NEBRASKA TAKES THE SECOND FROM AMES

CORNHUSKERS VICTORIOUS BY A 4 TO 2 SCORE.

U. OF N. WINS IN THE FIFTH

Mather Pitched a Steady Game and Passed but Three Men—Cumming the Star for the Cornhuskers with Stick.

Clyde Williams' boys from the Ames Agricultural College vied with Cap Greenslit's "professionals" in seeing who could dig the horsehide out of the mud the best Saturday, and the Aggies were the losers by a 4 to 2 score. And that's the whole of the matter.

The Aggies and the Cornhuskers both played the game for all that there was in it, but the Aggies blew up in the fifth and the Cornhuskers scored enough in that chapter to clinch the game. Up to the fatal fifth it was nip and tuck, with the argument slightly in favor of the visitors. Mather was on the mound for the Cornhuskers, and he made himself solid with the management on two occasions by holding the Aggies down and not allowing them a score after the bases were full. Besides he whiffed six of the Aggie stars and allowed but three passes to first. On the other hand, Maytag, who was on the firing line for the Iowans, issued six free tickets to the initial punch and retired but five of the Cornhuskers by the strike-out route.

The Battle.

In the second inning the Aggies started things. Thomas, the first man up, binged the ball for two pillows. Dorsey and Kingman were easy outs, and Herbert singled, scoring Thomas. On a batters' choice, Herbert was brown out at second.

Nothing more occurred until the fifth, when Mather for the Cornhuskers was issued a free pass. He was thrown out on second by Sleuthers bunt to third. Greenslit singled and an error by the Aggies' left fielder allowed Mather to score. That started things. The Aggies' balloon went up and before it had landed the Cornhuskers had the game safely tucked away in their jeans with four scores. Ratcliffe singled and Greenslit scored on an error by the left fielder. Clarke fanned and Cumming singled, scoring Rat. On a fumble of Metcalfe's fly to right Cumming scored. Fehliman went out, second to first, and the balloon came down. Nothing happened after that on Nebraska's side of the score sheet, while Ames managed to push Malloy across the platter in the sixth by means of a single, a sacrifice, a stolen base and two errors. After that it was all over.

Cumming was again the star slugger for the "professionals," securing two hits out of four times up.

LENGTHIES DEFEAT RUNTS

Small Crowd Turns Out to See Benefit Game for Jack Best.

In a six-inning game, the Lengthies defeated the much vaunted runts by the score of 12 to 6. The feature of the game was the hard hitting of the Lengthies. The Runts were able to connect with Storms' twisters only in one inning.

Stub Hascall made an assisted double play in the third inning which materially aided in holding the score of the Lengthies as low as it was. Many errors were made on both sides, but the game was interesting from the viewpoint of the spectator.

Only thirty-three paid admissions were received at the gate. This was a much poorer showing than had been expected.

The line-up:

Runts—Smith, c.; Buchanan, cf.; Hawley, ss.; Hascall, lb.; Drake, 2b.; Stultz, 3b.; Forsyth, lf.; Elliot, rf.; Oliver, p.

Lengthies—Laubach, 2b.; Storms, p.; Holland, lb.; Blish, 3b.; Leroy, ss.; Switzer, c.; Griffin, lf.; Reddish, cf.; Struve, rf.

CHEMISTRY BANQUET.

Miss Fossler Toastmistress.

The chemistry food class gave a banquet last Thursday in the chemistry library. Miss Fossler was toastmistress. Everything was cooked in the chemical laboratory and served in chemistry dishes.

RECEPTION AT TEMPLE.

Annual Chancellor's Reception to Seniors Held Friday.

The annual reception of the seniors by the chancellor was held Friday evening in the Temple. About seventy-five members of that class were in attendance. Strawberries and cream were served by four of the senior girls. A very enjoyable evening was spent by those present.

MISS DOUGLAS WINS STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

FINAL DEBATE IN NEBRASKA LEAGUE FRIDAY.

HASTINGS MAN IS SECOND

Students from Over State Attend Debate at York—Ten Debaters Entered—Last of Forty-four Contests.

At the annual debate of the Nebraska High School Debating League held at York Friday night the championship for 1909-1910 was won by Miss Marie Douglass of Plattsmouth. The contest was hard fought and the work was of excellent quality. The judges awarded second honors to Van Webster of Hastings and third to Jesse Ertel of Geneva. There were ten debaters in the race for final honors of the league, having been chosen at district contests of which there have been forty-four, the first of which were held last February.

This was the first time the championship laurels have been won by a young lady. Miss Douglass was the representative of Plattsmouth and the eastern district. She changed to the affirmative side of the question about a week before the debate, all her previous work being on the negative side. She was one of the team from Plattsmouth which to win the district championship had defeated Fremont, Blair and Wahoo. Miss Douglass is valedictorian of this year's senior class at Plattsmouth high school. She has won several other honors in public speaking contests. She was awarded the gold medal in the east-central district declamatory contest at Omaha last year, and won second place in the state contest. She has been a member of the Plattsmouth debating team three years. Next year she intends to enter the state university.

