 Ross W. Bates, '08, was a campus visitor the latter part of last week. He is principal of the Auburn high school and besides has charge of the debating department in that school.
 The task of getting the baseball field in shape for spring practice has been started. Manager Eager has engaged a force of men to take down the bleachers, occupying space on the south side, and to level off the grounds. Out of doors practice for the baseball squad will begin within the next two weeks.

The freshman law students are planning to attend the Orpheum theater this week en masse; that is, in a body, or all at once. A class meeting will be held this morning at 10 o'clock to decide the important matter.

Delta Chi, the law fraternity, Saturday night initiated Ross Bates, one of its charter members who is not in school this year. Mr. Bates is principal of the Auburn public schools. He will probably return to school next year. A banquet followed the initiation.

The Forum

To the Editor of the Nebraskan: Prof. C. E. Persinger tells us that he has no hesitation in entering into a newspaper controversy. From the plain import of his retort we glean the intimation that he delights in it—that it is one of his "long suits."
 He confesses that he was angry and lost his temper. Therefore he would not be as competent mentally to get the facts straight as one who saw it in a cooler and more sane attitude. Furthermore, the Nebraskan reporter had nothing to gain or lose by the report, while the "professor" in telling his story had his reputation as a "prep" disciplinarian at stake and for that reason was under greater liability to get the facts twisted in his own favor.
 He "detests" us. This is the most unkindest cut of all, for we do not detest him.
 All great men make mistakes. Though he is our enemy, yet we love him with all the charity we can muster.
 We were wondering if his request (?) was not a mandate both in form and substance.

played in connection with senior play practice this year? How superficial, then, seems to have been the work of the judging committee if their decision is considered of so little importance as to be cast aside just because a few do not know how to take defeat gracefully. The judges gave their decision and we should abide by it—or else why have asked them to perform this duty for the class. Understudies will only cause friction and ill-feeling, and should not be tolerated for an instant. It is an insult not only to the cast chosen and committee of judges, but almost to the senior class as a whole, when a few members are not satisfied with and do not abide by the decision of the judges. Their motive can only be a selfish and petty one, or else they would gladly abide with what is best for the class.

 Respectfully,
 A SENIOR.
