss Carter and Miss Lorraine star among the feminine members of the caste.

the reserved seat sections could be easily provided from the ranks of the Innocents. Action should be had at once, and efficient work should be done at Saturday's game.

ALL OUT!

We Must Beat Kansas.
Yes, indeed, we must. And as a corollary to that proposition, we CAN beat Kansas.
What is more to the point, we WILL beat Kansas. The beating is to be a good sound drubbing, and it is to come off at 2:30 Saturday afternoon on Nebraska field.
Kansas is coming to Nebraska fully confident of taking home the Missouri Valley championship title. True, reports from Lawrence are bearish. But right down in their hearts the Jayhawkers feel sure of victory over their northern foes. They expect a plucky fight on the part of the Cornhuskers, but they do not fear the result.
How is it? Is Kansas to return to Lawrence still in that frame of mind? Is Nebraska to be again humbled by the adherents of Coach Kennedy?
Not much. Nebraska is going to play the game to win. Her team intends to win, and her students rely upon their representatives to win.
Further, we are confident, all of us. We believe in our team. Let us show it by coming out at 11 o'clock this morning and giving the team a cheering song and a word of enthusiasm.

of them are alumni and consequently need no urging. These alumni should endeavor to have their fellow teachers take advantage of the occasion to inspect the university.

On its part the university extends a welcome to the teachers and opens its gates to them freely. They should feel that it is the intention of the university to extend to them every courtesy that can be offered. During their stay in Lincoln they should make themselves at home on the university campus.

COMMITTEES TOO LARGE.

There has been a noticeable tendency during the current semester to appoint an excessive number of students to each of the various class committees, especially the hop committees. While care should be exercised that a sufficient number be appointed to insure the social and financial success of the various class affairs, yet there is an upper limit beyond which further appointments appear foolish. When a man is elected president of his class, he naturally desires to reward his friends, but he had better find some other way to do it than pack the hop committees. It is safe to say that half the committeemen on a committee of over six or seven are all, so far as work is concerned. But they get complimentary admissions just the same, and thereby make it all the harder for the chairman to "pay out." A little more care in picking efficient and smaller committees would obviate some deficits.