Van Webster, winner of second place, represented Hastings and the southern district. Last year he won second place in the central Nebraska intercounty debate. Formerly of the Harvard high school, he is now a senior at Hastings. His team won on the negative from Edgar and on the affirmative from Hebron. Next year Mr. Webster will enter the University of Nebraska.

The question discussed last evening was "Resolved, that labor unions are on the whole beneficial." Despite the fact that it had been postponed from May 6th and had to be changed as to location on account of the smallpox scare, the debate was a decided success from every point of view. The representatives of the contesting schools were accompanied by the superintendents or principals and in many cases by a large delegation of students. Many of the schools not taking part in this final contest were represented by members of the faculty as well as students.

Professor M. M. Fogg of the university presided at the debate. Ten speakers, five affirmative and five negative, spoke alternately. Each speaker was allowed nine minutes for his or her opening speech and four minutes for rebuttal. The judges were Hon. Lincoln Frost, Hon. C. B. Letton and Hon. S. H. Sedgwick.

ART EXHIBIT.

Work of Students to Be Displayed.

An exhibit of the work of the students of the art department is now hung in the studio on the second floor of Library Hall. The exhibit will be open to visitors during the week.

There is a great deal of good work included in the exhibit. It represents work in nearly all the stages of completion and treated in almost every manner. A large number of very good oils and water colors as well as crayon and charcoal pieces are included in the exhibit.

The art department has been steadily growing during the past few years and at the present time includes a large number of students who are doing excellent work in nearly every phase of art.

MANHATTAN TOMORROW

Kansas Aggies to Meet Cornhuskers in One Game.

Tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock the first ball will be pitched and the ball game between the Cornhuskers and the Kansas Aggies will be on. The Aggies come for just one game, and the Cornhuskers are determined that they will revenge the previous defeats early in the season. At that time the Nebraska boys journeyed into Kansas and met the Aggies in two games and lost both. Now the Aggies return and "Cap" Greenslit's "professionals" are determined to win this game.

The Aggies have one of the strongest college aggregations in the west, and they are at the present time on a northern trip, playing Wesleyan yesterday and Colner today.

PERU CLUB MET.

Solos, Reading and Address Furnish Program.

One of the best meetings that the Peru Club has had this year was held Saturday evening in the parlors of Hays Hall. The rooms were tastily decorated and Peru and Nebraska pennants were much in evidence.

Many interesting devices furnished entertainment and a very interesting program was given, as follows:

Vocal solo—Miss Josephine Loomis.

Reading—Mrs. C. V. Williams. Vocal solo—Adelyn Blankenship.

Address—J. W. Searson.

About fifty people were present, classes as far back as 1883 being represented.

Refreshments were served late in the evening and the very successful meeting adjourned about 11:30.

Alpha Chi Omega entertained their friends at a party held in the music hall of the Temple Saturday night.

AN ALL-STAR CAST WEDNESDAY EVENING

LAURENCE COY APPEARS AS CAPTAIN BLUNTCHLI.

ELEANOR BARBOUR AS RAINA

Scenery and Orchestra to Be Features of the Evening—Special Attention Paid to Costuming.

"Arms and the Man," the three-act comedy by Bernard Shaw, which is to be given at the Temple theater Wednesday evening by the University Dramatic Club, promises to be one of the best plays of the university season. It is the aim of the club to put on something of real artistic worth each semester.

The cast of "Arms and the Man" is composed of members of the club and is what might be termed an all-star cast. Many of the characters are to be presented by members who have already won the applause of the university public. The club, in some of the other characters, expects to present some new stars who have won distinction in the club's private plays.

Leading Roles.

Laurence Coy as Captain Bluntchli and Eleanor Barbour as Raina take the leading roles. Coy is familiar to the university public, having appeared in the comedy part of Pete in "What's the Matter with the Professor?"

J. Arthur Nesbit as Captain Saranoff is also well known both to the university and city theater goers. His recent appearance at the Lyric theater won him applause as an actor of a high order. S. P. Dobbs as Major Petkoff will be remembered for his efficient work in the part of Baron Holdenson in the senior play last year. None of the ladies have appeared before the university in any of the regular club plays, but all have had a great deal of experience in the plays presented before the club.

Cast of Characters.

The full cast of characters is as follows:

Captain Bunchli (the man) ... Laurence Coy
Captain Saranoff ... J. Arthur Nesbit
Major Petkoff ... Stewart P. Dobbs
Catherine (his wife) ... Margaret Wheeler
Raina (his daughter) ... Eleanor Barbour
Louka ... Helen Mitchell
Nicola ... Grover Long

Among the features of the production will be music by an orchestra which has been engaged for the evening and special scenery from the Lyric. The play is a costume play of the highest order. Special effort has been put forth to secure the best costumes from Leben, the theatrical costumer of Kansas City and Omaha.

The tickets went on sale at the Temple box office yesterday. The sale opened well, closing in the evening with over 175 seats sold. It is expected to have the house sold out before the evening of the play.
