HARRY EWING ELECTED '10 ASSISTANT COACH

ATHLETIC BOARD CHOOSES STAR
FOOTBALL MAN TO AID COLE.

TO BE REPRESENTED AT MEETS

came to Be Sent to Omaha, Kansas
City and Sloux City—High School
Basketball Games to Be Held on Local Floor.

At a meeting of the athletic board last evening several matters of importance to the university and to high schools out over the state were transacted.

The board elected the assistant football coach for next fall and also considered the matter of sending teams to the indoor meets at Kansas City, Sloux City and Omaha. The matter of holding the high school basketball championship games at Lincoln was also discussed by the members of the board.

Ewing for Coach.

One of the principal matters under discussion by the members of the board last evening was the election of the assistant football coach for next fall. H. W. Ewing was elected to fill the position. Ewing has for the past three years been a member of the varsity football team and has played the position of guard and tackle. Never in the three years that he has been on the team has time been taken out for him on account of injuries or any similar thing for which time is usually taken out in a game.

In his three years of experience on the university team Ewing has been under the tutorship of Coach Cole, and next year he is to become Cole's assistant. Ewing has had a number of years of experience also in the "pig-skin" game on the Lincoln high school teams, and thus has had the experience of all the plays and tricks of the game.

Teams for Indoor Meets.

The board also considered the matter of sending teams to participate in the coming indoor meets at neighboring cities. It was decided that the teams which would represent the university at the meets at Kansas City and Sloux City would be small. These meets will be held some time in the near future, and the men who are representatives of the university in each event will comprise the teams which are sent to these meets.

The team on the other hand the board decided, which would represent the university at the Omaha meet would be large and complete. This meet will be held April 1st, and the members of the track squad are preparing already for the events in which the university will be entered.

High School Championship.

The board also considered the matter of holding the championship high school basketball games on the university gymnasium floor. The board decided that this would be done, and that it extend an invitation to all the high schools who wished to compete in the championship games. Any high school team which wishes to participate in these games is urged to notify Manager Eager or Dr. Clapp, as they were appointed as a committee to take charge of the matter and invite all high schools of the state to participate. In this way the championship of the state high schools in basketball will be definitely settled.

The matter of selecting a coach for the varsity track team was not acted on by the members of the board. Several men have made application for the position and the rumor among the students of the university is to the effect that I. P. Hewitt will be offered the position when the board acts on the matter. Mr. Hewitt is at present coach of the university basketball team and has met with success in this line of athletics. As yet no action has been taken by the members of the board.

DATES ARE CANCELLED.

Attack of Throat Trouble Causes

Chancellor to Postpone Addresses.

Chancellor Avery has found it necessary to cancel a number of his dates for addresses. He was scheduled for fifteen days of this work under the auspices of the university extension department, but on account of his throat was unable to fill the last several appointments. He made two addresses a day and would likely have been able to stand the severe strain of the work, but requests for even more talks from the popular chancellor gave him so much to do that it was necessary to arrange for some of the addresses to be made at a later date.

ART CLUB CHOOSES NAME.

Will Be Known in the Future as the Portfolio Club.

The art club held a meeting Saturday afternoon in the studio of Library hall, at which they decided upon a name for the club. The club will henceforth be known as the Portfolio Club. The organization of the club was effected a short time before the Christmas recess. It is composed of students or former students in the school of fine arts at Nebraska and also a few students not registered in the department but interested in the work.

At its meeting Saturday afternoon the club discussed several articles on art from the viewpoint of the artist. The greater part of the meeting, however, was taken up in drawing from a model. The members of the club are permitted to work in any medium when sketching at the meetings.

JAPANESE MAGAZINE RECEIVED.

Former Japanese Student of University Edits Magazine.

Professor W. G. L. Taylor received a copy of "The Japan Magazine," which is published by the Japan Magazine company of Tokyo. The magazine is edited by Yoshichiro Bryan Yamashita.

Yamashita was a student in the University of Nebraska from 1898 to 1904, but only spent, in all, about three years in school. Previous to that time he graduated from Washeda College of Tokyo.

While in the university Yamashita lived at the home of William Jennings Bryan, who assisted him financially. He was a hard working student and took most of the work in the economic and American history departments.

When Mr. Bryan visited Japan on his trip around the world, Yamashita escorted him over the Japanese empire and showed him every courtesy possible.

The following letter accompanied the magazine.

"Tokyo, Jan. 25th, 1910.
"Mr. Taylor, Dear Sir: I have received your manuscript a little while ago and had quite pleasure to have read them. I thank you for your kindness in remembering of me still. I send you here my magazine which just have out on 20th last and hope you look over it if you have chance please. This is quite work for me, but feel sure it will be great success.
"I'm so anxious to get so many subscribers from my old college people and send Chancellor Andrews so many subscription papers. Please you look after it in asking students there in university. I am proud for going to get many subscribers from America.
"Yours truly,
"Y. BRYAN YAMASHITA."

The price of the magazine is 4:50 yen per year.

DR. WALLACE AND WIFE MAKE NEW DISCOVERY

FIND IMPORTANT DOCUMENTS IN LONDON ARCHIVES.

ARTICLE IN MARCH HARPER'S

Story of Labors Told and Shakespeare Presented as a Man Among Men by Professor Wallace.

