GLEE CLUB CONCERT TONIGHT AT TEMPLE

OBERLIN COLLEGE ORGANIZATION ON ANNUAL TOUR.

A GOOD PROGRAM IS PROMISED

Willard Kimball, Director of School of Music, Has Good Words for Organization of Young Men.

Tonight music lovers of the university will have the opportunity of hearing the Oberlin College Glee Club which will give a concert in the Temple theater. The club comes to Nebraska highly recommended and their concert should prove a valuable addition to the list of university entertainments.

In the program for the concert tonight will be found songs of real artistic merit, athletic songs peculiar to Oberlin, and a number of student songs. In the variety of the program full opportunity is afforded for the display of the qualities which have won for the club their high position in the musical world.

A Notable Club.

During the past ten years the club has visited the large cities in nearly every state in the union and everywhere they have met with an enthusiastic reception. Besides visiting Lincoln several times they have appeared at Omaha, Hastings, Grand Island, and Fremont in this state.

The club comes to Nebraska under the auspices of the students volunteer band. The proceeds from the entertainment will be devoted to a fund for the purpose of sending various delegates to conventions. The money will be loaned to the delegates and thus become a permanent fund for this purpose.

The best recommendation the club can receive for a university audience is given by Willard Kimball, an old Oberlin College Graduate and present director of the university school of music, who says:

"As the conservatory of music in connection with Oberlin college has been for many years one of the strongest in the country the glee club naturally reflects the work done in this school. It has always received the greatest encouragement from the faculty and its leaders have always been fine musicians. The program which is presented this year is one which will appeal to the student body and contains a great variety of compositions. Regardless of the fact that the proceeds are for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. the program is of intrinsic merit, and this concert should receive the hearty support of university men and women."

Given Good Words.

The press reports from various parts of the country contain nothing but praise for the work of the club. The Chicago Inter-Ocean says: "Those who attended the concert given by the Oberlin College Glee Club expecting an ordinary college boys' sing-song were surprised. Those who anticipated an evening of horse play and musical pranks were agreeably disappointed. To the credit of the Oberlin boys, be it said, they rendered a high class program in a decidedly artistic manner, and a large and fashionable audience signified its complete approval of the innovation by demanding an encore to every number on the list."

The New York Evening Mail, in speaking of the club says: "Between seeing New York by automobile, lunching in Chinatown, exploring the Italian and Jewish quarters, supping at the Cafe Boulevard and projecting a trip to Ellis Island, the Oberlin College Glee Club, twenty strong, found time to appear at the Astor gallery of the Waldorf-Astoria last night where it gave a really notable concert to a crowded house.

"As disclosed by this program, the club was found to consist of a number of agreeable voices, cultivated beyond the wont of college gleemen, and trained as well for effects of delicacy as of strength. The spirit and finish of the choral work made a most favorable impression."

WASHINGTON MEN CELEBRATE.

Judge Snell Entertains Nebraskans at His Tacoma Home.

The University of Nebraska Seattle Club met with Judge Snell of Tacoma on the evening of December 17 and report a very pleasant session. A special car left Seattle at 6:15 for Tacoma for the benefit of the Nebraskans, returning in time to catch the last cars out of Seattle.

Judge Snell is one of the two first graduates of the university and he is still a loyal alumnus, despite his absence of nearly forty years from active life on the university campus.

The session at Judge Snell's home was the first anniversary of the annual banquet held in 1908 at the Hotel Washington, when Professor Fossler addressed the club. At that time he presented the club with a bronze seal. There is a movement on foot to make this date, December 17, permanent as the annual gathering of the club.

CHANCELLOR ATTENDS MEETING.

He will not appear on the program, but will have a part in the discussion of the important questions to come before the session.

THESE FEATURES OF RESOLUTIONS OF WOMEN'S ADVISERS.

THE CONFERENCE TAKES ACTION

University Women Meet in Chicago and Adopt Statement of Needs for State Institutions.

Miss Alice Ensign, adviser to women, has returned from Chicago, where she attended during vacation, the fourth conference of the deans and advisers of women of state universities. At this meeting some important matters were acted upon, although the entire action of the conference is wholly advisory. Its decrees have no binding force.

The conference reaffirmed the resolutions of the preceding conference, and in addition adopted eight further propositions. It declared itself in favor of a still more careful and comprehensive supervision of the work of students during the freshman year. It was apparent that the advisers believed thoroughly in close faculty control of first year students.

More Technical Courses.

A recommendation was passed favoring the increase in both number and variety of technical courses of interest to women, such as courses in home economics, dairying, poultry husbandry, journalism, philanthropy, library work, business management, etc.

The conference emphatically favored the establishment of university residence halls, otherwise known as dormitories, wherever possible. It was believed that these institutions were an essential convenience for college women. Especially did the conference condemn exorbitant laundry rates, which "put a tax upon cleanliness." Private dormitories should be under university supervision.

Would Stop Rushing.

