Back and forth, from one end of the field to the other, fighting every inch of the way, Nebraska and South Dakota Saturday played on of the prettiest games of football ever seen on Lincoln grounds. Nebraska won, 12 to 9, with a little advantage in weight and a considerably stronger line.

The Coyotes proved beyond the shadow of a doubt that their score against Minnesota was not a mere accident. What they lacked on the line they more than made up for in the back field, and it was on long end runs that South Dakota's biggest gains were made. The Cornhuskers earned everything they got and considerably they failed to get.

Nebraska's line was like the proverbial stone wall; not once during the entire game did the Coyotes succeed in breaking through for a substantial gain. South Dakota's line was weaker and Nebraska made good gains on line plunges.

Coyotes Gain on End Runs.

South Dakota made big gains around the ends. The back field was in the game from the word go, carrying the ball for long runs, with almost perfect interference. Chauner and Lofgren played a good game, notwithstanding the several long end runs made by South Dakota, and time and again broke up interference that saved big gains and perhaps touchdowns.

Collins and Shonka, center and tackle, were the stars of the line. Time after time Collins broke through the line and blocked plays for a loss of ground for his opponents. The South Dakota line could not stop him and he seemed to tear holes at will. Shonka tore through the line in the same way, breaking up interference and dropping the man in his tracks almost the moment he received the ball.

Warner Ordered Out.

Jerry Warner got in bad with the referee by telling Smith, the husky South Dakota full back, "where to head in." Smith would make two of Jerry, but a little thing like that did not worry Warner. The result was that Warner was ordered from the field. Up to the time of his being so ignominiously chased off the grounds he had played a wonderful game at quarter, displaying a generalship seen in few quarter backs with even longer experience than his. Owen Frank was shifted from half to quarter, Rathbone went to half and Seidell, the new candidate for full, was given a try-out. Seidell, while he was not put to a very severe test, having few chances to show what he could do, played a steady, consistent game. Seidell was later relieved by Gibson, whose punt made him famous.

Owen Frank was at his best, both in running the ends and breaking up end runs for South Dakota. Frank has a terrible tackle and if he has a reasonable chance at his man, it is a ten to one that the man will drop like a tall weed hit with a scythe.

Minnesota Comes Next.

From now until Saturday night Nebraska rooters will think along but one line—several hundred souls with but a single thought—which thought is the outcome of the Minnesota game. That Nebraska has a good chance of winning everyone will concede. While the respective showings made with South Dakota will tend to give Minnesota more or less advantage, still the Cornhuskers feel that things look brighter than they have been for a long time.

A comparison shows that Nebraska has a line which is just as strong as Minnesota's—that is, if the games which have been played so far may be taken as a fair sample of what Nebraska may expect. Minnesota does seem to have the advantage in the back field, but with ends like Chauner and Lofgren and halves like the two Franks to smash interference, this advantage is not of so great importance.

It has not yet been decided definitely who will be taken along, aside from the regular members of the team. It is probable that among the number will be Seidell, who has been showing up well at full, and Russell, an end.

Strenuous Work This Week.

Today and tomorrow and perhaps Thursday the varsity will be put through some strenuous work. The freshmen squad have turned out some fast men, and if the varsity goes against the pick of the squad for scrimmage work it will at least be as good an exhibition as the one ten days ago.

On October 29, when Doane plays Nebraska at Lincoln, the Lincoln high school team will play the Omaha high school team. The double header will be put on for the price of one admission, the high school game to be played before the Nebraska-Doane game. The Lincoln high school promises to have another team this year like the one last year. In the game Saturday against the West Des Moines high school team the Lincoln lads played a clever game, scoring twelve points in the last quarter of play and tying the score.

Varsity-Freshman Game.

It is likely that the varsity-freshman game will be played on November 19, the only open date of the season. Considerable interest has been shown in the proposed contest and if it is played it will undoubtedly attract attention and draw a crowd.

The girls' section of the grandstand has made quite a hit. At the South Dakota game it was crowded almost to its capacity.

