

CLASS POLITICS ARE QUIET

NO CHANGES IN THE TICKETS SINCE THURSDAY.

BATES AND SEARS ARE ALONE

JUNIOR AND SOPHOMORE CANDIDATES HAVE WALKAWAY.

Freshmen Are Inactive — No One Wants to Start Campaigning for Office.

Merrily the politicians gossip and swiftly the hours roll by. There are only a few days left now for A. R. Raymond and C. F. Sturmer to shake hands with their friends and tell them of all the great deeds they expect to do when they have taken the oath of office. Both men are waging a hot war. The campaign is assuming a real businesslike air, with the cohorts of each candidate lining up friends for the fray.

On next Tuesday morning the ballots will be cast and the vote will be counted. This vote will tell which of the two strong men will lead the senior class for the first semester. Both Raymond and Sturmer are confident of victory, at least that is the story the gossip is telling here and there on the campus. Neither candidate will have the whole field to himself. The race bids fair to be one of the hottest as well as one of the cleanest campaigns in the history of university class politics. Neither of the men will lower himself to sling mud at the other fellow, but on the other hand has good words for his opponent whenever his name is mentioned.

No Opposition.

Vern Bates has no opposition in the junior class. There are still a few days left for opponents to appear on the field, but Bates' friends seem to think that he will not have any one to beat. The junior election will be held on next Thursday. It is reported about the campus that Carrol Sears may have an opponent in the sophomore class. None of the leaders of sophomore affairs would give any names last night, and most of them said that they knew nothing of such a movement, but though that Sears would have a walkaway. There will be some enthusiasm, however, at the sophomore meeting on Tuesday, October 11.

Still—No freshmen in the race. Absolutely no winds are blowing in the camp of the first year men. It is as quiet as the "silly night." Just who the candidate will be no one seems to know. Not even the keenest students of the political game will venture to make a guess as to who the aspirants for first year honors will be. Last year the first year men had five strong candidates. How many the class of 1914 will have in

TO FIT OUT A FLOAT.

German Club Planning to Enter Big Parade German Day, October 6.

Thursday evening the German club was entertained at the home of Professor Fossler and held its first regular business meeting of the year. The first business was the choosing of officers for the first semester. The result of the election was as follows: President, Ernest Hubermann; vice-president, Elizabeth Wittmann; secretary-treasurer, Frank Reinsch (re-elected). The executive committee consists of the officers and two members elected from the club. They are Miss Dolores Reed and Herman Wiebe.

The evening was spent in discussing plans for the coming year and in a general good time. About ten new members are to be elected to membership at the next meeting, which is to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reinsch.

The club is planning to fit out a float in order to participate in the German parade on next Thursday afternoon. An effort will also be made to organize a parade of students in the German department. The committee to look after this matter consists of Miss Heppner, Reed, Wittmann, Keach, Mr. Wiebe.

DECREASE IN NUMBERS.

Fewer Upper Classmen Register for the Work in Botany This Year.

Three hundred and twenty-nine students are now registered for botany I. Dr. Bessey has made out statistical charts for three hundred and seventy of the students, which show a decided decrease in the number of upper classmen registered for the course. Last year there were a greater number of sophomores than this season. The three hundred and seven students are from the various colleges as follows:

- Arts and sciences college, 125.
- Medical college, 54.
- Teachers college, 68.
- College of agriculture, 60.

The medical college includes students in the school of pharmacy and the college of agriculture includes the forestry students.

There are 147 freshmen, 94 sophomores, 56 juniors and 13 seniors in the first year class.

TWO RECEPTIONS TO-NIGHT

Metcalf and Charles Landers also promises to be an event which will attract the attention of all present. Landers is considered the champion middle-weight boxer of the university and Metcalf has developed in this line in the past few months so that he is about a match for the Norfolk lad, and he declares that he will "show Landers up" in the bout which has been scheduled for this evening.

A tug-of-war between the freshmen and the sophomores promises to be one of the most exciting events of the evening. Six men from each class will get in practice for the Olympics and the under classmen will be able to get a line on the contestants in this event for the Olympics which will be held late in October.

Robert Hill to Speak.

The big feature of the evening's program will be an address by Robert R. Hill, international secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in the educational department. Hill has been in the city for a number of weeks, and he has been requested to talk for a short time to the men of the university. Hill is a former Nebraska man, having graduated in 1904. At the present time he is located in New York city.

"Jack" Temple, captain of the football team, will talk for a few moments to the university men. He will speak on the subject of "Football Prospects."

Dr. Condra will also give a short address at this meeting of the men.

Girls' Reception.

A reception for the university girls will be held this evening at the governor's mansion. This event will be under the auspices of the university Y. W. C. A., and every university girl is requested to attend. A program of excellent quality has been arranged for the benefit of the university women, and all the girls of the school have been requested to be present at this meeting, which it is said will be one of the best which has been planned for the women of the institution for some time.

PROGRAMS ARE OUT.

Nifty Pamphlets Are Published for Use at Games.

The appearance of the Peru-Nebraska football program has caused a great many remarks of admiration from students who have had an opportunity to see it. It is similar to the programs issued at several of the university intercollegiate games last year, being cleverly decorated on the cover with scarlet and cream representations of the varsity and "bleechers" in action. A summary of last year's football record is given in the interior, together with photographs of last year's varsity team and this year's prospective "N" men. The cover design was made by K. P. Fredrick, '11.

The freshman medical class at the University of Iowa numbers only twenty-four students, due to the new requirement of two years collegiate work.

The Sub

It's an honor to be a Sub on the Uni Football Team. The Sub is the man who entices the team on to success. Every first team man has this motto stamped on his mind.

"Do your best at all times. The Sub will get you if you don't look out"

This fact we impress on the minds of the "Seven" makers who contribute their best models to our stock.

Your Goods must excell or out goes your line for the one which excells yours.
