Comments on the German play have been pouring in on the members of the cast; all very favorable. The good work done is especially commendable because only eight weeks were taken to train in. When considered, however, that the training was under Miss Heppner, it is not nearly so remarkable. The Nebraskan wishes to take this opportunity to correct a mistake it made. The play was not given by the German Club, although several of its members took leading roles, but it was given directly under the auspices of the German department of the university.

Prof. Lucille Eaves of the department of sociology has accepted an offer from the University of California to become an instructor for the summer school of 1910. The California institution has a summer term in which professors from eastern colleges are engaged for a five weeks' session. Miss Eaves will give her course on the socialization of education. When questioned yesterday by a Nebraskan reporter she stated that she would no doubt remain on the coast for the summer, but that she had no thought of leaving the Nebraska University permanently.

Clayton S. Radcliffe of Sidney, Neb., has pledged Delta Upsilon.

Frank Schwake of Nebraska City pledged Phi Kappa Psi.

Harold McKinney of Omaha pledged Beta Theta Pi.

Miss Edith Forrest entertained the Chi Omega sorority at her home Tuesday evening.

After the presentation of the German play last Friday night Professor and Mrs. Fossler had a little lunch prepared in the lunch room at the Temple, and the members of the cast partook heartily. The amateur actors took this occasion to present a picture to Miss Heppner as a token of their love and their appreciation of her faithful, patient and successful coaching for the play.

A basketball game between the Lincoln high school and the Omaha high school will be held in the University armory Saturday night. Lincoln high has played thirty-four games and lost none of them. This is a remarkable record which it is believed will be hard to maintain during the remainder of the season.
