A Lawrence correspondent contributes the following on the Kansas situation to the Kansas City Star:

Following are the scores of the fifteen games in the history of Kansas-Nebraska football:

	Kan.	Neb.
1892.....	12	0
1893.....	18	0
1894.....	6	12
1895.....	8	4
1896.....	18	4
1897.....	5	11
1898.....	6	18
1899.....	36	20
1900.....	0	12
1901.....	5	29
1902.....	0	16
1903.....	0	6
1906.....	8	6
1907.....	6	16
1908.....	20	6

Total points 148 160

Seven times in the fifteen that Kansas and Nebraska have met on the gridiron the Jayhawks have been victorious. Three times since relations were resumed in 1906 they have met, and twice "Bert" Kennedy has been able to key his men up at the last minute and take the victory from his confident opponents. Can he repeat this year? Nebraska is again confident that they have the team that can overwhelm the Jayhawks, and Coach Cole has avowedly saved the best he has for the game Saturday at Lincoln. The Jayhawks are not as confident of victory as they were a week ago, but there is the same spirit at work that stirred on the "Hill" three years ago when the victory came against odds.

This afternoon the Freshmen leave for Morningside to take on the Methodists. The Freshies are in the best of trim and that they are going to surprise the Morningsiders seems to be the prevailing opinion among those who have witnessed their work.

Potter, the fast little quarter, has been chosen captain. He is a fast, steady player and ought to make a good leader. Following is the lineup:

Hornberger, center.
Pike, left guard.
Zacek, right guard.
Kositsky, right tackle.
Ray, left tackle.
Warner, right end.
Baker, left end.
Potter (capt.), quarter.
Frank, right half.
Wood, left half.
Gibson, full back.

UNI CAMPUS CROWDED BY VISITING TEACHERS

SEVERAL SECTIONS MEET IN UNIVERSITY BUILDINGS.

THE INDUSTRIAL EXHIBIT ATTRACTS

Showing Made by University in City Auditorium Receives Favorable Comment from Many Teachers.

The university campus was crowded yesterday afternoon with visiting teachers and their friends. The morning sessions were general in nature and were held in downtown churches, but in the afternoon, when the meetings were held in various sections, nearly all of the sessions met in university buildings. A large number of the teachers are former university students, and are always glad to get back to the old scenes of their former life. The registration has reached about 4,000, with many more coming in on each train.

The high school section met yesterday afternoon in Memorial hall. Manual training, normal training and athletics were among the subjects discussed. Inspector of High Schools A. A. Reed also addressed this section. The music section met in the Temple. The science section held its meeting in Chemistry hall. The principal address was by W. N. Clifford, United States department of agriculture, on "Effective Geography Teaching." The county superintendents of the state met in University hall. Questions pertaining to the advancement of city and country schools were discussed.

Various Sections Met.

The teachers of Latin gathered in Music hall for a discussion of topics of interest in their line. The German teachers' section had a large attendance at its meeting in the Temple theater. A stereopticon lecture was given on the Tell country and a representation of one scene from the play "William Tell" by a Hastings college student. The section composed of mathematics teachers held their meeting in the science hall at the Temple. The association met in general session last night at St. Paul's church and the Christian church. The musical part of the program was directed by Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond. The addresses were delivered by Luther Halsey Gullick, chairman playground committee, Russell Sage foundation, New York City.

The industrial school exhibit at the city auditorium is attracting much attention and favorable comment. This is the first year such an exhibition has been held, but the floor space of the auditorium is entirely taken up with what has been sent by rural and city schools. The largest single and probably the finest exhibit is from the University of Nebraska, which includes the school of agriculture. Some of the engineering department's machinery is in full operation, with students operating it. This department also has a number of its finished products on exhibition. The school of agriculture shows a model farmstead, the entire farm laid out in miniature, the buildings having been built by a class in shop work and are almost perfect in construction. There is also a regular sized farm wagon built by the class. The department of field crops shows many fine samples of grains and grasses grown on the experiment farm.

DID it ever occur to you that it is greatly to your advantage to select your clothes at a store where only good grades are sold, where none of doubtful quality is ever offered for sale?

You can't choose the unreliable kind here--we don't have it--only safe and reliable qualities and at moderate prices.

The Kensington Suits and Overcoats, shown only here, are wonderful examples of art in clothing. They afford you an opportunity to buy clothes--ready to put on, that excel in fit, style and quality those of any custom tailor at any price.

Our present display of the new grays is exceptionally attractive--worth coming to see. All shown in new glass cabinets, pressed, ready for service.

RALLY FOR JAYHAWKERS THE BIGGEST IN YEARS

which the severely criticized the sporting editors of the city dailies who have attempted to criticize the work of several of the men on the team and call them back numbers. His statements called for cheer after cheer from the students, and the sentiment was expressed that if any of them were present they should be promptly thrown out.

A new university yell was tried and the hopes of yell leaders Elliott and Perry are that it will drown out the famous "Rock Chalk" of the Jayhawks. Calls were given for Coach Cole, and he stated in a few words that he knew that the men had it in them to win and that they would fight to win. The cheers that followed this announcement showed the popularity of the head coach, and the strains of the new song were started. Students arose and with time beat by the waving of hats and handkerchiefs, the words of the Scarlet and Cream echoed over the whole campus.

Chancellor Speaks.
Cheers and calls for the chancellor called for a speech from the head of the university. In a few words he told the students that every one should make a noise for victory, and that victory was a possibility. He believed that the Kansas team were to be treated by the Nebraska students in proper style, but they had to be licked. "Treat them good, but lick them in the end," was his slogan.

Speeches from ex-Captains Harvey and Mason were greeted by loud rah-rah and enthusiasm. Members of the team were called upon to tell their opinions of the result, and every one of the men stated that they intended to beat Kansas.

Other Speeches.
"Bill" Chaloupka and Professor Maxey expressed the opinion that Kansas was not a team that could not be beaten and that there was no legal presumption for believing that we could not beat the Jayhawker bunch. With the concluding speech, the band again started the Scarlet and Cream song, and with this the students slowly filed out of Memorial hall, determined to beat the Jayhawks, coaches, team, students, and the whole college.

The Cornell freshmen tag committee reports that over $1,000 has been collected from the class of 1913. This is twice the amount collected last year for the support of freshman athletics. The money is to be handled by the Freshman Athletic Association.
