CORNHUSKERS DEFEAT FAST MINNESOTA TEAM YESTERDAY THREE NEBRASKA RECORDS ARE BROKEN

WONDERFUL WORK OF CORNHUSKER STAR TRACK AGGREGATION CARRIED SPECTATORS OFF THEIR FEET—SHOT PUT, BROAD JUMP AND 440 RECORDS SET

The Nebraska-Minnesota track meet of 1910 is now a thing of the past, but it will be discussed for days to come. The meet made yesterday one of the most memorable days in the history of the University of Nebraska, for the meet itself was probably the best that has ever been held here. Nebraska won. The Cornhuskers defeated the mighty Gophers by the score of 63 to 49. And yet the score tells only a small part of the story. Three university records were broken and an exhibition of true Nebraska spirit was given that has seldom, if ever, been equaled. Every man fought to the limit and gave his school the best that was in him. Men who were new members of the team and who had never won their spurs, contested with and defeated veterans.

Although some men won more than others, twelve men won points for Nebraska and the relay was not run at that. Thus the record of victories over Minnesota remains unbroken. The greatest track team that has ever represented the Gopher institution was defeated by a team of Cornhuskers on which there were only three veterans.

Three Records Broken.

Three University of Nebraska records were broken in yesterday's meet. The former shot put, broad jump, and 440-yard dash records met their Waterloo at the hands of Shonka, Munson and Reed respectively.

This is Shonka's first year in track work and his work of yesterday was marvelous. The former record of 38 feet and 8 inches was held by Sid Collins. The record made by Shonka yesterday was 40 feet and 3 inches. This beats the old record by one foot and seven inches. Shonka's feat was accomplished by persistent work. He has practiced faithfully every day, and yesterday's record was the result of his efforts.

Munson is also a new man on the team and is eligible for two more years of track work. By jumping 22 feet 3 1-2 inches in yesterday's meet he broke the former university record by one and one-quarter inches. This is farther than he has ever jumped before in his life.

The other record breaker was Guy Reed. Reed defeated Minnesota's great sprinter, Hill, in the 440-yard dash and broke the former university record of 52 1-5 seconds by winning that event in 50 2-5 seconds. Reed also won second in the 100-yard dash and tied Hill in the 220-yard dash, winning in all 12 points. This gives Reed a place among the west's greatest track stars.

Other Point Winners.

Captain Burke was a close second in the 440-yard dash and enabled Nebraska to win all the points in this event. Hill of Minnesota was thus defeated by two Cornhuskers in this event. Clark won the mile. This was one of the most exciting races of the day, and real Nebraska spirit in its purest form was shown here.

Graham tied for first place as a point winner. He won first in the high jump, second in the broad jump, and tied with Shock for first place in the pole vault, a total of 12 points. Flack won first place in the high hurdles and won his "N." This was one of the events that the Gophers were sure of winning.

Harmon won the hammer throw. This was another of the notable events of the day. Harmon has never had any track training before this year, but by persistent practicing every day since early in March he became so expert in throwing the hammer that he was able to take first honors yesterday.

Amberson won second in the half mile. By a wonderful sprint near the finish, he passed two contestants and won second place. Fleming won second in the high hurdles and Melik won second in the two-mile run.

Our Coach.

Too much credit cannot be given to Ben Cherrington for yesterday's victory. He has worked incessantly since he was elected by the athletic board and has aroused a spirit among the men that will serve as an example for years to come. He is loved by every man on the team and is a true Nebraska product.

The team was banqueted at the Lincoln hotel last night by the coach. The banquet was in the nature of a celebration for yesterday's victory.

AGGIES HUMBLE CORNHUSKERS 12 TO 4

GAME TUCKED AWAY IN THE FIRST THREE INNINGS.

NEBRASKA'S ERRORS LOSE GAME

Frank Pitches Good Game—Cumming Star Hitter for Cornhuskers—Johnson Swats the Ball Like a Fiend.

With free balloon ascensions and a general good circus program all around, the Ames Aggies romped away with the big end of a 12 to 4 score in the baseball game with the Cornhuskers yesterday. Errors and slow playing characterized the work of both teams, and errors in every case on the part of the Cornhuskers meant scores for the visitors.