The most important documents relating to the life of William Shakespeare that have been unearthed in the last 150 years, containing the first authentic signature of Shakespeare found since 1768, have been brought to light by Charles William Wallace, Ph.D., associate professor of English languages in the University of Nebraska, who is now in London on a leave of absence. Dr. Wallace spent all of last summer working in London and made the important discoveries concerning Blackfriars' theater. He and his wife went to England again in October, the board of regents granting him a leave of absence.

Years of Search.

The documents were found by Dr. Wallace and his wife, after years of search, which involved the examination of about a million documents, among the records of the Court of Requests in the public record office in London, where they had lain absolutely undisturbed for 300 years. They constitute the record of a case in which Shakespeare was a witness, and in which the complainant sought to recover a sum he alleged his father-in-law had agreed to give him as a dowry at the time of complainant's marriage.

In a most interesting copyrighted article, which will appear in Harper's Magazine for March, Dr. Wallace tells how he and his wife came to discover these documents of inestimable value to the English-reading world, and gives all the details of the little human comedy in which Shakespeare's part showed him a kindly, sympathetic man in his relations with his neighbors. No other documents in existence throw so strong a light on "Shakespeare as a Man Among Men" as Dr. Wallace's article is entitled.

"Once more," Dr. Wallace writes, "through the ever-constant and devoted assistance of my wife, and as one of the results of our research through some million of documents, I have the honor to present Shakespeare as a man among men. He is here as unmythical as the face that speaks living language to you across the table or up out of the postling street. He is as real and human as you and I who answer with word or touch or look."

Story of Lawsuit.

"The story of this lawsuit, of the facts leading up to it, and of Shakespeare's part in it, is a story of entrancing interest; but hardly less remarkable is the story of the patient, painstaking and laborious search through which the Nebraska professor and his wife attained the success which will bring them the congratulations of all literary students and the gratitude of all lovers of Shakespeare," says the London Times.

In his article Dr. Wallace tells, in a simple and modest way, the story of that search of a million documents—a search that, allowing but two minutes to each document, would mean 33,333 1/3 hours, or over three years and nine months of continuous work. Describing the work that he and his wife carried on so long in the public records office at London, Dr. Wallace writes:

"It was a long search. The chief feeling that possessed us may be gleaned from the fact that we crossed the ocean twice and spent much money and long labor to complete this along with other sets of records.

"And the result may best speak for itself. It is simply the same feeling that has made us cross the water eleven times, travel far enough to put a belt twice about the world's middle, spend annually more than my salary and work double the time allowed by 'the union' merely to find out the truth and set it right."

Such in brief is the story of the most marvelous literary discovery in more than a century, made by a Nebraska professor and his wife, who heretofore have been little known to the great world outside of their own world of books and class rooms. They have found indisputable evidence of the reality of Shakespeare and of his character as a man, and found it where it might have been found centuries ago had others had the patience and perseverance to search for it.

CONVENTION ADJOURNED.

State Y. M. C. A. Meeting Closed Sunday Night.

The state Y. M. C. A. convention closed on Sunday evening. The closing address was given by Dr. Howard Agnew Johnston, special guest of the convention. Robert Weidensall, who started the association work in Nebraska, offered the closing prayer. The unique method of adjourning association conventions was carried out as usual. All delegates and members of the association joined hands, forming a large circle. Over three hundred and fifty members, thus linked hand in hand, sang "Best be the tie that bind our hearts in Christian love." This same method has been used in adjourning almost every Y. M. C. A. convention. This year, however, all members of the Young Women's Christian Association present were invited to form another circle. They helped in singing the song. About one hundred and twenty Y. W. C. A. girls joined the circle. President W. J. Hill then declared the convention adjourned. The state watchword for this year was chosen I Corinthians 16:13. About thirty Nebraska delegates were present at the Sunday night meeting.

MONEY TO SEND JACK IS COMING IN FAST

MAY BE RAISED BY SATURDAY EVENING IS PREDICTION.

ORGANIZATIONS MET LAST NIGHT

Rumor Circulated that Omaha is Quietly Raising Fund to Send In—List of Subscriptions Published.

Subscriptions are coming in rapidly. At the present time sixty-four dollars have been subscribed to send Jack Best to England, and more is coming in every moment. The alumni of the state refuse to be left out until the student body has had its chance, and the management was forced to admit their subscriptions.

It is believed that by Saturday night the money will have been raised. The organizations to which letters have been sent have not replied as yet. Some of the organizations held their meetings Saturday evening and the sororities and fraternities met last night. The action taken on the letters at these meetings ought to be heard from in a few days.

Omaha May Give.

A rumor has also been circulated that the Omaha alumni have been quietly circulating a petition to send Jack to England for the summer and that the results of this subscription will be mailed to the Daily Nebraskan in a few days.

The press of the state have been taking up the matter and Nebraska graduates from over the state are working up enthusiasm which would in the end send Jack to England without any other assistance. The student body has been responding to the call for subscriptions with the utmost readiness. This is all the more remarkable when it is remembered that the student body has not been solicited but that all the subscriptions have been made without the agency of solicitors.

Well Loved.

The fact that Jack Best is loved by every man who has ever come in contact with him is illustrated by the letter received by the Daily Nebraskan regarding the subscription. It follows:

"Gentlemen: I notice in yesterday's issue of your paper the proposed plan to send Jack B. to Eng. This is the best thing that you have started. Why should the alumni be out of it. We all had the benefit of Old Jack's rubbing and also the misery of it, and I for one would be selfish enough to enjoy it if he should be a little weaker as a sailor than he was a rubber. Anyway, here's a ten spot and if more is needed will be glad to do my share.
"Yours for the Uni.
"H. A. TUKEY."
