Well Made—

That expression characterizes our L SYSTEM clothes. Every suit will keep its shape until worn out—thats due to good workmanship.

Style and pattern the very latest. Essentially young men's clothes; with snap, ginger, individuality in every line. Conveniently priced at $15 to $30.

Our KENSINGTON CLOTHES—$20 to $40—for the more conservative man, are noted for their fit. You may often find Kensington fabric quality in other clothes but rarely Kensington fitting qualities.

That broad chested effect in Kensington suits is gotten by good tailoring, not by padding. Style, fit, quality, in every way they're the perfection of clothes maker's art.

Chanticleer Neckwear

Rarely does anything absolutely new in neckwear appear. Chanticleer neckwear is new. Narrow four-in-hands of bright red—Chanticleer red—the color of the cock's comb, not "loud" but a full, rich red silk tie, delicately figured 50c in a floral design.

Manhattan Shirts

You know Manhattan Shirts are standards for high quality shirts. In very pretty figured and striped effects, in tastily blended colors or plain white, some with the popular soft double cuffs, $1.50 to $3.00 Excellent shirts in other lines at $1.00 and 75c.

THEY MAY STROLL IN FREQUENTED PLACES

MISSOURI SIDEWALKS CLASSED AS "FREQUENTED."

NO DRIVING AFTER DARK

Co-eds Indignant Over Phases of Mass Meeting Rules—Don't Like to Run to Chaperone for Permission to Leave the House.

No! Not more than four evening engagements a week for University of Missouri women. So spoke the voice of the co-ed at a recent mass meeting of women. The same meeting passed many rules for the government of the girls in the side-hill school.

"But think of having to inform the chaperone where we are going every time we leave the house," said one fair-haired Missourian who was not present at the conclave. "Why, only yesterday evening I wanted to run out to buy chocolates and couldn't find the chaperone. It was awful!"

What has caused the most indignation among the ladies of Missouri, however, is the rule prohibiting driving after dark and forbidding strolling in any but frequented places. "How can they keep me from going driving after dark?" said one co-ed, with flashing eyes. "I live at home, and if mother wants to let John call for me, I'm going. So there!"

Some Puzzling Questions. What is strolling? What are frequented places? These and other questions were asked at the meeting. The women decided that frequented places meant "anywhere a sidewalk can be found."

The rule closing formal dances at 1 o'clock in the morning caused the most discussion yesterday.

"The men pay for the dances and I don't see what right we have to dictate to them," said Miss Margaret Ross. "I think they are going to object strenuously."

"We are making these rules for ourselves and not for the men," said Miss Caroline Benton.

"But the men dance. I don't see how we can make rules for them," said Miss Margaret Woodson. "We simply can not get to a dance in time to get home by 1 o'clock."

"But the men can't dance after we have gone home," said Miss Anna Van Hook.

The responsibility for the enforcement of the rules was not fixed. The women first thought the boarding house keepers should be responsible, but decided they could do nothing more than make requests of the landladies.

JUST PUBLISHED
Webster's NEW INTERNATIONAL Dictionary, (G. & C. Merriam Co., Springfield, Mass.) surpasses the old International as much as that book exceeded its predecessor. Editor in Chief, Dr. W. T. Harris, former U. S. Com of Education. The definitions have been rearranged and amplified. The number of terms defined has been more than doubled. The Etymology, synonyms, pronunciation, have received unsparing scholarly labor. The language of English literature for over seven centuries, the terminology of the arts and sciences, and the every-day speech of street, shop, and household, are presented with fullness and clearness. In size of vocabulary, in richness of general information, and in convenience of consultation, the book sets a new mark in lexicography.
400,000 words and phrases.
6000 illustrations.
2700 pages.