"Li'l Awthur" Johnston was on the mound for the alfalfa gatherers and he had "Cap" Greenslit's boys on his hip up to the last inning, and then Ames made their grand ascension, and that isn't all. Nebraska got three scores, but the lead of the farmers could not be overcome. "Li'l Awthur" was also the boy with the big stick. Out of five times up he soaked the horsehide for three safe ones, and that isn't all. These three bingles were two home runs and one which landed him on the third pillow.

The Slaughter.

"Doc" Herbert for the Aggies started the slaughter for the Aggies by binging the ball on the cheek for a high one out to right, which Patterson could only touch Malloy whacked out a little single and "Doc" scored. That was the first one. In the second four bingles, one a three-bagger, netted the Aggies three runs. Not to be satisfied, they came back in the third, and here the Cornhuskers made their first grand and successful balloon ascension, and before the bag could be cut and the gas let out three more tallies were chalked up to the credit of the potato diggers.

Olmstead, who had been on the mound for the Cornhuskers, was taken out this inning, after he had passed a man and Johnston had banged the horsehide for one of his four-sackers. Frank went in and cut the rope and Nebraska's parachute came down.

Things ran along nicely until the ninth, when the second balloon ascension was made, and it was a hummer. Everybody scored. Five runs was the total asset of the farmers before it was all over. Eight errors in this inning helped this along nicely, as well as did a passed ball and two hits, one for four sacks.

Nebraska started things in the second, when Waters and Metcalfe worked the squeeze play and rattled Cap Matter, scoring Metcalfe. Nothing occurred again until the ninth, when Cumming started off the program by swatting the horsehide on the cheek and landed on the fourth pillow. Waters followed with a hit, and Frank made first on an error by "Shorty" Kerrigan. Sleuther bingled for a single and Greenslit swatted a nice little one down between first and second. These two safeties scored Waters and Frank, and after that the Aggies' balloon landed in safety.

Frank after his entry in the game in the third inning pitched fine ball, allowing but three hits and striking out eight men. Cumming was the star for Nebraska with the stick, getting two safe hits out of three times at bat, one of these being good for four sacks. The score:

"ARMS AND THE MAN" BY DRAMATIC CLUB

TYPICAL SHAW PLAY—FIRST APPEARANCE MAY 25.

SCENE LAID IN BULGARIA

Custom of Club to Give a Play Each Semester—Last Play Was a Decided Success.

The University of Nebraska Dramatic Club has announced a play to be presented Wednesday evening, May 25, in accordance with the custom of presenting a play each semester. Last semester the club produced the character play "What's the Matter With the Professor?" and everyone agreed that it showed work of a very high standard. The club had to give this play twice to satisfy the demands of the public.

The play this semester is to be the three-act comedy, "Arms and the Man," by George Bernard Shaw. This is a typical Shaw play, abounding in humorous situations and at the same time pointing out a decided moral from every day experiences. The play has had long runs in the large cities not long since, but has never been produced in Lincoln.

Plot of Play.

The first act is laid in the bedroom of a Bulgarian army officer's home. His daughter has just retired when her room is unceremoniously entered by a Servian army officer, who is fleeing from the Bulgarians. In a short time pursuers search the bedroom, but fail to find the captain, as the girl has hidden him and lies to prevent the officer in charge of the search from discovering him.

During the second act the Bulgarian officer returns home in company with a major who is engaged to the officer's daughter. The major, while delighted to reach his fiancée's home, starts to make love to the pretty maid as soon as he is alone with her. The maid very subtly lays plans to entrap the major.

In the third act the Servian captain returns in order to see the daughter, and then developments come thick and fast, with the result that things are unexpectedly and humorously fixed up to give general satisfaction.

The club has engaged an orchestra to play during the evening. Reserved seats will be on sale at the Temple beginning Monday at 4 a. m. If the crowds turn out as well as at the first semester play it will pay to get tickets early.

The Delta Tau Delta will entertain their friends at a house party at their residence tonight.
