PANDEMONIUM REIGNS

SOPHOMORES WIN THE FIRST EVENT IN OLYMPICS.

ALL READY FOR THE "BELL RUSH"

BLEACHERS CROWDED WITH COEDS AND UPPER-CLASSMEN.

Each Class Confident of Winning—Chancellor Avery and Dr. Condra Present.

Ruby, for the sophomores, won the first round of the light weight wrestling by throwing Gunther in four and one-half minutes.

War is raging on the battle field! While the Daily Nebraskan is being printed the annual class fight between the freshman and sophomore classes is being staged at the athletic field. The clash was scheduled for nine o'clock this morning and probably will last until after eleven o'clock.

Pandemonium reigns! The freshmen are anxiously waiting to wear their nobby class caps and the sophomores are plunging like fire horses to hold their dignity, and at the same time put the freshmen out of the running. Great excitement on the athletic field! Freshmen and sophomores are valiantly fighting to see which class can establish supremacy. Pandemonium reigns!

The excited girls who had planned to come out in full force to cheer their favorites on to victory, forgot to come on time. Some of them were in the bleachers when the first event was started and the boys are hoping to see more of them present, when the bell rush, the spectacular clash, is pulled off. But what will they think of the bell rush? the boys are asking themselves. Pandemonium will reign!

Chancellor Avery, Dr. Condra and Geo. M. Pinneo are reported to be visitors at the games. J. T. Maxwell of Omaha and Bud Kerns of Fremont judged the boxing and wrestling contests. Enthusiastic students, galore, are witnessing the many contests. The events will probably last until nearly twelve o'clock. Last year the free-for-all rush did not come off until after twelve o'clock. Cheers from the athletic field penetrate the print shop as the Daily goes to press and Pandemonium reigns.

SENIOR BREAKFAST.

First Annual Social Function of the Upper Classmen.

The annual feed of the senior class will be held on Saturday, November 5, being in the nature of a breakfast. These breakfasts held during the senior year are for various purposes. The main purpose is to increase class spirit and friendliness, and afford the upper classmen a chance to become better acquainted. Last year the members of the senior class journeyed to the woods west of the asylum, but this year the committee has arranged to spend the morning in the penitentiary woods.

The annual breakfast, which will be held one week from Saturday, will be the first senior affair of its kind this year and it is urged that every senior be present. Coming as it does in the morning, there will be nothing to lessen the attendance. The breakfast is planned so as to afford an excellent opportunity for the members of the class to become better acquainted with each other early in the school year and in this way all the other affairs that the class may hold will be more enjoyed.

The breakfast will be held in the penitentiary woods, located about one-half mile west of the penitentiary. Special cars will leave Eleventh and O streets at 6:30 o'clock for the accommodation of those who wish to attend. The committee promises that there will be plenty to eat and that everything will be furnished for the breakfast. Various forms of contests have been planned. For the winners of these events liberal prizes will be offered. The tickets for this event may be purchased of any of the following committee members. The price is 35 cents, which does not include carfare. The members of the committee are: W. H. Plasters, chairman; Grace, Richards, Mabelle Davis, W. T. Wolvington, and Herbert Ford.

FLORY DEFEATS PARKER.

Weaverling and Flory Will Play for University Championship.

Flory defeated Parker in the last match of the semi-finals in the University single championship tennis tournament by a score of 6-3, 6-4, 6-0. This just about closes a tournament which received more unlucky strokes than any other tournament ever pulled off at Nebraska.

The match between Flory and Parker was not very exciting, the weather being almost too cold for the players to warm up well. Throughout the match Flory had things nearly all his own way, being a much steadier player than Parker. Most of his strokes were well placed and had telling effect. Parker's serve, which is his best stroke, failed him in the last set. Without it he could do nothing, and lost the set 6-0.

Weaverling, who won the other match of the semi-finals with Goodbody, will meet Flory today at 1 o'clock. The "dope" in this match is nearly all to Weaverling's favor, especially to those who have seen him manipulate his back-hand Lawford of late. Flory is a very steady player, though, and may spring surprises if pushed hard.

