TEAM TO PLAY AT MINNEAPOLIS TODAY

MINNESOTA HAS ONLY MET ONE DEFEAT THIS SEASON.

MEN DETERMINED TO PLAY HARD

Loss of Petrashek is Keenly Felt—Player Left for West—Will Return Next Year—Has Played Center for Two Years.

The basketball team left Thursday evening for Minneapolis to clash with the Gophers in two games, Friday and Saturday.

Minnesota has a very fast team. It has only been defeated once this year, and will meet Chicago for the championship of the Big Eight. The team's supporters are confident of winning the games with Nebraska, but Coach Hewitt and Captain Perry are determined to give them a close race for their laurels.

The Nebraska team was not in as good condition as it was hoped they would be, but were in much better shape than when they met the Kansas Aggies.

So far Nebraska has won six out of thirteen games, but only eight of these games are in the North Missouri Valley. Ames has won the same number in the same territory, and consequently Nebraska and Ames tie for championship honors. Another game will probably be scheduled between these two schools to decide the draw. In case Nebraska wins the team will then be allowed to play Kansas for the championship of the whole Missouri Valley.

Will Be Handicapped.

The team will be greatly handicapped in the remaining games this year by the loss of G. S. Petrashek, who has played a star game at center for two years. Petrashek has gone west for the rest of the year. His absence will be especially noticeable on account of the hard games which are yet to be played with Kansas. Petrashek expects to come back next year and fight for the Scarlet and Cream.

The men who went on the trip to Minneapolis are Perry, Wood, Hutchinson, Amberson, Hiltner, Jones, Gibson, Schmidt, Eager.

The fraternities are showing up stronger every day in practice. Each fraternity is out with the determination of winning. Only one game has been played as yet, but several others are scheduled for today.

Y. W. C. A. NOON MEETINGS.

Nebraska Association Attempting to Take the Lead.

The Y. W. C. A. noon meetings for the coming week will be as follows: Monday, a praise service, with a piano solo by Florence Malone, two vocal numbers by Irma Sadillek, and other special music.

Tuesday, led by Leta Lynch.

Wednesday, Blanche Campbell, assistant secretary of the city Y. W. C. A., will speak on "Where Shall I Spend My Summer Vacation?"

Thursday, led by Anna East.

Friday, Mr. E. E. Bennett will speak. Nebraska is attempting to take the lead among the larger universities of the country in the matter of foreign mission donations.

Other universities with our student enrollment are giving from three to five hundred dollars a year to foreign missions. Hitherto we have been obliged to fall short of this, but it is hoped by the Y. W. C. A. and others interested in this line of work that Nebraska will this year step into the rank her resources and importance would seem to warrant.

In connection with this aim, attention is called to the unique way in which Nebraska Y. M. C. A. associations are supporting Mrs. Paddock, the Y. M. C. A. secretary in China. The costs of her work in the mission field have been estimated at three dollars a day, and the girls are asked to take the responsibility of one day's support, individually, or by two or more girls combining to raise the amount. Already the university girls have accounted for eight days. If you are interested in this, report to any of the Y. W. officers.

ABSENCE IS TO BE REPORTED.

Immunity Bath To Be Taken From Embryo Lawyers.

All absences from class in the law classes must be reported to the delinquency committee. This is the mandate issued throughout the college of law classes.

The students are indignant at the idea of being treated as are the academic students. Their immunity bath which they have enjoyed "since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary" is to be taken away and a set of regulations directly attacking their freedom is to be substituted. No more will the law student be able to "cut" classes as many times as he sees fit without receiving a missive from the delinquency committee. That it is an outrage and an indignity not to be borne is the opinion of the college.

ADVISOR FOR FOREIGNERS.

Faculty Member to Help Foreigners Register in University.

A movement, originating with the Cosmopolitan Club at the University of Chicago, is on foot, looking to the appointment of a faculty advisor for foreign students. The point is made that a student who is unused to American customs, the language, the university systems and methods is at a disadvantage in his efforts to select his courses, to comply with the regulations, and to get the full advantage of the university opportunities. If there were someone familiar with his language to whom such student could apply for advice and information, it is felt it would result in removing much bewilderment and redound greatly to his academic advantage. The Cosmopolitan Club which is agitating the matter is organized by students of foreign nationality, for the promotion of their interests in the university, and it hopes to present the matter to the authorities in such a light as will result in the appointment of such an official.

