SPECIAL CLASSES FOR UNIMEN

AN OPPORTUNITY TO AKE UTILITARIAN STUDIES.
Afternoon and Evening Classes in Shorthand, Bookkeeping, Typewriting,
Penmanship At Nebraska School of Business.

EXPERIENCE OF UNIVERSITY MEN

The Nebraska School of Business, located in the Hall Bros. building, 1519 O street, is organizing special afternoon and evening classes at convenient hours for university students who wish to study either shorthand, typewriting, bookkeeping or penmanship. The evening classes meet three evenings each week—Monday, Wednesday and Friday. University students may arrange for any number of hours per week that they may wish to take, and the rates for tuition will be very reasonable. The instruction is given by teachers of long experience and recognized ability.

Mr. Glenn O. Taylor, B. A., LL. B., speaking from his own experience, says: "I have no hesitation in saying that I believe the freshman in college makes a mistake if he does not avail himself of the opportunity of studying shorthand and typewriting. The student who has a knowledge of shorthand has not only a very rapid means of taking notes from class work to be used later as references in preparation for reviews and examinations, but also has a knowledge which may be readily turned into money during his spare hours and vacations. Moreover, such student, when his college course is finished, is assured immediate employment in the commercial world."

Mr. Frank Oates, a student of the N. S. B., who held a position with the B. & M. in this city last year, is now paying his way through Northwestern, at Evanston, with his shorthand and typewriting.

Any university students interested in these special classes are invited to call at the school and obtain further particulars. The school is located on O street in the Hall Bros. building, just east of the F. & M. bank.

After six days of practice under the new rules the estimate of the chances of Nebraska during the coming season cannot be made. Only by sizing up the material which King Cole has to build up a formidable eleven can the outcome be predicted.

Cole has eight veterans on hand. All of these men were in uniform last week and they have been getting into shape for the season. Collins and Rathbone will don uniforms this week and get into condition for the Minnesota team which the Cornhuskers meet at Minneapolis October 15.

Shonka at Tackle.
Shonka, who was easily all-Missouri Valley center last year, has returned and is in excellent shape. He has been working on a farm all summer and has gained weight. At the present he tips the beam at 209. It has been suggested that he be played at tackle this year, providing Collins was able to "come back" and make good in his old position at center.

Nebraska finds herself in need of a new back and end, a complete shift of backs, a punter, to take the place of Beltzer, and substitute line men. Coach Cole has a wealth of material for every position but the backs, and here is apt to be forced to use untried men.

May Develop Heavy Backs.
This may be avoided by a plan, hints of which were given at the preliminary practices of the past week. Captain Temple, Guard Elliott and other big men, who combine speed with their weight, were used in the backfield squads which were worked around the field. Temple won his first letter as a full back, and he is a wonderful defensive player in this position. Elliott was used at full back in one of the practice games last year, and, while a little rough in the finer points of a back, showed possibilities. With these two heavy men to take the brunt of possible line pounding, Cole could surround them with fast-running mates for the circling of the ends and forward passing. Not that Elliott and Temple are not fast, for in these two and Shonka, Cole has some of the speediest big men ever seen on the Nebraska gridiron.

The probabilities of such a move are full back position because of his ability in line bucking, Rathbone taking a half. This is but a surmise, as the coaches have given no indications of their intentions along these lines.

The weights of the prospective first team men of the year follow: Shonka 209, Collins about 185, Elliott 186, Wolcott about 190, Temple 185, Chaumer 158, Warner 160, Minor 154, Lofgren 165, Hascall 150, Frank 160, Rathbone about 155, Gibson 170, Sturmer 170, and of the more eligible candidates, Buol 185, Ross 211, Stelk 214, Swanson 187, Anderson 180, Freitag 180, Pierson 204, and Curtis 180.

Students Get Busy.
The students are getting anxious for the coming game next Saturday with Peru. Rooting Leaders Oberfelder and Morehouse plan to get the men and women of the university working on the yells early this year so that by the time the big games will be played on Nebraska field the Cornhusker students will be the best rooters in the west.

Michigan.
Ann Arbor, Mich.—Members of the University of Michigan football squad, who are gathering here for the preliminary practice at Whitmore lake, agree with Coach Yost that the Maize and Blue will have a veteran team and that the chances of defeating Pennsylvania in the big eastern game of the schedule are good. While several veterans are returning to Michigan, there will be no dearth of new material. Of the prospects this fall the Michigan Alumnus says: "On September 13 the preliminary practice for the 1910 football season will start at Whitmore Lake. With twelve 'M' men on hand, and with an exceptionally large number of men who have shown exceptional ability on the reserve and freshman squads of last year, the prospects for a winning team for this fall are more than good."

University of Nebraska Glee Club try-out was held last evening at 7 o'clock at the Conservatory. A good attendance was present. Those officiating maintained that the university would be benefitted with a worthy representation in the glee club this year, inferring this statement from the spirit displayed by new students accompanied with their experience and talent. The University Glee Club in the past has afforded an excellent opportunity for beginning students to "try out" their voices, and if eligible they have been promised the finest tutoring in glee club and concert work. All students, though their voices be untrained, are asked to attend the next meeting of this organization and execute their initial "work out."
