SPECIAL CLASSES FOR UNIMEN

AN OPPORTUNITY TO TAKE UTILITARIAN STUDIES.

Afternoon and Evening Classes in
Shorthand, Bookkeeping, Typewriting,
Penmanship At Nebraska School of Business.

EXPERIENCE OF UNIVERSITY MEN

The Nebraska School of Business, located in the Hall Bros. building, 1519 O street, is organizing special afternoon and evening classes at convenient hours for university students who wish to study either shorthand, typewriting, bookkeeping or penmanship. The evening classes meet three evenings each week—Monday, Wednesday and Friday. University students may arrange for any number of hours per week that they may wish to take, and the rates for tuition will be very reasonable. The instruction is given by teachers of long experience and recognized ability.

Mr. Glenn O. Taylor, B. A., LL. B., speaking from his own experience, says: "I have no hesitation in saying that I believe the freshman in college makes a mistake if he does not avail himself of the opportunity of studying shorthand and typewriting. The student who has a knowledge of shorthand has not only a very rapid means of taking notes from class work to be used later as references in preparation for reviews and examinations, but also has a knowledge which may be readily turned into money during his spare hours and vacations. Moreover, such student, when his college course is finished, is assured immediate employment in the commercial world."

Mr. Frank Oates, a student of the N. E. B., who held a position with the B. & M. in this city last year, is now paying his way through Northwestern, at Evanston, with his shorthand and typewriting.

Any university students interested in these special classes are invited to call at the school and obtain further particulars. The school is located on O street in the Hall Bros. building, just east of the F. & M. bank.

FIRST ROUND NEARLY OVER

TENNIS TOURNAMENT TURNS OUT THIRTY-TWO MEN.

OUTLOOK FOR A CRACK TEAM

ONLY TWO MATCHES PLAYED FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

Three Courts Busy All the Time— Courts in Excellent Condition— Good Freshman Material.

With the first round of the tennis tournament of the University of Nebraska almost played off, the more experienced players are able, to a certain extent, deal out the "dope" on the winners. With the expiration of the second round, which in all probability will take place by this evening, the exact men who will compose the University tennis squad will be known.

The squad of eight men, which are to be determined by the present tournament, will be the players from whom the 'varsity team will be picked next spring. This will eliminate the necessity of having a tournament next spring, but does not, however, place the squad in a position of immunity from all future attacks. After the selection of the team, it is understood that every challenge must be accepted by the squad members. This is only a means to an end of having Nebraska well represented in the Kansas tournament; also in the Minnesota and Wisconsin tournaments, if such are played. If the men who are at present "doped" to be victorious do win there will be very little possibility of a challenge. This conditional phase of the squad membership, therefore, was inserted merely so that it might be applied to Scudder, Smith, or any other man of 'varsity material who might happen to come to the University.

Weaverling Works Out.

R. Weaverling, manager of the tennis club and the only member of last year's 'varsity team who returned to the University, "worked out" yesterday for the first time during the present tournament. He played a good game, and, so far as court gossip is concerned, will recontinue his work on the 'varsity team in the 1911 meets.

The "dope" on the other favorites is not concentrated enough to warrant giving the honors to any two players, due to the fact that most of the contestants are freshmen in the University. Pierce is showing up remarkably well, and is slated for a hard match with Goodbody, another man who is showing good form. The winner of this match will meet Weaverling in the round before the semifinals, that is, assuming that Weaverling is successful in his initial round.

Goble won his match easily, and is backed by many court visitors as a likely candidate for the squad. Osterhaut, secretary and treasurer of the tennis association, is in great form, swinging his Lawfords with a telling force, which makes him a formidable player in the third section of the slate. Andrews defeated Stryker in a pretty match at the beginning of the tournament, and showed a few strokes that bid fair to play havoc with a few of the other squad seekers.

Only Two Matches.

For several reasons the tournament slowed up yesterday, there being only two matches played off. J. Hargrave beat Farnam, 6-3, 6-1, in a match which the winner had all his own way, and Kokfer beat Thompson in the second round of the tournament, 6-1, 6-3. All the first round matches must be played by Saturday night.

The Nebraska courts are in a better condition now than they ever have been in the history of the institution. Last year was the first time that an effort had been made to better them, at which time a third court was laid out, and good backstops put up. The supervision of the club is this year directly in the hands of the Board of Regents, whereas it was hitherto in the hands of the Athletic Board.
