FRIDAY, MARCH 11, 1910.

Either Hicks sent the wrong kind of weather or someone was a poor prophet, for the freshman class were hard set to secure a quorum yesterday morning. This prophesying is bad business at the best, and in freshman politics—!!!!

Yesterday we heard a robin, and the freshman law class went to the Orpheum in a body. Today we heard a blue jay, and the engineers have announced that they will go to the Orpheum. Can there be any connection between spring fever and that old "March here" fable?

braska is one of the last of the old order.

Some of our neighbors have the student court fully developed and doing successful work. Others have a completely organized system of student police. Others have student self-government in every detail.

After considerable agitation Nebraska has the "honor system." It is true that the system has been installed by and is effective with only a certain portion of the student body—but it is a start in the right direction. The difficulty of organizing such a movement for the entire school was unsurmountable at the present time, so the beginning was made among the fraternity men. Whether the movement spreads to the proportion of similar movements at other universities depends upon the organizations interested.

That the system can be made to work is evident. Had the movement come from the authorities; had it been imposed upon the students against their will there might be every reason to suppose that it would fail. But with the action taken by the students voluntarily—and with the number of students behind the movement—it bids fair to be an unqualified success. It means that Nebraska will advance—will keep abreast of the times. She will not be the last of the old order.

1913 COMMITTEES.

President of Freshman Class Makes Appointments.

The freshman class meeting in Memorial hall yesterday was not well attended, but was rather noisy in its nature. A second semester dance was decided on.

The classmen decided to send in an order for class caps as soon as possible. Robert Funkhauser was appointed track team manager and Russell Mann was made manager of the baseball team. Three men were appointed to places on the inter-class athletic board, G. F. Lehmer, G. W. Hansen and H. Wessell will serve on this board. Committees were appointed as follows:

Ivy Day—Will Ross, M. C. Hargraves and Miss Florence Hostetter.

Caps—C. F. Phillips, A. H. Dinmore and Miss Mary Robbins.

Hop—W. B. Romans, chairman; W. E. Smith, master of ceremonies; C. Radcliffe, L. G. Warner, E. E. Murphy, V. Andrews, Misses Mary Howard, Bess Drake, Adabooth Dolman and Clara Hammer.

A committee was also appointed to arrange for a social event other than a dance—Chairman, H. B. English; Boe Buchanan, R. E. Ammerman, Dean McBrien, and Misses Marie Hodge, Mary Roberts and Helen Carns.

quainted with was that which consisted of lying in the shade under some sheltering elm and keeping cool with the aid of a fan, a long straw and iced things. Today we hear that twelve more Nebraska men may go out in the employ of the government forest service.

THE LAST OF THE OLD ORDER.

Way back in the days when a grim old castle looked down over a frightened town, man was not given the freedom of self-government. Should he have breathed such an idea the castle would have belched forth a body of armed horsemen and the village would have disappeared in a heap of ashes.

Today there are countries where men are not allowed any form of popular government. But these are slowly disappearing—they are the last of the old order.

A change of similar nature has been taking place in the college of today. The days when the old preceptor ruled the collegian with an iron fist are fast disappearing. Not that any faculty supervision in the true sense has been removed from the college, but the police power which has been exercised by the faculty is fast changing hands. It is being delegated to the student body.

In the high school the student is under more or less police regulation. The immature student must be so dealt with. But in the university and college a man, who if out in the world would be under no such restriction, is gradually taking the police power into his own hands. The result is student self-government.

This movement has spread either entire or in part throughout nearly all of the larger universities and colleges of the United States. That no sign of it has heretofore developed at Nebraska is indicative of only one thing—that in the matter of government Ne-

ARE GETTING BUSY.

Blue Print Staff Sends Copy to the Printer.

At last the long looked for event has come. It looks as though there would actually be something done in the near future on the Blue Print. The staff sent the copy for the engineering annual to the printer yesterday.

The Blue Print this year will have a new cover, done in blue, black and gray. The book will contain a large article on Arkansas mining. This is a new method and has never before appeared in print. There are also thirty pages of cuts.

A large number of orders have already been received and the staff is anxious to get as many orders as possible within the next two weeks. The price of the book is fifty cents.