It was further resolved "that sorority houses should stand in as close a relation as possible to the university through the co-operation of students and chaperones; that it is recommended that no fraternity conventions be held during term time; that we concur with the national Pan-Hellenic association in recommending sophomore pledging, the abolition of rushing, and a scholarship requirement for membership in fraternities.

"That satisfactory progress has been made in the segregation of women students in approved houses; that there should be sanitary inspection of all lodging houses; that the social customs in such houses should be approved by the university; and that women students should be permitted to live only in such approved houses.

"That the university employ a woman physician to make a thorough physical examination of all entering students and prescribe corrective work wherever necessary, and that such physician give a thorough course of instruction in hygiene; and the employment of a visiting nurse is also recommended."

M'CLEAN IS IN FAVOR OF IT.

Former Chancellor Has Faith in Universal Language.

It is not a vain hope that some day a universal tongue, such as the much-talked of Esperanto is touted to be, may be realized, according to President George E. MacLean of the University of Iowa formerly chancellor of Nebraska, who addressed the meeting of the central division of the Modern Language Association of America.

President MacLean laid much stress upon the phonetics of language and while not putting the stamp of approval upon the Rooseveltian spelling, he commended the trend of the efforts in no uncertain tones. The language men from the leading universities of many surrounding states, who had come together to discuss their favorite tongues, were unprepared for the suggestion that they consider the attainment of a new and universal language. President MacLean in a more academic vein declared that the scientific study of languages had settled once and for all the quarrel between the ancients and the moderns, for it had established that they were, after all, of one family.

NEBRASKA MEN WERE LEADERS.

T. H. Matters and Ed. Johnson Sang With Harvard Glee Club.

During the vacation period two former Nebraska men, T. H. Matters and Ed. Johnson, were members of the Harvard glee club, which made a tour of the east. The club came as far west as Chicago and gave concerts in the principal cities en route.

The Nebraska men were leaders in the club. At the big concerts of the tour in New York City, Johnson had a solo part which received vigorous encores. At the same performance Johnson and Matters sang a duet, which brought their recall for other selections.

BASKETBALL FIVE TO START ON FIRST TRIP

Cornhusker Athletes Leave Tomorrow Morning.

WILL MEET KANSAS COMPETITORS

Aggies at Manhattan and University Men at Lawrence to Be Opponents in Three Game Series.

Thursday morning the basketball team will start south on their first trip of the season. Three games will be played, one with Manhattan Thursday night, and on Friday and Saturday the Cornhuskers will meet their old rivals, the Jayhawkers.

This trip will mark the opening of the season of 1910. Captain Perry has a good bunch of material and under the tutorship of Coach Hewitt it has been well developed. Five of this year's team are "N" men, and three of them played regular all last season. The three regulars of last year's team left over for this year are Captain Perry, Petrashek and Wood, all three fast aggressive players, who ought to do great work on this year's team. The other two "N" men, Schmidt and Ingersoll, may also be called veterans; both of them having seen considerable service last year.

Good Bunch of Subs.

Beside these five players four others will make the trip. These men are Hutchinson, D. Mitchell, Jones, and Hiltner, all four classy players. With such a squad to pick from, it is a little doubtful who will be selected as regulars. The brunt of these first three contests will likely fall on Petrashek as center, Perry and Ingersoll guards, and Wood forward, with a toss-up between Schmidt, Jones and Mitchell for the other position as forward, with the chances slightly favoring Schmidt. Mitchell can also be used as a guard. Hiltner will relieve Petrashek at center in case of accident. Last year "Pat" had to hold down the job all by himself and the strenuous work told on him, especially during the grind of some of the long trips. With Hiltner as sub, the center position will be well taken care of. Whatever happens it is a cinch that all nine men will get into the game on the trip, and it is expected that with the Jayhawkers, at least, they will have their hands full.

Must Beat the Jayhawkers.

The contest at Manhattan, Thursday night is not considered a hard one, and is not worrying the management much. It is different with Kansas, however. With a strong team of veterans on the floor Kansas is going to prove, as she always does, a worthy opponent. Like her rival Nebraska, she has five letter men back, three of them being regulars. Kansas is the team the Cornhuskers are most anxious to defeat. Captain Perry made his vow last fall when the Jayhawkers humbled the scarlet and cream in football, that he would get his revenge.

"Wait until we get at them in basketball," he said. The opportunity will soon be at hand for the Cornhuskers to make the Jayhawkers bite the dust. An even break at Lawrence would be considered in the light of a victory, but Nebraskans are clamoring for a sweeping victory.

The squad that will start for Kansas tomorrow is one of the best that ever represented Nebraska. The men all came back early from their vacation and since last Wednesday, daily practice has been held on the gymnasium floor. The result is that all of the men are in good condition and any of them is fit to stand a good long engagement.

With nine such men as Nebraska is sending out, if luck breaks even, victory ought to perch on Nebraska's banner in this week's games.
