NEBRASKA TEAM BACK FROM SOUTHERN TRIP

CAPTAIN PERRY PRAISES TEAM WORK OF CORNHUSKERS.

PLAYED THE GAME TO A FINISH

Winning was not Easy for the Jayhawker Fives—Big Crowds Attended the Games, Especially at Lawrence.

Captain Perry and his basketball team have returned from their first trip south. The Cornhusker invasion of the sunflower state was not so successful as was hoped for. While away three games were played, the Cornhuskers losing all of them. Although the team is disappointed in not winning any of the contests, they are not discouraged by any means. Captain Perry is still confident of putting out a strong team and he says the way the men got into the game on the trip is evidence of it.

The Cornhuskers are a light bunch this year, but they are fast, aggressive players. Any one of them is capable of dumping a much larger man if this style of play is adopted. But this is not basketball, and in the Cornhusker camp such work is tabooed.

It was by taking advantage of their small floor and resorting to "roughing" that the Kansas Aggies were able to put one over on the Cornhuskers Thursday night.

Good Team Work.

At Lawrence conditions were different, and in both games the Cornhuskers showed great speed and team work. With one exception, namely, tossing goals, the Nebraskans were a match for their rivals. Especially fast was the play in the first half of Saturday's contest. The Cornhuskers developed a burst of speed that amazed the Jayhawkers and kept them guessing. Kansas came back strong in the second half, however, and in the first few minutes tossed goals almost at will, scoring 28 points in this half to Nebraska's 6 and making the final score 42 to 16.

The score of the first game at Kansas was 38 to 21. In neither game, however, can the score be regarded as showing the relative merits of the two teams. The Cornhuskers were handicapped by their inability to toss goals. It was not because they did not have the opportunity either. Captain Perry declares that the team work of his men was of the best and that they had just as many tries at the baskets as their rivals, but for some reason they could not locate them. One thing that troubled the Nebraskans was the glass backgrounds. The backgrounds in the Nebraska gym are of wood and this makes quite a difference.

Coach Hamilton of Washburn, who has officiated at Nebraska-Kansas contests the past three years, said that, in his opinion, Nebraska had one of the best bunches they have had in years. He complimented Captain Perry on the team work displayed by the squad. The Kansas coach also said he regarded Nebraska as a strong rival and that he was proud to win from such a team.

Men Stand the Work Well.

In the first game with Kansas but five men were used. Perry, Ingersoll, Petrashek, Wood and Mitchell. In the second several substitutions were made in the last half, Hiltner going in for Petrashek and Schmidt and Hutchinson for Mitchell and Ingersoll. Another change was made in this game that may be made permanent. Wood, who has been playing forward, was switched to guard, Captain Perry taking his place at forward. Wood was pitted against Tommy Johnson and held that fast player down to two goals. Johnson is fast, but Wood was his match. Perry was also able to do better work at forward. Naturally a guard, Perry can also play forward and his more accurate basket throwing will strengthen this position.

An amusing incident occurred immediately after "Woody" was switched to guard. The first thing he did was to turn and toss a goal for Kansas. He made up for his mistake shortly afterward by dribbling the ball the full length of the field and tossing a goal unaided.

The team report an enjoyable trip and the best of treatment. At Lawrence the games were well attended, over a thousand attending each contest. Such an attendance is a common thing at a Kansas basket ball game and is one secret of her success in turning out winning teams. Nebraska has never been known to do half so well at a basket ball game. When Kansas comes here in February (25 and 26), the Cornhuskers ought to show the Jayhawkers that they not only have nothing on them in athletics but also that they have no more on them in loyalty or university spirit.

AGGIES CLUB MET SATURDAY.

John Clay Addresses Students on "Early Life on the Range."

The Agricultural Club held its regular meeting Saturday evening in the Temple Theater. John Clay, head of the largest commission firm in the United States was the speaker of the evening. He talked on "Early Life on the Range." He related many interesting episodes of pioneer cattle raising in the west and south.

The University Farm glee club gave two very pleasing numbers at the opening of the meeting. The Temple was well filled, many farm students being present.

SIG CHIS MAKE GIRLS A GIFT.

Beautiful Loving Cup to be Presented Co-eds for Athletic Prowess.

The winning team at the University of North Dakota of the girls' inter-class basketball series will be presented with a loving cup by the local chapter of the Sigma Chi fraternity. The loving cup is to be of silver and will be known as the Signi Chi cup. The name of the class winning the cup this season and year 1910 will be engraved on the cup. #### CHICAGO-MINNESOTA GAME OFF?

