MONSTER RALLY TO BE HELD THIS MORNING

CHANCELLOR AVERY WILL PLACE NEW PLANS BEFORE STUDENTS.

TO FINANCE STUDENT ACTIVITIES

Various Phases of Student Work Are to Be Financed—Minnesota Meet Enthusiasm, and Baseball Spirit Are to Be Cultivated.

An All-Nebraska Rally. That is the attraction at convocation this morning. Every student is asked to attend this rally as things of interest to every student in the university will be discussed. Chancellor Avery will be the principal speaker and he has a plan which he will lay before the students of the school whereby things strictly along the lines of university activities will be placed on a strong financial basis.

Among these things which are of particular interest to the student body are athletics, debating, glee club work and the Daily Nebraskan. Incidentally the coming athletic meet with Minnesota and the baseball games with the Ames Aggies tomorrow will be brought before the students and enthusiasm for these athletic contests will be aroused.

Financial Plans.

For the past week the chancellor has been working on a plan whereby the various student activities along certain lines might be financed. The investigation has resulted in a developed plan of work and this plan the chancellor will lay before the student body this morning. The plan as far as it is known is that a fee will be assessed to every member of the student body when they register. This fee will go to pay a part of the expenses of athletics, debates, glee club work and the Daily Nebraskan.

If this plan is carried out in detail a petition will be in all probability started and all the students of the university will be requested to sign this petition to the regents for having this fee added to the registration fees. When this fee is added then students of the university will be given a season ticket to all athletic events and will also receive the Daily Nebraskan free of charge. That is, by the payment of this fee all the university students will become subscribers to the Daily Nebraskan.

Debate and Concert Tickets.

In the other phases of student activities as well as athletics and the Daily Nebraskan are considered then in all probability the students who pay this fee will be granted season tickets to all the intercollegiate debates held at the university as well as all the concerts which will be given by the members of the glee club.

Track Meet.

The biggest meet held on Nebraska field for several years will be pulled off tomorrow afternoon. The hopes of the Nebraska track men are that they will come off victorious. That they need the support of every loyal student is the feeling of every man who enters the contest tomorrow. As this is necessary to aid towards victory, the rally will also be for the purpose of increasing Nebraska spirit and interest in the work of the men of the track team as well as the work of the men of the baseball team who meet the Ames nine on the home field tomorrow and Saturday.

RANGE DETACHMENT EAT.

Hold Banquet at Lindell Hotel.

The range detachment of the university cadets held a banquet at the Lindell hotel Tuesday evening. Captain Yates, commandant, and Captains Kremer, Weiss and Modesett and Lieutenant Smith of the staff were guests. Captain Bartlett, inspector of rifle practice in the cadet battalion, acted as toastmaster, with Captain Yates in the seat of honor.

The work of the detachment during the year was discussed and generally commended. Certain improvements were suggested, such as revolver practice for the officers, medals and other insignia for high records on the range while in camp, and the formation of a rifle club.

Captain Weiss' quotation from ex-President Roosevelt: "The shot that tells is the shot that hits"—illustrates the efforts and aims of this new department of the university cadets.

Captain Kremer in a lively speech emphasized one requisite of a good soldier. It was, in brief, prompt execution and unquestioning obedience to commands from superiors in rank.

The important speech of the evening was made by Captain Yates. It was in effect that ability to shoot is an essential of a soldier, that the shooting records of the United States soldiers was the pride of our armies, and that the range detachment is the vital element which will make the university battalion and each university cadet a formidable fighting machine should necessity call them into the services of our country. He told of the saber's place in the army and what a saber means. He expressed the opinion that it would always remain as a symbol of authority and sentiment, and closed his speech by presenting to Captain Bartlett, in behalf of the range detachment, a beautiful saber.

NEBRASKANS.

There is a time for all things. Don't be a buzzard and sit off in a corner picking your teeth over a meal on dead grouches. Come out and throw your little "Whoopee!" in with the rest, to make things hum for Nebraska. Mummies belong way back in the days of the pharaohs. We prefer 'em live. Leave the old shell dry up with the slime and ooze, and come out to Nebraska's big mass meeting at convocation this morning. Remember—the mummy died five thousand years ago.

INVITATION ACCEPTED.

Chancellor Accepts the Invitation of Riggs the Druggist for Students.

Yesterday an invitation for all university students to attend the Riggs Pharmacy and there enjoy a treat on the proprietor, Mr. Riggs, the night of the company "Q" parade, was received. Chancellor Avery, acting on behalf of the students of the university, accepted the kind invitation, and the paraders will attend the popular pharmacy in a body this evening.

NAY! NAY! FRESHIE!

Mortar Boards for Seniors, Alas.

She was a cute little freshman as she mounted the library steps yesterday morning. Balanced at a becoming angle over her curly locks she wore a mortar board.

It was all over in an instant. Without a word of warning, without a cry, two senior girls appeared on the scene and the struggle began. They demanded the cap, in tones of anger. She demurred. A scuffle ensued. The seniors carried the day, and the freshman, dishevelled and grinning, continued her journey toward the reserve desk of the library.

BIG BONFIRE AFTER COMPANY "Q" PARADE

FIELD TO BE DECORATED WITH COLORED LIGHTS.

WILL BE A GREAT SHAM BATTLE

School Dismissed for Afternoon. Large Attendance Expected at "Compet" on Athletic Field.

There will be a number of new features in the parade of "Company Q" tonight. After the parade is over the students will gather on Nebraska field, where a large bonfire will be built. The field will be decorated with colored lights. In the midst of these lights there is to be a great sham battle. Many other interesting things will furnish fun and entertainment. Every student is urged to be in the parade.

The plan outlined by Chancellor Avery for the "Company Q" parade seemed to meet with general approval by the student body. The paraders are expected to include more of the upper classmen this year than has lately been the custom. The captain of the winning company will lead the parade and will be assisted by the other captains. There seems to be no danger that the students will not obey the injunction to restrain from roughness and rowdiness.

There will be no school this afternoon and everybody ought to be at the athletic field to witness the annual compet. On account of the intense interest and rivalry between the companies the drill will be done by each company to the very best of its ability. There will also be the individual drill, the winners to be awarded medals. The companies drill for the colors and a cup. The judges will be regular army officers from Fort Crook.
