TUESDAY, APRIL 19, 1910.

Alas! The weeping pine drools mournful tales to the frozen lilac as the chill blast blows dire death o'er the lifeless heath (see lit. 2). Pause! what is worse, we have three or four spring poems which we are unable to unload on the university public owing to the sudden fall in the demand.

"Hoko-me-kokos!" That is unauthentic Hindoo for the mystic fade-away act performed by the backers of the new Anti-Sphinx organization when pursued by our oily tongued interviewer. He hid behind the lilac bushes, he tip-toed softly up wind, he even skipped three classes and was "up before the committee," but nary an Anti-Sphinx promoter. The new political organization is evidently an hallucination.

The University of Missouri has a class in which nearly an hour is spent daily in discussing the motives for buying things to eat. We beg to suggest that we usually buy things to eat because we want to eat them, and we usually want to eat them because we are hungry for them. Some day, when Nebraska is in the grip of whatever it is that has hit Missouri, she will probably install a class for the investigation of "Why is a Hen?"

"The truth will out" (sometimes). Apparently the terrible T. N. E. at Nebraska is really as harmless as he has been painted in recent press reports and the big boggy with which we used to frighten ourselves into a stupor is either to continue extinct, or, if it should join the national organization, will become an adjunct to the other philanthropic and missionary brotherhoods of the campus. In truth it seems to be a case of misplaced mistrust.

Just where we have placed our pedal extremities on the question of both football and baseball ought to be plain to the most watery-eyed, callow-minded individual in the middle west. We want football that is a man's game, but we are opposed to running a supply house for the hospital; and we want baseball eligibility settled along the same common sense lines that we would apply to building a bungalow or digging fishworms.

THREE CHAMPIONSHIPS DECIDED

Hebron, Ashland and Geneva Are Winners.

In the Nebraska High School Debating League three district championships were decided Friday night. Hastings won the championship of the southern district, Ashland of the east-central district and Geneva of the central district. Each of these schools will therefore send a representative to the championship debate on Fete Day, May 8.

In the southern district Hastings won from Hebron by a two to one decision. The debate was held at Hastings. Hebron upheld the negative of the league question. Hastings' representatives were Florence Parks, Van Webster and Hazel Parks. Hebron's debaters were Earl Van Natter, Morton Brunig and Harvey Hess. The judges were Dr. Maxey of the law school, Prof. A. J. Mercer of the Kearney normal, and Supt. C. B. Toof of Fairfield. The Hastings debaters were coached by Principal C. M. Barr.

Ashland won a unanimous decision over Seward at Ashland, the judges being Professor Churchill of Wesleyan, Professor Philpot of Lincoln high school, and Mr. Redmond of the 1891, was the only graduate bearing that name. The keys were sent to his home in Presque Isle, Me., where they will arrive day after tomorrow.

OFF FOR KANSAS.

Chancellor, Richards and Lyford Go to Conference.

Chancellor Avery, Dean Richards and Regent Lyford left last night for Kansas City to attend the football conference to be held there today. Regent Lyford is the only Nebraska regent who was able to attend. Some important action is expected on the part of the conference with regard to football in the universities of the Missouri Valley and Nebraska gridiron followers are anxiously looking forward to the results of the conference tonight. The Nebraska delegates will return from the Jayhawker city tomorrow.

TRACK MEET POSTPONED.

Cold and Stormy Weather Proving a Serious Drawback in the Training Work.

On account of the cold and snowy weather the meet advertised for Saturday between the two teams of the track squad had to be postponed. It held. The weather is also proving a serious drawback in the squad's regustate department of instruction. Ashland was represented by Anna Wagner, Lloyd Worley and Anna Woodward. Ethel Flood, Herschel Gereke and Cora Blacker spoke for Seward.

Geneva won a two to one decision over Sutton at Geneva. Sutton had previously defeated Grafton and Geneva had defeated Osceola. Prof. G. A. Stephens of the economics department was one of the judges.

Plattsmouth defeated Blair unanimously at Plattsmouth. The judges were Prof. E. B. Conant and Prof. C. A. Robbins of the school of law, and Mr. A. E. Sheldon of the legislative reference library.

Peru won both her debates with Kearney normal, held at Kearney and Peru. At Peru the judges were Mr. Albert Watkins, Judge Paul Jensen of Nebraska City and Principal Frank Beers of Beatrice. This decision was unanimous. At Kearney the judges were Professor Fogg, Judge John B. Thompson of Grand Island and Supt. C. W. Taylor of McCook. The decision was two to one for Kearney. After the debate Professor Fogg gave a short talk on debating to some of the faculty and the team at Kearney at their request.

THRILLING TALE TOLD.

Bunch of Keys Traverses Continent in Search of Master.

The romance of a bunch of keys, or rather the shiftlessness of a bunch of keys, was brought to the attention of the university authorities yesterday. The story, which runs like a fairy tale, is as follows:

A bunch of keys was picked up on the street in front of Fdaneo Hall, Boston, Mass. Upon the key ring was inscribed, "Chapel, University of Nebraska." The keys were sent to Nebraska, arriving here yesterday. On looking up the records it was found that G. E. Chapel, who graduated in lar training. Work has practically stopped until better weather.

Anderson, the star distance runner, hurt his ankle in some way Friday night. It is hoped the injury will not prove serious, as it would be a blow to the team's chances in coming meets.