WILL SELECT DEBATING TEAM.

Students' Debating Club Will Hold Try-outs This Evening.

The Students' Debating Club will hold try-outs this evening to select a team to debate Wesleyan University. This debate will be in the nature of an inter-society debate and will occur in the near future.

The question for the try-outs this evening is: "Resolved, That labor unions are a detriment to the best interests of the nation."

This is an interesting question to the members of the club, as is shown by the large number who are going to participate in this evening's contest. It is thought that this contest will be the largest of the kind that has ever been held under the auspices of the Students' Debating Club.

The judges selected by the club to choose the team are Dr. Maxey, John Alexander and G. W. Hann. These gentlemen are all competent judges and are well known to university students.

The debate with Wesleyan will be a new venture for a university society. It should afford the means of allowing a larger number of university students to take an active part in debating.

CHANCELLOR AVERY SPOKE LAST NIGHT

GAVE ADDRESS AT OPENING OF Y. W. C. A. STATE CONVENTION.

THREE HUNDRED FIFTY MEN PRESENT

Took Up Relative Contributions of Students of the Past to Religion—J. L. Der Kinderen Addressed Convention in Afternoon.

The thirtieth annual state convention of the Y. M. C. A. was opened Friday evening at the University Place M. E. church. Three hundred and fifty men sat down to the banquet.

Chancellor Davidson of Nebraska Wesleyan University was toastmaster. J. N. Clarke of Hastings and Chancellor Avery of the University were the principal speakers. Others who occupied places at the speakers' table were Dr. G. E. Condra, Dr. W. C. Huntington, Dr. Howard Agnew Johnston, State Secretary Bailey, State Chairman Hill, and Robert Weidensall, who will give the address at the Saturday evening session.

After three hearty cheers for University Place, Wesleyan university, and the ladies who had prepared the meal, the speaking began.

E. T. Bailey of St. Joseph, Mo., and State Secretary Bailey made short speeches, but said they would say nothing in particular so early in the convention. The Wesleyan glee club quartette pleased the crowd with their songs. J. N. Clarke spoke of how hard it was nowadays for a man in business to be a real Christian. He said that there were times in all our lives when we do not know who is on top. It is, therefore, important that we get a good start in life and then keep on top.

Chancellor Avery Speaks.

Chancellor Avery in his opening remarks referred to an amusing instance which made things lively for several minutes. He said that just as he was leaving his home the telephone bell rang and the sharp voice of a reporter inquired for him. The reporter wanted to get a copy of the speech he was to give in the evening. When told that the chancellor had no written speech, he remarked with a sigh: "Well, I guess I'll have to go out and hear your lecture after all." He spoke of relative contributions of students of the past to the cause of religion, through their religious lives, and those of the present. He referred to the apostle Paul, Wycliffe and Wesley as among the greatest of students. He went on to say: "There is too much of a desire, on the part of the modern college students, to make so much of the social life that the religious side is neglected. Some even draw society into their religious meetings. We should pay more attention to deep Bible study, in our college associations. We want to study the Bible in a progressive way. Any Y. M. C. A. man, who is properly trained, can beat out the rationalist every time. He can convince him of the truthfulness and importance of Christianity."

Joseph L. Der Kinderen, secretary of University of Nebraska student association, spoke Friday afternoon on the subject, "Religious Work in Nebraska Colleges." He told of what has been done in the colleges of this state during the past few years, and cursorily brought up a few of the difficulties met with. His address was enthusiastically accepted by the audience.

Your car fare would pay for a nice lunch at the Boston Lunch. Why go home?

STUDENTS SMOKE CIGARETTES.

University Men Do Not Use Pipes and Cigars Much.

Students in the University of Missouri smoke more tobacco in cigarettes than in any other way. The demand for one brand of cigarettes is so great that stores in Columbia frequently are out of them. One store near the university sells more than thirty boxes of cigarettes a day. Since each box contains twenty cigarettes, a total of 600 cigarettes is sold by that store daily. The same store sells several boxes of other brands of cigarettes and many packages of tobacco which is smoked in cigarettes.

GOOD JOBS FOR MANY.

Position as Census Takers Are Being Filled by Students.

