SAD MISTAKE IN THE DAILY BRINGS GRIEF

ing of last week? If we are a 'body of determined women,' endeavoring to 'force' the issue of equal franchise, it is news to us.

"We are in the third year of our existence. Moreover, we are genuinely interested in our subject. We discuss recent articles, pro and con, and try to keep informed on current events. But no 'speeches' have ever been made at our (serene and tranquil) gatherings, and no 'denunciations' would be allowed, even if some one were disposed to make them; which no member is.

"As for our ultimate enfranchisement, not as a question of 'rights,' but as a logical evolution of the changing structure of society, we expect the men—when they get around to it and are good and ready—to obtain it for us; and we rather think that they will.

Very truly,

GRADUATE CLUB AT DINNER IN TEMPLE

EIGHTY PRESENT, INCLUDING MANY FACULTY MEMBERS.

TWO MORE MEETINGS THIS YEAR

Program Consisted of Short Talks and General Discussion on Problems on Which Different Graduate Students Are Working.

About eighty persons were present last night at the meeting of the Graduate Club at the Temple. Supper was served at 6 o'clock, after which several short talks were made and informal discussions indulged in. The supper was served by the wives of the faculty members of the club.

A large number of faculty members were present, besides club members. The talks were made by Miss Eaves of the political science department, Professor Fossler of the German department, Mr. Elmore, lately returned from India and now working for his master's degree in philosophy and political science, and Mr. Goodrich, a graduate of Nebraska and Wisconsin universities and now teaching in the Lincoln high school. Professor L. E. Aylsworth, president of the club, presided.

Purpose of Meeting.

The purpose of the meeting was to increase the acquaintance of members and faculty and to discuss informally the problems on which different graduate students are working. Two more similar meetings will be held during the year. The one last night was certainly a success, a fine time being enjoyed as well as many benefits received from the discussions.

HAVE ORDERED SLIDES.

German Department Will Illustrate "Fatherland."

The German Department has just placed an order for several hundred lantern slides with Dr. Franz Stoedter Institut fuer Wissenschaftliche Projektions-Photographie, Berlin, the order to be paid for out of the net proceeds of the play given a few weeks ago. These slides are to be used next year in an informal one-hour course illustrating Deutsche Kulturgeschichte—architecture, ecclesiastical, and other, such as castles, towns, and guild halls, wood carvings, sculpture, wrought iron ornamentation, pottery, porcelain stoves, furniture, etc., etc. The course will not be a required subject, but will be open to all, whether in the department or not. No credit will be given for attendance, though students majoring in German will be expected to avail themselves of the opportunity to get acquainted with the artistic treasures of the "Fatherland."

A paper called the Germ was recently published by the women students at Northwestern who were under quarantine last week.
