PHI BETA KAPPA KEYS ARE AWARDED TODAY

THIRTY ONE MEMBERS OF THE SENIOR CLASS ARE HONORED.

THETA KAPPA NU ELECTS SIX

Delta Sigma Rho Elections Announced
—Honorary Scholarship Fraternities Give Out New Members at Convocation This Morning.

Thirty-one seniors received membership in Phi Beta Kappa at the annual convocation this morning. This is a larger number than which attained the scholarship last year, at which time there were only twenty-two members of the senior class elected to membership in the scholarship fraternity. The election is in accordance with the constitution of the society that not more than one-sixth and less than one-tenth of the members of the graduating class be granted the Phi Beta Kappa key.

Three boys and twenty-eight girls compose the honor list for the year 1910. On the whole the grades of the newly elected members of the society were very similar to those of the members of the class last year who were elected to membership in the scholarship fraternity. In several cases students were not elected to membership to the fraternity on account of not having completed seven of the eight required lines of work in the college of arts and sciences. The university requirements for graduating is that the members of the student body shall have completed six of the seven lines of required work, but the constitution of Phi Beta Kappa fraternity provides that seven out of eight of the required lines of work must be completed.

Election Changed.

At the meeting of the chapter last night it was voted that to be considered for election to Phi Beta Kappa, a member of the class of 1911 must have "finished the six out of eight groups of subjects required for graduation, complete and without substitution, one of the six being the classics or the exact-science requirement."

The Theta Kappa Nu fraternity has had a chapter at Nebraska for four or five years. It is a national organization and corresponds very much to Phi Beta Kappa, having the same scholarship requirements. An average of 90 or more in all required work is necessary for eligibility, and not less than one-tenth and more than one-sixth of the members of the senior law class may be chosen from the graduating class each year.

The honor men of the freshman law class were also announced. In order of preference they are Anthony Z. Donato, A. J. Ludden and Thos. B. Andrews. Prizes are given to the three honor men each year by Dr. Pound, associate dean of the Chicago law school, formerly dean of the Nebraska law school. This year the prizes consist of "Anglo American Legal Essays," Holdworth's "History of English Law," and Tucker's "Constitution of the United States."

Announces New Members.

CHANCELLOR AND DEAN ARRIVE AT DECISION

TWO LAW STUDENTS INDEFINITELY SUSPENDED.

CHANCELLOR MAKES STATEMENT

Disregard of Instructions and Arrest and Disorderly Charges Are Chief Causes of Punishment—Two Suspended Until Easter.

Two students of the college of law were indefinitely suspended Friday by Chancellor Avery as a result of the St. Patrick's day's celebration and its aftermath. One was disciplined because he violated the instructions of Dean Hastings in spite of the letter of the chancellor warning him of the consequences. The other suspension was due to an arrest and a disorderly charge lodged against a student who appears to have visited Havelock the day before, as well as skipping classes. Two other students were suspended until after Easter vacation and some others were privately reprimanded and warned.

Chancellor Makes Statement.

Chancellor Avery made the following statement after the action suspending the students had been decided upon:

"The chancellor and Dean Hastings, after a thorough investigation of matters connected with the proposed law 'sneak day,' and the visit of certain students to the saloons of Havelock in the evening, have arrived at the following decision:

"One student whose name has appeared in the public press in this connection is suspended indefinitely from the university. His case seemed to be somewhat more deserving of severe treatment than that of some of the others, owing to the fact that he was more intoxicated, and returned to the city with a bottle of whisky, which he exhibited on the car, in his possession. One other student, whose name has not been mentioned in the public press, is also indefinitely suspended on account of failure to give a satisfactory excuse for not obeying the chancellor's summons to his work on the proposed sneak day, and also for being one of the party to visit the Havelock saloons. Two students whose names have appeared in the public press are suspended until after the Easter vacation. Two other students whose names have not been given to the public are given a private reprimand and warning.

"The investigation discloses the fact that while the six students, or at least most of them, were noisy and showed evidences of intoxication, there was no profane or improper language used by any of the students, and that the statement made by the police officers to the dean in regard to the deportment of the young men and their relation to the employes of the Traction company, were entirely fair and impartial towards all concerned."

The student body regrets that the chancellor felt forced to take such a course in this matter. These are the only cases which have so far been before the faculty this year. This cannot be considered a very large percent among the 4,000 students. It is known that the police have been stricter in their arrests this year than ever before. It is hoped there will be no need for further suspensions in the future.

Notice.

Try-outs for the track team which will represent the university at the Omaha athletic meet will be held Wednesday of this week. All men who are interested in the success of the Nebraska team are urged to be out and try for a place on the team.
