KANSAS HAS THE "BLUES"

INJURIES KEEP THREE MEN FROM SCRIMMAGE.

PROSPECTS TAKE A BAD SLUMP

CAPTAIN JOHNSON OUT WITH A WRENCHED KNEE.

Hope to Improve Form—Coach Kennedy—Injured—Bruised Shoulders Are Causing Much Trouble.

Down in Kansas everything is "blue," as far as the "bear" dope which is being issued is concerned. The University Kansan says:

"Football prospects took a slump Thursday afternoon when J. Pluvous opened the performance with a fine, chilling shower. But the rain-maker was not the only contingency that played a part in floating the blue funk over McCook. Three men appeared on the field sans football togs, and reported that they were unable to scrimmage.

"The men are Hell, H. Woodbury, and "Terrible Mike" Lynch. He'll was forced to go to the bench during the last half of the opener last Saturday, because of a large boil on his arm.

peated gains, but which formation was so crudely played that the visitors, themselves by fumbling, lost the advantages gained by it. Tufts once held Yale for downs on its four yard line.

Princeton easily defeated Villa Nova on University field Wednesday afternoon by the score of 36 to 0. The game was open and the forward pass was frequently used by Princeton with success. They were able to score five touchdowns, a field goal and three goals from touchdown."

Philadelphia.—Franklin and Marshall gave the University of Pennsylvania a hard battle here Wednesday, the home eleven winning by the score of 17 to 0. Mercer was the star of the Pennsylvania team until compelled to leave the game because of injuries.

Yale.

Light work followed the trying Syracuse game at Yale field Tuesday afternoon and for the varsity men there was practically nothing to do, but most of them went out to the field for punting, catching punts, passing and falling on the ball. The game against Syracuse showed conclusively that

Some careless Baptist inflicted such a bad bruise on the tender bump that the midget quarterback was still out yesterday. Woodbury and Lynch are both suffering from bruised and scratched shoulders, as a result of Saturday's game. They may be out of the game for a couple of days. In fact, Dr. H. T. Jones has advised Kennedy not to allow Woodbury to play before the last of the week.

"Despite the drawbacks, Kennedy's pupils went through a full afternoon's workout. Finally, when Captain Johnson wrenched his knee and was forced to leave the scrimmage, Kennedy went in at quarter and played during the remainder of the afternoon. As luck would have it, the coach himself was unfortunate, and bruised his hip tackling a player. Just to show that small things of that kind do not count in football, he played on through the practice. This afternoon a second scrimmage of the week is being held and during the remaining three days before the St. Mary's game, the practices will continue to assume the hard work air. The Kansas mentors hope to have the squad in better form by the last of this week than it was at the time of the season's eye-opener."

BIG TEAMS WIN.

Yale and Pennsy Get 17 to 0 Games—Princeton Rolls Up 36 Points.

New Haven, Conn.—Yale won from Tufts 17 to 0 Wednesday afternoon with the scoring only in the first half. In the other half Yale put in substitutes, who were puzzled by a novelty in formation worked by Tufts for re-there was great need for drill in catching punts, and the candidates for the back field positions were ordered to stand back while some of the best runners sent the balls across the field. The present line-up will be continued until after the Tufts game Wednesday. The Tufts team is not looked upon as a test, because of the weakness of the team.

Princeton.

Despite Saturday's game with Stevens, the whole Princeton squad reported in good condition for Monday afternoon's practice. After the preliminary work Pendleton Bard and Sawyer were set to work at drop kicking. Pendleton did exceptionally well and pulled off three or four from the 45-yard line. Two teams were lined up for the scrimmage. Bard was taken from the second team and put at right halfback in place of Sparks on the varsity. Shortly after the play started Dunlop broke through the varsity line, blocked Ballou's kick and ran 40 yards for a touchdown. The second team repeatedly held the varsity and forced them into a kicking game. It was only toward the end of play that Bredemus, at left end, caught one of Pendleton's forward passes and scored for the varsity. The feature of the practice was the excellent work of Bard and Pendleton in carrying the ball through a broken field.

An annual short story contest has been inaugurated at the University of California. The prize is to be a silver cup, the property of the English club, upon which will be engraved each year the name of the winner, the title of the story, and the date.
