COACH STAGG SUGGESTS RADICAL RULE CHANGES

CHICAGO MAN HAS IDEAS AS TO BETTERMENT OF GAME.

WOULD TRY TO REMOVE THE DANGER

Maroon Director of Athletics Supports
Camp's Idea of Two Chances for Ten Yards or Three for Fifteen.

Radical changes in the football rules, aimed at lessening the possibility of deaths and injuries, which he feels have given the game a black eye, have been recommended by Director A. A. Stagg of the University of Chicago, who is one of the western representatives of the national rules committee. Stagg intended to keep the recommendations to himself until the meeting of the conference committee today at the Chicago Beach hotel, but a special session of the athletic board at Chicago caused him to change his mind.

Following the passing of a resolution by this body of fifteen that Stagg be instructed to work for modifications in the rules which may be calculated to make the game safer, the coach consented to make a statement of his position on football reform.

Makes Five Suggestions.

"As it looks to me," he said, "the ways of remedying the rules may be approached as follows:

- "1. Allowing two chances to make ten yards, or increasing the distance to fifteen yards and giving a team three chances, as Walter Camp has suggested. In this way forward passing will be encouraged by making the use of the play more often necessary.
- "2. By prohibiting pushing or pulling of the runner with the ball, which now does lots of damage, for, first, a single player now is often struck by the combined force of two or three men; and, second, it takes the combined strength of two or more men falling under or on top of the attacking players to stop them.
- "3. By making a penalty for crawling with the ball, which would encourage standing up in running.
- "4. By increasing the penalty for piling on a player unnecessarily.
- "5. By emphasizing the need of the referee's blowing his whistle when the ball is stopped, thus preventing massing."

Several weeks ago Stagg declared he expected to make recommendations to the conference committee, but would not state what they would be, saying it was too early in the season. Since the question was asked him he has given much thought to the matter, and the result was his list of suggestions.

Yale Picks Lineup.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 18.—Signal drill closed the football practice on Yale field for the season. Among the spectators was Johnny Desaulles, formerly a Yale quarter back.

Fred Daly and Harry Kaught left the college infirmary yesterday and were in citizens' clothes. They have no hope of playing Saturday. Logan was in uniform and expects to get into the game, although the coaches announced that they had not decided.

Savage, right end, was decided upon in the lineup. Left end, Kilpatrick; left tackle, Hobbs; left guard, Andrus; center, Cooney; right guard, Goebel; right tackle, Lilley; right end, Savage; quarter back, Howe; left half back, Phillbin; right half back, Murphy; full back, Coy, were selected. Substitutes picked were as follows: Left end, Naedele; left tackle, Spencer; either guards, Brown; center, Hyde; right tackle, Paul; right end, Logan and Brooks; quarter back, Johnson and Corey; left half back, Field; right half back, Francis; full back, Savage.

Field, who began in the Princeton game last year, has been shelved a month by injury, but has recovered. Savage will be called from end to the back field if needed. He and Coy will change positions frequently. The annual picturesque Omega Lambda Chi war dance by the scrubs and several vaudeville stunts enlivened the close of the year's practice.

Harvard Celebrates Chances.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 18.—With the drums rolling, fifes screeching, and band playing, flags of the nation and of old John Harvard flapping, 3,000 students of Harvard University and 1,500 graduates marched yesterday afternoon from Claverly hall to the Stadium, where they saw the varsity team run through its signals and light practice for the last time before the eleven lines up against Yale in the "game of the century" next Saturday.

Graduates were in the lineup all the way from Col. Hallowell of the class of '61 down to the men who got their diplomas last June. Graduates came from every state in the Union, boys again for the next four days.

The graduates reviewed the undergraduates, who were led by a drum corps. The undergraduates, in turn, reviewed the graduates in the Stadium as the latter marched, led by the first corps cadet band of fifty-one pieces.

Following the appearance of the husky varsity team, the second team of the varsity and the freshmen played a game of football bristling with interest. As the varsity team went through its maneuvers and while the pigskin was being punted in every direction, the thousands of men, young and old, and from every class down since '61, chanted the songs and bellowed the yells which will urge the boys on to victory over their traditional rival next Saturday.

Michigan Ready.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 18.—The Michigan eleven has completed its preparation for the big game of the season, and yesterday afternoon the squad, attended by the usual corps of coaches and trainers, left for Minneapolis, where it will play Minnesota Saturday.

Nineteen players were taken, and according to an announcement made by the coaches just before leaving it is not unlikely that all these athletes, with possibly one or two exceptions, will be given a chance against the Gophers.

Capt. Allerdice's hand is bothering him more than had been anticipated, and it is possible he will have to retire from the game early to let George Lawton in to do the punting. Otherwise the team that set out for the home of the Gophers is fit for the game.

Iowa Eleven "Shot to Pieces."

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 18.—Iowa received beneficial assistance on the gridiron last night in the way of advice and instruction from Maurice Connor of Boston, a former Harvard man, and later a member of the coaching forces at Harvard, Northwestern, and Michigan.

The eleven is badly discouraged, owing to the absence of Capt. Goss, but Alexander, the colored man, is playing well at right tackle. Ehret is taking Alexander's place, and Bell, with his hand in a plaster cast, was at left guard when Hooley was not filling that place.

Both gave good service, but the machine that Griffith got to going only recently is pretty well shot to pieces by the captain's removal.

The department of geography has received a geologic map drawn by W. R. Calvert, a Nebraska graduate, now with the U. S. geological survey. It is a portion of the Lewiston coal field in Montana and has to do with the conservation of the mineral rights being withheld for the government on some of the land.