SOPHOMORES GET SIGN.

Freshman Advertiser Hoodwinked by Shrewd "Soph."

A small clash occurred on the campus yesterday between a few members of the two lower classes. A small negro boy, who was carrying a "Freshman rally" sign, was stopped by two second-year men, who asked him inquiringly: "Did our freshman president hire you to carry that sign?"

"Well, no, guess de man wasn't no president, but a big fellow he was. He done told me dat aff any fellers bothered me dat some of you freshmen would protect me?"

"That's right, and we'll do it, too," retorted one of the sophomores. "Who printed the sign? Gee, but it's a good one! Let's see it a minute?"

The sophomore soon had possession of the cardboard. Quickly it was torn into two pieces and found a resting place in the inside coat pockets of the second year classmen. The deal with the negro boy ended more abruptly than it had begun. When the boy reported the affair to his employer, a hurried search was made, but the the sophomores had escaped. It was a "sign" which last year caused the famous "War of the cowbells." The 1914 classmen did not attempt redress, but decided to save their energy for the Olympics.

Rhetoric 17.

See bulletin-board for announcement regarding examination, Oct. 31.

The haircutting brigade at Indiana is now in full force and the freshmen are in mortal fear of losing their trimmings.

A building for research and study in advanced philosophy is being erected at Columbia.

NEBRASKA VS. DOANE TODAY

LINCOLN AND OMAHA HIGH SCHOOLS PLAY PRELIMINARY.

DOANE WILL HAVE A STRONG TEAM

CORNHUSKERS PLAN A SUBSTITUTE FOR TRAINING TABLE.

Will Meet for Their Evening Meal, But Will Pay Their Own Expenses.

Nebraska and Doane will clash in a football game on Nebraska field this afternoon, immediately after the game between the Lincoln and Omaha high school teams. The high school game will be called at 2 o'clock.

One admission will be charged for both games. Student tickets are good, as at regular games. Interest in both games is at a high pitch and the attendance is expected to be the largest of the season.

Every member of the Cornhusker team is in good condition. Jerry Warner, who was slightly bruised up during the Denver game, is back in form, although he may be saved for the Kansas game and not go in today. The regular line-up may be slightly changed today and a few of the substitutes given a try-out, as Kansas is the bird the Cornhuskers are anxious to snare.

Doane Is Strong.

Doane comes today with one of the strongest teams they have had in years and will undoubtedly put up a stiff little game. The Nebraska game is one of the most important on the Doane schedule and the Crete eleven will likely put up its best game of the season.

The high school game between Lincoln and Omaha has attracted no small amount of attention among University students, the majority of whom will be out rooting for Lincoln. Both Lincoln and Omaha have powerful teams this year and both are in the running for the state high school championship. And on top of this, the Lincoln and Omaha high school football teams have been bitter rivals, with the big end of the deal in Lincoln, for the past few years. Under such conditions the game today should be even more exciting than the Nebraska-Doane game.

Substitute for Training Table.

The Cornhuskers are planning a substitute for the training table they cannot have. Arrangements are that during the football season the Cornhuskers shall meet each evening for the evening meal, paying their own expenses and thus violating no provisions of the Missouri Valley Conference ruling. The conference rules forbid training tables, but there is nothing which prevents the members of a team gathering for their meals as at a boarding club.

If the plan is adopted it will give the coach an opportunity to talk over plays and formations with the players which he would not otherwise have. Whereas now the players seldom get together excepting on the football field, having very little time to talk things over among themselves, and the new arrangement will make it possible for them to argue football questions to their own satisfaction.

NOTED BOTANIST DIES.

David Pearce Penhallow Dies on a Steamer.

David Pearce Penhallow, the botanist, and professor of botany at McGill University, Montreal, since 1883, died today aboard the steamer Lake Manitoba, upon which he was a passenger from Montreal to London.
