We Must Beat Doane.

After Doane Comes Kansas.

Nebraska's new yell brings up painful recollections of the last visit of the Jayhawkers.

A student's activity in the affairs of his class is determined almost wholly by the interest he displays during his freshman year. Get in the game, freshmen.

Nebraska students who go to Lawrence, November 5, will have an opportunity to see the Cornhuskers go into action determined to wipe out the memory of the defeats of the two past years.

termines the fate of one of the classes. Let every member of the freshman class turn out. Saturday is not the day for the sophomores to be idle either. Turn out, under classmen, and show your colors and fight hard. Freshmen, you have as a trophy of victory the right to wear class caps. Sophomores, you have the disgrace of defeat last year to live down and also to ward off the ridicule of the upper classmen if you are defeated as your prize. Get busy and show the university that you are loyal members of the class of 1913 and 1914.

The theory that Nebraska is a place for sluffers will soon be dispeller. The student body as a whole will awaken in a short time with the realization that mid-semester examinations will soon be here. Each semester a time must arrive when each and every student must come to the realization that they are here for work. When the man or woman realizes that they can not neglect their work then all goes well and good. But one step from the long and narrow path of good scholarship brings them into close touch with the delinquency committee.

At Dartmouth a new prize of $20 called the Kenneth Archibald athletic prize, is offered to the member of the graduating class who, in the judgment of the athletic committee, has been the best all-round athlete, regard also being had to recognized moral worth and a high standing in scholarship.

Takes Third Place.

Dairy Team Wins $400 Scholarship at Chicago.

The Nebraska dairy team returned Sunday from Chicago where they entered the judging contest at the Chicago colesium.

The team was composed of Otto H. Liebers, Joseph Kuska and Ivan P. McKillips.

Mr. Liebers and Kuska were on the team that took first place over Missouri, Kansas and Iowa last year. Mr. McKillips was second high man on Nebraska's fat stock team, which entered the international contest at Chicago last season.

This year McKillips was winner of the $400 scholarship, which was offered by the American Jersey Cattle Club to the man making the highest score in that breed. This scholarship is good in any college or university in the United States.

Last year no scholarships were offered, but three beautiful cups were brought back by the Nebraska team.

Mr. Forbes, who accompanied the team as coach and who was high man and winner of the individual trophy last year, still holds the record score on both the Jerseys and Holstein, as well as the highest score on all breeds.

The college line-up was as follows: New York, first; Missouri, second; Nebraska, third; Ohio, fourth; Kentucky, fifth; New Hampshire, sixth; Iowa, seventh; Minnesota, eighth.

The university of Nebraska urges all young people, who can, to take a four-year high school course and prepare to enter college. Some, however, cannot spend the time required by the high school and college courses. For the benefit of these, the University established, a number of years ago, the SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE which admits those who have completed the lawns while you wend your way along the walks. An arc light here and there would be more beneficial than an occasional ray from the lunar planet, would it not?

Names for the new athletic field have commenced to come in. Are there any others who have names to suggest. Send them in, for we will be very glad to publish them. We need an appropriate title for the field, where the name and the honor of the university is upheld by the athletes who wear the Scarlet and Cream.

Speaking of music, has any one listened to the medley that constantly pours forth from the conservatory? It is pleasing to those who hear each individual part, but when it all comes out together, it is worthy of some desperate action on the part of the long suffering individual who has to listen to it all day. It can not be curbed, either. What shall we do until cold weather comes when the windows will have to be closed?

Because H. McMiller, a giant Wisconsin guard, misspelled six words too many in an elementary spelling examination, he will probably be barred from playing with the Badgers this year. Illiteracy sometimes strikes those big teams in hard places.—The Daily Californian.

The Olympics Saturday will settle all the discussion as to which is the superior class. The freshmen by superiority of numbers claim the coveted honor, and the sophomores by reason of being older students of the university have similar claims. Saturday de-

CONVOCAATION DATES.

Noted—Authority Will Appear November 15.

The following dates have been announced for the coming weeks: October 27, string quartet. November 15, Chas. F. Dole of Boston, Mass., "United States as a World Power."

Mr. Dole is an authority on this subject as well as several others regarding democratic principles.

The baseball nine of the University of Chicago, at present playing a series of games with Kelo and Waseda Universities at Tokio, Japan, has won the first three games of the series—two from Waseda University and one from Kelo University. The team visited Japan on a challenge from Waseda University and the games are said to be exciting much interest and enthusiasm on the part of the Japanese.