The taking of the census this year will furnish occupation for numerous students, graduate and undergraduate, at the University of Chicago. Many appointments of special agents of the census bureau and enumerators have already been made from among the students, and a large list of applications for positions of this sort remains to be passed upon. The fact that Chicago contains a more varied polygot population than any other city in the United States affords openings for those students who speak more than one language, and the unequalled opportunity offered by this large foreign population for the students of political economy and sociology to combine practical observation with theoretical study is the motive actuating very many of the applicants.

OFFICERS' DANCE TONIGHT.

Commissioned Officers' Annual Ball to Be Held at the Lincoln Hotel.

Tonight the annual hop of the commissioned officers of the cadet battalion will be held at the Lincoln hotel. To make this one of the finest informal dances of the year is the intention of the committee in charge. All decorations for this dance will be made in true military style and the uniforms of the officers will add to the dance a rue sense of a military ball.

Many officers of neighboring military posts have been extended invitations to attend this dance and they have accepted. All the commissioned officers of the cadet battalion who attend this dance will be in full-dress uniform and will wear their side arms.

The tickets for this dance have not sold as fast as the committee in charge desires, but the sale of the last few days promise that a large number of people will be in attendance. Carl Modesitt is chairman of the dance and H. W. Coulter is master of ceremonies.

RULES TO BE CHANGED.

Many Revisions in Football to Be Made in March by Committee.

Before the next football season is reached, radical changes in the rules governing the games are likely to be witnessed, and the University of Chicago, through Director A. A. Stagg, is prominently concerned in bringing about this result. The abolition of the "onside kick," the prohibition of "interference," "flying tackle," and the "body check," and the elimination of "tandem" plays, are the most pronounced changes under consideration. It is expected that an agreement between all universities and colleges represented by what is known as the "Rules Committee" will be reached at a meeting set for March 25. The determination at Chicago to rid the game of unnecessary roughness and consequent danger is shared by other institutions to an extent which will, it is hoped, conduce to preserving the game in modified form, in place of abolishing it altogether because of its brutality.

ART FOR ART'S SAKE IS THE ACTUAL ART

PROFESSOR DANN OF GREEK DEPARTMENT SPEAKS.

ART IS BECOMING AN INDUSTRY

Pictures Drawn by Children Are Real Art—Artists Produce Work Now Which is Affected by Society's Criticisms.

"Art for art's sake" is a fallacious and superficial issue. To prove this contention Professor Dann at convention yesterday traced the history of art used for social purposes in ancient Egypt and Greece in the time of the supremacy of Athens. Then he told how the church employed the artists in the middle ages and how the nobles employed them later. In this way the speaker answered both classes of critics.

The next point taken up in the lecture was regarding the intense specialization encouraged by the public. In the desire of the artist to please he brings in craftsmanship. The artist is still controlled in theory by impulse, but his impulses are sometimes checked by the test, "What will people say when they see it?" Thus he tries to suit public opinion and is transformed into an artist who works for society and so art has a social mission.

How Art Becomes Industry.

Society is quick to see how important it is to art and imposes its needs on the artist. In this way art resembles all other industries. Society has produced the art which it uses for its own social ends.

It is composed of those persons who refuse to take seriously at all. They believe that art may be all very well for those who have nothing else to do, but for a modern business man to take any interest in it would be foolish.

The Beginning of Art.

Professor Dann next advanced what he conceived to be the probable theory at the beginning of art. He said it came as the spontaneous feeling of some strong mind and used as an illustration the primitive hunter, who confined to his hut on account of a storm, began to sketch with his hand the picture of the hunt his imagination put vividly before his eyes.

Another illustration was that of the modern child in the primary grades of school. The child begins to sketch on his slate the things that he likes best or that impress him the most.

The crude artists draw the things that their imaginations picture only for their own pleasure and not to produce any effect on society. This is the first example of "Art for Art's Sake."

Then comes the period when the artist tries to please his public. If he is successful, he is admired and gains a position in the industries of today. Thus the individual again becomes a mere wheel or screw in a machine.

Professor Dann contended further that art has some promise of relief to these dwarfing tendencies of modern life.

FAST GAME TONIGHT.

Basketball Game Between Omaha and Lincoln High Attracts Interest of Students.

This evening in the university armory basketball teams from the Omaha high school and Lincoln high school will contest for the state basketball championship. So far this season neither team has lost a game and this fact will tend to cause the players to exert every effort to win the game for their team.

Many of the students of the university are expecting to attend the game, as many of them are former graduates of these high schools and thus are interested in the result of the contest.