Another thing which might be mentioned on the South Dakota game is that the rooting was of the best. The center of the bleachers was one mass of megaphones, and what was left done in the Peru game in the way of noise was more than made up for in the game last Saturday.

Fred Crites, '09, Sigma Nu, has entered school.

FEAR ANOTHER DARK HORSE

MURMURINGS OF "MACHINE POLITICS" IN LAW SCHOOL.

VERY QUEER ELECTION SCHEDULES

QUIET CAMPAIGN HAS BECOME A WARM SQUABBLE.

Freshman Laws Will Meet at 11 a. m.—Sophomore Class Elects at 11:30 a. m.

The freshman law class will meet this morning at 11 o'clock to elect officers. This announcement, which was made only yesterday, has aroused a great deal of interest among politicians of the sophomore class, who are looking for a dark horse to be brought into the second year election today. The freshmen of the law college are classed as sophomores in class elections. It is on account of this fact that politicians are expecting the laws to nominate a black horse for the second year election today. The law meeting coming at 11 o'clock and the sophomore election scheduled at 11:30 a. m., make it very easy for the laws to put a candidate in the field at the last minute, and it is generally reported they expect to do so. The sophomore meeting will not be without excitement.

Hot Campaigning for Sears.

When the friends of Carroll Sears, the announced candidate, learned late yesterday about the plan of the laws, they sent scouts out into the field to line up votes for their candidate. A friend of Sears said last night that his candidate could not be elected unless his friends came to the meeting en masse to cast their votes. The campaign has not been an exciting one, little real vote soliciting having to be done, and the classmen will have to come out to vote without personal invitation from politicians. The activity of the laws, however, has changed a quiet campaign into a rustling political squabble. Interest in the sophomore election is at a high point this morning. Friends of the announced candidate are working to save him from defeat at the hands of the black horse. Sears is a graduate of Omaha high school, a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity and was last season a member of the football team of the class of 1913. He is a forestry student and has been active in class politics.

Kruse Will Not Run.

Frank Kruse of Lincoln yesterday announced that he would not permit his name to be used in the race for honors in the freshman class. He has been prominently mentioned by Lincoln high school graduates as a likely candidate for the first year presidency, but yesterday assured a Nebraskan reporter that he would under no circumstances announce himself as a candidate. Kruse was a member of the Lincoln high school football team last season. He was prominent in the affairs of his school.

William Gilmore of Nebraska City, Leonard Purdy of Beatrice, and Charles Epperson of Clay Center are the three men who are in the race for the freshman presidential honors. Gilmore has not formally announced his candidacy, but his friends have placed him in the race and asked the Nebraskan reporter to make known his candidacy and state that they would "give him the royal support which he deserves." The freshman election will probably be held Thursday morning. It will be in charge of President Verne Bates of the junior class.

At a meeting this morning the freshman law class will organize and elect officers for the first semester. Several aspirants were reported to be secretly asking for votes yesterday, but such complete mystery shrouds the actions of the laws that the names of the men and prospects for the meeting tomorrow would not be given out by any classmen. When approached they simply said that "things will be doing in the morning." The freshman laws will meet at 11 o'clock in U309, it is reported, to elect officers.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE.

Professor Swezey to Lecture on Scientific Subject.

Convocation hour this morning will be devoted to an illustrated stereopticon lecture by Prof. G. D. Swezey of the astronomy department. He will speak on the subject "The Eruption of Krakotoa." This lecture is one of a scientific nature and of considerable importance to scientists.

BIBLE CLASSES TO START.

Y. M. C. A. Girls to Meet October 17 for First Work.

The first of the series of Bible study classes to be held this year will be held Monday, October 17. They will be continued during the year at regular intervals. The leaders for the noon meetings will be as follows:

Monday—Miss Blanch Eads.
Wednesday—Miss Schultz.
Thursday—Miss Hazel Vibbard.
Friday—Miss Florence Davis.
A new feature in the noon meetings this year is that the meetings on Tuesday and Thursday will be held at 11:30 a. m. at the close of chapel hour. The other meetings of the week will be held at 11:50.