Reported That Maroons Don't Like Attitude of Gopher Authorities.

Trouble is said to be brewing in the Chicago western conference as the result of Minnesota's action in scheduling a game with Michigan. The following from the Minnesota Daily reports the latest phase of the matter:

Recent reports from Chicago University indicate that at times that institution takes itself quite seriously. Yesterday the papers of the breezy burg had it, that at next Saturday's faculty meeting the Maroon professors would rebuke Minnesota for playing Michigan, and would instruct Professor Stagg not to schedule a game with the Gophers for next year.

The pilots of Minnesota athletics are, in their official capacity, entirely ignorant of this state of affairs. "We have received no communications from Chicago concerning this matter," said Prof. James Paige last night. Of course, we have read certain portentous news items, but the time has passed when athletic questions are settled in the newspapers. Moreover, it may be said of many newspapers in general, and of Chicago newspapers in particular, that what athletic news there is, isn't."

BIG Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN WILL OPEN TOMORROW

REPORT OF ROCHESTER DELEGATES AT TEMPLE SUNDAY.

NINETY TWO STUDENTS ENLIST

Captain of Missouri Football Team Sailed on Last Saturday to Take Up the Work at St. Petersburg, Russia.

Tomorrow is a red letter day for the University Y. M. C. A. At a supper to be held in the basement of the Temple tonight, at which about fifty men will be present, the campaign of the association for new members will be started and will close tomorrow evening. It is this campaign which the association has designated as "Red Letter Day."

used with great success at other universities, Wisconsin securing 500 men in this way in a recent campaign. The Nebraska association expects to secure at least two hundred and possibly three hundred new members before tomorrow evening.

Last year the association at Nebraska ranked third among the larger schools of the United States in its membership. Yale, with a student body of 3,350, had a membership of 1,070. Illinois ranked second with a student body of 2,640 and a membership of 870. Nebraska, with a student body of 1,200 had a membership of 766.

Report of Convention.

At a meeting in the Temple theater Sunday afternoon a full report of the delegates to the Rochester convention will be given. The delegates arrived in Lincoln Wednesday afternoon. On their return from Rochester, N. Y., where the convention was held, they stopped at Niagara Falls and spent the greater part of Monday seeing the sights.

The delegates from Nebraska were J. L. Derkinderen and wife, Dr. W. S. Hiltner, 1908; S. A. Mahood, Frank Dickinson, R. K. Andrews, E. M. Medlar, C. W. Mitchell, H. M. Sheaff, M. V. Arnold, A. W. Anderson, Miss Merle Thomas, Miss Ruth Manning, Miss Orilla Washburn, Miss Lulu Neal, and Miss Miriam Batten. During the stay in Rochester the delegates were entertained by the private families of that city.

The delegates left Lincoln in a special car Monday, December 20th, and joined the other western delegations at Chicago from which place they proceeded by special train direct to Rochester. The convention of the student volunteers which this year was held at Rochester, N. Y., was the first held in four years, the last being at Nashville, Tenn., and was attended by over 3,600 delegates. These were drawn from students, alumnae and missionaries and represented 705 different schools and 26 countries.

To Spread Work.

The principle business of the convention was to bring before the students of this country and of the world the needs of the mission field for the purpose of getting students to enlist for the work. What the field seems to need at the present time is trained men in nearly every line of endeavor—engineers, ordained preachers, teachers, physicians and surgeons, architects, business managers, practical farmers, stenographers, nurses, and superintendents of schools are all needed in foreign fields.

Many prominent speakers addressed the convention, among whom were R. E. Speer, Dean I. E. Bosworth of Oberlin College, Ambassador Bryce, Bishop McDowell, and Professor Harlan P. Beach of Yale. Many other prominent foreign missionaries, educators and laymen spoke at the session. The evangelization of the world in this generation was the watchword.

Stars to Go.

At the close of the convention nine-two college and university students offered themselves for services as foreign missionaries. They included young women from Vassar, Wellesley, and the Womans College of Baltimore and men from Harvard, Yale and Johns Hopkins University as well as men from many other schools both west and east. H. W. Anderson, the Missouri football star was one of those volunteering. Anderson was four years on the football team of the University of Missouri and was captain of the football team and track teams. He sailed from New York Saturday for St. Petersburg, Russia, where he will be physical director of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Many greetings were received from foreign countries among which was that of Baron Nicolay of Russia who said, "Remember Russia; need intense; possibilities tremendous."

