"The returns for the last term of scholarship marks at the office of the dean of the college show an uncommonly good record for the men of the football squad," says the Yale Alumni Weekly. "Bettered scholarship has synchronized with the training of a championship team, and, perhaps, the best team that has ever represented Yale on the gridiron. Such a result for a single season is not, of course, conclusive. It may possibly be a coincidence rather than a co-relation of athletic and mental forces. But it does make pretty strongly for the idea that in case of the individual athlete into the conference and promises to be good. Michigan shows no immediate intention of taking any such action and is making up her 1910 schedule without asking the consent of the conference mentors on the disputed points.

On the Michigan schedule Minnesota is given a place. Now Chicago demands that this game be cancelled. If the Gophers will not drop Michigan, Chicago announces her willingness to leave Minnesota off the Maroon list in 1910. With this situation in the conference it seems quite possible that the Gophers will seek a release from their agreement with Michigan. If this action is taken, Michigan will have an open date, and it is said that she may consider Nebraska for the place.

If played, it is understood the game would be in Omaha. Whether or not such an arrangement will go through is problematical. Nebraska students can, however, well afford to be interested in the outcome of the conference quarrel.

FROM THE FAR EAST.

Once again is the progressive attitude of the races of the far east brought directly to the attention of Nebraska students. It is now announced that a native Korean, enrolled in the university, is giving military training to a group of his coun-as Wisconsin and her student body is generally healthy. Sanitary conditions are not bad.

It is well, however, even at Nebraska, for careful medical oversight to as great an extent as is necessary. A step has been taken in that direction by the request that all cases of student sickness be reported at once to the registrar's office, that proper attention may be rendered if necessary. This request should be generally understood and carefully followed. Its obedience will not matter to a majority of students, but to a few it may mean much.

ADDRESS BY ELECTRICIAN.

E. F. Shurig to Speak Before Nebraska Electrical Engineers Jan. 18.

The University of Nebraska branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers announces an open meeting for January 18th, 1910, at which Mr Edwin F. Shurig will speak on "Electrical Engineering Contracting." The meeting will be held in Room 106 M. A at 8:00 p. m.

Mr. Shurig is a man of wide experience in this work and has traveled over a large part of the globe. For the last five years he has been connected, as president and treasurer, with the Standard Electric Co., of Omaha. He comes to Lincoln to give this lecture by special invitation of the A. I. E. E.

A CONVOCAION NEED.

Ever since the beginning of the semester the Nebraskan has been calling attention to the lack of student interest in the semi-weekly convocations. The fact of such a lack cannot be denied, but it may be that a wrong has been done in ascribing it entirely to fault of the students. It is just possible that the convocations are to be blamed.

In looking over the announcements for several weeks, it appears that the lecture convocations—those held on Tuesday—are largely, if not almost entirely, devoted to highly intellectual addresses. The programs are calculated to uplift the listeners and as such they are highly to be commended. But there is lacking in the university a series of addresses on current topics of interest to students, expressed in common-day language.

It may be that the convocation period is not the time for such a series. If that is the case then the Friday afternoon period should be devoted to this use. Questions of moment are but imperfectly discussed in the daily papers, and many students have not the time to read widely in the press. A short resume of leading events of the week by men who are in a position to know would be a valuable drawing card. Either this or a series of addresses, each completely covering some up-to-date question, would result in greatly increasing convocation interest.

MICHIGAN POSSIBILITIES.

The present wrangle in the western conference may have direct results on the Nebraska football schedule for 1910. Chicago is insisting that all members of the conference rigidly avoid contests with Michigan until that institution comes back trymen who are studying in the schools of Lincoln. These men are doing this with the definite purpose of preparing themselves in order that they may in the future be of aid to their country in case of conflict with Japan or other powers.

What is happening here at Nebraska is occurring in many American universities. In almost every institution of any size will be found one or more groups of the easterners, sometimes Koreans, sometimes Japanese, and sometimes members of other races. Every group is earnestly endeavoring to absorb the maximum amount of western culture and knowledge during its stay in this country.

Within a few years these men who are now studying American methods and principles will be the leaders in the east. Their influence there and their success in introducing western ideas in an eastern civilization may mark the destiny of the world. In any case it will have a powerful effect on the foreign relations of this country a score of years hence. In all of which Nebraska university is doing its little part, which insignificant as it may be, is nevertheless counting towards the one result.

A MEDICAL ADVISER.

Wisconsin has just installed a medical adviser who will treat all students free of cost in case of illness when they cannot afford the services of regular physicians. Aside from these duties he will be charged with a general oversight of the physical condition of students, including personal physical examinations and sanitary inspection. To pay for these services each student will be charged a fee of $1.

Such a system as that just adopted by the Wisconsin authorities may well be considered by other universities. At Nebraska the need of such an office is not yet strikingly evident. Nebraska is not so large an institution