HARVARD OUTCLASSES WILLIAMS

Crimson Line is Invincible, Smothering Williams' Backs.

Cambridge, Mass.—Harvard had little trouble in disposing of Williams by 21 to 0 Saturday on the Stadium gridiron. The visitors, though completely outclassed for three periods, came back strong in the final session and outplayed the string of strong subs that the Crimson outfit had flooded the gridiron with. The regular Harvard with the exception of Corbett, who is still on the sick list, started the game and remained intact during the first two periods. They played fast and hard. Their line was simply invincible. The big forwards continually broke through the lighter Williams' line and either smothered or smashed up the enemy's formations or blocked their kicks. Harvard essayed six forward passes and landed in four. The visitors got away with seven winners out of ten attempts. Harvard was penalized three times and Williams once.

Score: Harvard, 21; Williams, 0. Touchdowns, Morrison, Graustern, Withington. Goals from touchdowns, Withington 3. Field goal 1. Referee, Bendleton of Bowdoin; umpire, Burleigh of Exeter; field judge, Leo of Lehigh; linesman, Tufts of Brown. Time, four ten-minute periods.

YALE REQUIRES VETERANS.

Holy Cross Proves Strong and Requires Effort to Defeat.

New Haven, Conn.—Played almost off her feet, Yale was Saturday forced to place all her star football men in the lineup to win from Holy Cross by 12 to 0. Eli opened the game with substitutes, because of the reputed weakness of the Worcester boys. Towards the end, however, Yale was compelled to take out her lesser lights and place her best men in the game to win. Captain Daly, Kilpatrick, Francis and Baker had to be called in to save the day for the blue. Yale showed her luck by scoring one touchdown in the last minute of play. The Yale line was weak and the Massachusetts boys tore great holes in it.

GREEKS GET SEVENTY-FOUR

NINE FRATERNITIES ANNOUNCE NEW PLEDGES.

RUSHING SEASON CLOSED MONDAY

PHI GAMMA DELTA HAS LARGEST LIST OF MEMBERS.

Alpha Theta Chi, Beta Theta Pi and Sigma Nu Do Not Announce Pledges.

The annual rushing season for the fraternities of the University of Nebraska came to a close at twelve o'clock yesterday noon. With its climax came the announcement of many pledges who will affiliate with the Greek letter organizations.

The fraternity rushing season of this year, being under the identical supervision and regulations which prevailed last year, covered a period of ten days. Beginning with yesterday noon, no rushee will be permitted to be entertained in the chapter house, without the chapter house, or in the interest of any fraternity later than 6 p. m. on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays of each week.

Rushing Strenuous.

It is generally recognized about the university that more strenuous rushing on the part of the fraternities has never been so evidenced at Nebraska, either before or after the adoption of the existing interfraternity council regulations. Since Friday night, September 30, all the splendor that could be mustered by any of the Greek letter organizations has been brought forward as "conclusive proof" or "convincing argument" for the inspection of the freshmen. House parties, smokers and picnics have been the three favorite means of entertaining, which, combined with the production and reproduction of numbers of the fraternity galaxy of stars, have left many freshmen in a bewildering situation.

The highest number of pledges announced up to date is eleven, claimed by Phi Gamma Delta. Naturally, many of the pledges have not been announced yet, while three fraternities, Alpha Theta Chi, Chi Theta Pi, and Sigma Nu, have made no announcements whatsoever.

The List.

The list of fraternity pledges announced are as follows:
Alpha Tau Omega—Alfred C. Kennedy, Omaha; Chandler Trimble, Omaha; H. S. Gay, Omaha; Ben Hornby, Valentine; Charles R. Jackson, Wymore; Arthur Allen, Hastings; Mario Hazlik, Cedar Rapids, Ia.; John L. Cutright, Lincoln.

Beta Theta Pi—Pledges not announced.