LANDON IS CALLED DOWN.

Kansas Manager Has Neglected the 1910 Football Schedule.

According to a statement made by Athletic Manager Lansdon of the University of Kansas, not a single game on the Kansas schedule has been arranged for next fall. The Kansas management evidently has been idle while all the other schools in the valley were arranging their games and Kansas probably will take what is left.

It was the idea of Manager Lansdon this fall to arrange a game with Chicago University. He set about this task on his own hook when he received a call down from the athletic board. The board sent a carefully worded note to the manager asking him to show less activity in taking the initiative in scheduling new games and reminded him that it was his duty to confer with the board on questions of policy. The note also said in strong terms that it would be best for him to give up the idea of a Chicago game and arrange some contests with schools in the Missouri Valley.

The athletic authorities are up in the air about the schedule aside from the Missouri and the Nebraska games. The report comes, and is denied, that Kansas will play Baker, Manhattan, Colorado and Drake. None of these games has been arranged. It looks as if the Kansas schedule will not be so good as in the years past, and the coaches are complaining because it will not be so well arranged. And in the meantime the athletic board is dissatisfied with the arrangements made by Manager Lansdon and "Uncle Jimmy" Green and the other board members are busy drawing up resolutions on the prospective schedule and in calling Lansdon to time.

GIRLS MUST WEAR HATS.

Dean Issues an Edict to That Effect at Radcliffe.

Dean Le Baron Briggs of Radcliffe College has issued an edict to all students of the college, commanding them to wear hats during the winter season. Hitherto it has been the practice of the Radcliffe girls to appear in the streets of Cambridge in the most bitter weather without any head covering and many of them have been in the habit of taking long tramps through the country in this fashion. An epidemic of grippe and pneumonia has recently been prevalent at the college and the authorities became somewhat alarmed at the increasing number of hospital cases.

One of the most remarkable students in any university is registered at Indiana university. Totally blind and twentytwo years old, he will, in the near future, obtain a bachelor's and doctor's degree. He has a strong chance for the Rhode's scholarship. He intends to become an author.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEMBERS IN A FIGHT

CONTROL OF ORGANIZATION OBJECT OF STRUGGLE.

MAY OUST SECRETARY PAINE

That Official May Be Deposed at Meeting Today—University Professors Deeply Interested in the Situation.

The state historical society in which several members of the university faculty are leading spirits, will hold its annual business session today. It is considered likely that some important changes in the management of the society's affairs may result from the meeting.

For several months past there has been trouble brewing in the affairs of the society. Founded originally as a semi-official body of the state to encourage the collection and publication of historical data concerning the history of Nebraska and to further the education of citizens along similar lines, the society has for a number of years done a valuable work. Tons of material have been collected and a large part of the collection has been catalogued and described in printed data. Various historical questions of state interest have been investigated and much light has been thrown on the early life and government of the state.

History Does It.

During recent years the society has been managed by C. S. Paine, who as secretary, was the director-in-chief of its enterprises during the periods between the sessions of the board of directors. Ever since Mr. Paine took office he has been opposed by some members of the society and last year the opposition was possessed of considerable strength. This year still further opposition has developed and today a hard fight will be waged to prevent the further possession by the present secretary of his office.

It is charged by Mr. Paine's opponents that he has utilized the prestige and funds of the society for personal profit. The secretary is also the leading backer of the Morton Nebraska history which has been the subject of considerable comment during the devious process between its inception and the publication of the first two of a series of three volumes. The history is a private affair and certain members of the society object to having the officers of the society also connected with the history.

Specific Charges.

Specific charges against Mr. Paine are that he has employed in the service of the society incompetent assistants at exorbitant salaries, these assistants being also employed in work on the Morton history. Other irregularities are also claimed.

Secretary Paine's side of the case is practically stated by a denial of all the allegations of his opponents. He contends that he has administered the affairs of the society for the society's good and that his connection with the Morton history has been for the sole purpose of putting forth a book worthy of the state. He denies in detail the stories of salary grabs and challenges proof of the charges.

University Interested.

The university is interested in the fight today thru the participation in the affairs of the society of several prominent faculty members. Chancellor Avery and Professor Caldwell are ex-officio members of the board of directors by virtue of their offices as chancellor and professor of American history respectively. Dr. Bessey is a member of the board by election. Other professors are members of the society and some are taking a prominent part in the present activity.
