Kansas.
The Jayhawk football team was strengthened Tuesday by the addition of two new players. One is a big lineman from Minneapolis, Kan. He weighs an even 200 pounds and answers to the suggestive name of Jim Blades. Kennedy worked him out this afternoon and believes there is promise that the new man may be depended upon to stop up some of the line holes when he learns the new game. Blades was in school four years ago, but left the following spring and did not return until this fall.

The second man is Carl Hicks, a fast baseball player of last year's freshman squad. Hicks is a backfield man and promises to make good if he can persuade the eligibility committee that he should enter the game. It is said, however, that he lacks enough credits to claim a position on the varsity squad.

The Jayhawkers engaged in a free-for-all practice game with the Haskell Indians Tuesday afternoon. It was free for all in that every man who has appeared on McCook field in anything that looked like a football suit this fall was given a chance to get in the game. The first five minutes of play resembled a real game, K. U. scoring a touchdown. From that time on, however, the subs were called in, and their performance began looking like a marathon race for the Indians. Nevitt, the redskin quarterback, at one time got away for sixty yards and a touchdown and at another time ran nearly as far, but stepped out of bounds on the way. The final score gave Haskell 11 and K. U. 5 points.

Michigan.

The Michigan team is to be pitied. Not for the showing they made against Case Saturday when they were held to a tie score, but because of the work that this showing will bring upon themselves.

The tie will do the men more good than anything else that could have happened. This is the general opinion around the campus and is also the opinion of Coach Yost.

Last season Michigan met defeat at the hands of "Shorty" Longman's Notre Dame eleven and it was this loss to which many attributed the splendid showing made by the men of Yost in the Pennsylvania and Minnesota games. It brought out the fighting qualities and stirred them up till there was practically nothing that would stop them till they had victory within their grasp.

That is what the results of the game is expected to do in the Wolverine camp this fall. Yost is so worked up over the result that the men will be worked as they never would have been in practice and there will not be a moment when they are on Ferry field that the coach will not have them working at their hardest and when they get a let up in this work the 1910 football season for Michigan will be history.

Pennsylvania.

Danny Hutchinson, star quarterback and mainstay of the University of Pennsylvania football squad, Tuesday was notified by the faculty that he would not be allowed to play football until he had attained the necessary standard in his studies.

Throughout last season Hutchinson played with eight conditions hanging over his head. It is understood that he had promised the faculty these conditions would be made up during the winter months. This promise was not kept, and yesterday when the faculty ascertained that there was no chance of the conditions being removed by Hutchinson through application to his studies they summarily dealt a death blow to the Pennsylvania football team by ordering him from the training table.

Princeton.

Princeton closed the gates on football practice Monday, holding the first secret session of the season. Now the preliminary part of the Tigers' schedule is over, time will be spent on developing a repertoire of players. Monday's practice was mainly a drill for the linemen. Two sets of forwards were lined up, and the men were given a long practice in blocking and breaking through. Although only one man was incapacitated for work by Saturday's game, there were several changes from the line-up that started the game against New York university.

Yale.

Convinced that the time has come for the Yale team "to show something," the coaches will try the Blue harder than ever this week. There is no concealing the fact that Coach Coy and his assistants are disappointed over the showing made up to date, and are reading with apprehension the glowing accounts that come from Cambridge.

Heretofore green material has been pleaded in excuse of low scores, and the fact that Syracuse was able to score on the Blue twice. But the squad has been practicing nearly a month now and the old excuse will no longer suffice. The fact that West Point was able to beat Tufts by a bigger score than Yale made against this little team has aroused the coaches to the necessity of hard work, and Yale field will be the busiest place in Connecticut this week.

Harvard.

Harvard's football practice Monday afternoon was secret and tight. Several of the players reported bungled up after the Williams set-to and did not play. Ted Frothingham's injured knee will keep him out for a few days, and Bush, substitute tackle, was another who stayed off the field, after the knocks of the Williams game. However, Campbell, the halfback who has been out of the practice a week, returned to the firing line. Ham Corbett has developed more bolts. The one on his hand healed all right, but now he is following in the footsteps of Job. He has done scarcely any work for a week. F. Leslie, one of the linemen, rested today. Haughton was in coaching togs for the first time in several days. Joe Nourse, center on the 1908 team, joined the coaching staff, and took the pivot men in hand for instruction. There was a special drill for the ends and backs, working blocking and breaking through, a signal drill between teams of first-string men, but no scrimmage.

West Point.

Cadet J. L. Wier was elected for this year's football captain at a meeting held Monday by those cadets who have won their letter "A" in football, and according to the rules of the athletic association are the only ones allowed to vote on the selection of a captain. Only one vote was cast, and Wier was unanimously elected captain. Wier hails from Illinois and is a member of the first class and has been prominent in football ever since his entrance. He plays right guard and by critics is classed among the top-notchers who have and are still playing that position. The coaches are more than pleased with the showing the men made in the game last Saturday and only signals and practice in getting down under punts was given the team. Hyatt, last year's quarterback, came out after being laid off with a sprained ankle since the first week of practice.

Denver.

Football interest also centers in a meeting of the Rocky mountain faculty conference, which will take place at the University club today. Not only will the eligibility of certain players on the various college teams be decided, but it will be determined what steps to take regarding the Denver-Marquette game. As has been published, Denver University has asked Marquette to call off the contest. This the Wisconsin boys flatly refused to do. As Denver has entered into a contract with Marquette, there is nothing to do but play the game on October 15.

There is a likelihood that Denver University will be notified that if it plays the game it must sever its relations with the conference. Colorado College and the University of Colorado have already gone on record as opposing this game on the grounds that Marquette has no eligibility rules.

The Smaller One.

Many stories are told of "Tom" Reed's sudden flashes of wit, as for instance when Miss Reed struck the earth instead of the golf ball, and he said, "Hit the other ball, Kitty."—Portland (Me.) Express.
